² Percentages shown are based on the long positions held by the underlying funds.

³ Cash in Portfolio reflects assets held at the portfolio level that are not yet invested in underlying funds.

Asset allocation, like all investment strategies, offers no guarantee of positive returns, and mutual funds are subject to market risk, including loss of principal.

Sector fund investing may result in more volatility than the typical growth stock fund because while individual company stock risk is reduced through diversification, industry risk can be magnified.

Mutual Funds are sold by prospectus. Before investing, consider the funds' investment objectives, risks, charges, and expenses. This and other important information is contained in the prospectus. Please visit transamerica.com or contact your financial professional to obtain a prospectus or, if available, a summary prospectus containing this information. Please read it carefully before investing.

Mutual funds are subject to market risk, including loss of principal. Past performance is not indicative of future results.
