Incident-Based Approach

Supporting best outcomes for speech device users, their families, and Speech-Language Pathologists

When an individual receives their QuickTalker Freestyle, it's time to celebrate the beginning of an exciting communication journey.

Our ableCARE Product Success team is here to support the device user, the family, and the Speech-Language Pathologist. Our incident-based approach provides you with on-demand support that ensures the speech device user can get started using their voice right away!

Efficient Onboarding

Get started utilizing the device right away instead of waiting for a scheduled training. Our team is available on-demand to assist you.

Reduced Downtime

With shorter and more targeted on-demand sessions to answer specific questions, you have more time to focus on utilizing the speech device, versus spending time in lengthy training sessions.

Personalized Approach

We understand it's not a one size fits all approach, and we are here to tailor to your specific needs and questions versus providing you with a lengthy training on topics you are already an expert on.
