

Label the coral polyp then color it in. Because of their symbiotic relationship with brightly coloured algae, called zooxanthellae, corals come in all sorts of crazy colors. Be as bright and creative as you want with your coloring!

And for a bonus point, do you know if this is a hexacoral or an octocoral?

And for a double bonus point, do you think it is night time or day time for this coral?

