

2016 Game Plan

Dear Stakeholder,

Many people wonder how the company got its name, United Therapeutics. The answer is that we decided to make Unity the theme of our company. We knew people in many locations and organizations had good ideas for curing pulmonary hypertension. However, working alone they were like single thin branches, difficult to build upon and easily broken. We decided to offer people passionate about pulmonary hypertension an opportunity to pool their efforts with those of others into a single, strong team. It didn't matter where you lived or worked, so long as you would share your efforts with those of other teammates throughout the world.

In business development and recruitment we offer to scientists, entrepreneurs and allied health professionals a simple formula — why not unite your efforts with ours, so that we are like a bundle of sticks, difficult to break, and so that the success of any of us, is the success of all of us! Hence, we are, quite literally, United Therapeutics.

This formula has worked fabulously. From Research Triangle Park to Silver Spring, from Chertsey, England to Melbourne, Florida, and from each of our dozens of home locations throughout North America to every other home location — we are TEAM UNITHER. It is our unity that makes for the strength of our foundation, and for our resilience against setbacks. The Unitherian spirit recognizes that our team is dedicated to innovations that both help patients and make UT an ever greater place to be. It is the United in our United Therapeutics name that empowers relentless progress toward our goal of curing pulmonary hypertension, with ever more amazing medicines, and ever more transformative therapeutics.

Game on!
