Just because the sun has set and the Carolina blue skies have waned does not mean golf at Pinehurst is done for the day. Treat your group to one of the newest and coolest trends on the links, Nite-Lite Golf. Our team of Pinehurst golf professionals will create a fun evening event for attendees of all abilities.

OPTIONS INCLUDE:

Nite-Lite Experience

With Pinehurst Resort & Country Club as your backdrop, a custom 4-5 hole putting course can be built for your group at a variety of locations around the property. Glow lighting will be used to enhance the experience.

Skills Competition

After a great day on the golf course, let's see those skills at night. This is a fun way to test golfers' abilities in all phases of the game, from putting to driving distance.

Chip-Tac-Toe

A glowing board 9 feet wide is used to play a fun game that we all know and love. Bring your short game.

The Flop Wall

You thought pitching to Donald Ross' greens were tough? Try this competition with a neon glowing wall that rises up to 9 feet tall.

Closest to the Pin

Take aim at glowing pin sticks utilizing the GlowV2 ball, which performs just as well as a standard golf ball.

Channel your inner Annie Oakley with a spirited session of sporting clay shooting. The famed sharpshooter taught lessons for many years at Pinehurst, so it's only fitting we carry on that sporting tradition.

Pinehurst partners with two distinct venues to host shoots that are customized specifically for your group. Both 50-target courses wind through beautiful woodlands and include clay targets that simulate dove, teal, rabbits and more. Your day will begin with a brief safety orientation, followed by instruction tailored for both beginner and seasoned shooters. Get ready for an unforgettable outdoor outing.

Treat your guests to a friendly tournament on Thistle Dhu, our own miniature putting course. Calling to mind the legendary Himalayas Course at St. Andrews, Thistle Dhu features 18 “mini” holes of mind-bending putting challenges.

Make sure to share the story of Thistle Dhu with your guests.

The first miniature golf course in America was actually built in Pinehurst. James Barber, owner of the Barber Steamship Lines, built a miniature course in the backyard of his home behind the Carolina Hotel. When it was complete, he exclaimed, “This’ll do.” After that, the course was named “Thistle Dhu.”

Want to host a golf tournament, but don't know where to start? No problem. We offer a variety of services to ensure your outing will go off without a hitch.

Cart Staging

This service allows groups to bypass pro shop check-in and get right onto the course. Individualized cart signs, preloaded golf bags and pre-play announcements are provided for all modified and full shotgun starts.

On-Course Contests

Add a competitive element to your event with closest-to-the-pin, longest drive, longest putt and straightest drive contests.

Basic Scoring Services

Add a specific scoring format and you can test golfers' abilities by turning a round of golf into a fun team building activity. We'll provide scorecards, scoreboards, tabulation and a summary sheet highlighting the winners.

Golf Genius Scoring

Take your outing to a new level with custom packages created using our Golf Genius software to include any of the following add-ons:

- Event website that displays itineraries, pairings, results, photo, messages, etc.
- Live Scoring via Golf Genius Scoring app
- Live TV leaderboards available in multiple locations
- Branded printed materials including tee sheets, score cards, cart signs and locker room signs, bag tags and more.

With more than 200 craft breweries in the state – the most in the South – local beer is an essential part of any North Carolina visitor's experience. The Brewmaster's Tour leads guests through the complete brewing process, allowing for a unique behind-the-scenes look at the operation of local craft breweries.

Pinehurst Brewing Co.

Set in the historic Village steam plant building that dates back to 1895, Pinehurst Brewing Co. is home to an array of craft beers brewed on site by head brewer, Hunter Downing. Regarded as one of the industry's most accomplished brewers, Downing's beers are well known for styles that are both welcoming and innovative.

Southern Pines Brewing Company

Founded by three former Green Berets stationed at nearby Fort Bragg, Southern Pines Brewing Company boasts a signature reputation. With a growing distribution throughout North Carolina, Southern Pines' flagship beers Duck Hook and Man of Law have become prized local favorites.

Railhouse Brewery

Founded by military veterans, Railhouse Brewery is as dedicated to making great beer as they were to serving our country. With beer distributed in the Carolinas, Georgia and South Korea, Railhouse's spacious taproom is a great spot to enjoy ever-changing, experimental small batch brews.

This is an exclusive peek into the home designed and formerly owned by renowned golf course architect Donald Ross.

At first glance, Dornoch Cottage (named after Ross' hometown in Scotland) looks like any ordinary home. Visible from Midland Road, it is a mix of traditional and colonial. The front features a modern brick façade and arched entryway. The back, however, is much grander, with towering white columns that span from the ground to the roof. The house is a testament to marriage and compromise – a traditional front to the house to please Ross and a colonial look to the back to appease his wife.

An Evening at the Donald Ross House includes a reception and putting contest on the third green of the famed Pinehurst No. 2. Our culinary team, led by Executive Chef Thierry Debailleul, will create a farm-to-table menu tailored specifically for you, complete with custom cocktails, local craft beers and select wines. Throughout the evening guests can immerse themselves in golf history, viewing the extensive collection of historic memorabilia belonging to the current homeowners.
