"Mark has the ability to interact with our employees and leaders in such a way that they actually succeed at learning and doing. I have worked with him for several years and he always receives top-notch positive feedback."

—Senior Manager, Manufacturing

"Mark Christensen has been an outstanding resource for me as well as the entire management team. He came to us when we were having significant team issues. He listened, then developed a customized approach to help us get back on track. His excellent facilitation enabled all members to plan and execute together effectively."

—P of HR, Forestry & Timber

"Mark is awesome. Down to earth, engaging, flexible. I've been to a lot of training. He was the best. Thank you! Oh, and funny, which is good."

—Production Supervisor, Mining

Mark Christensen

Mark Christensen is a Senior Director, Consulting Partners for Blanchard®. His personable, fun, and practical style creates an engaging and hands-on learning experience. He is successful with all levels, from top floor to shop floor. As one executive put it, "He just gets us, and we get him."

Mark trains and coaches on such topics as leadership skills, leadership as a strategy, leading change, team development, senior leadership teams, coaching, and frontline leadership. His programs and tools have been benefiting leaders around the world since 1984.

He founded Learning Point Group in 1989. Prior to that, Mark was the manager of management development at PacifiCorp (electric utility) and an organization development specialist at Tektronix (electronics). He has served on many boards and in many community leadership positions.

Mark received his BA in Organizational Communication from BYU and his MBA from the University of Oregon. He is certified in many Blanchard® programs as well as those offered by Learning Point Group. Mark's native language is English and he speaks Spanish.

With his wife, Lisa, Mark enjoys hiking, traveling, going to movies, being of service, and enjoying good food.
