

Emergent Entryway Matting Tiles

General Information

Emergent entryway matting is a floor covering that has the specific function of scraping and storing dirt and moisture from footwear at the entrance of the building. Made of Econyl® regenerated nylon, Emergent Tiles provide high performance scraping function and excellent walk-off performance. The materials and construction of this type of floor covering are optimized to withstand high mechanical stress.

This product must be installed by professional installers that have sufficient professional liability insurance coverage (aka 'Errors and Omissions' insurance) for the project. Matter

Emergent - Brown

Surfaces recommends installing and maintaining entrance matting at all outdoor entrances and transitions from warehouse to office space; this will improve air quality and lengthen the life of floors.

Proper glides must be used on all furniture that may slide directly across the matting. Heavy objects must not be moved directly across the matting; use protective boards.

Direct sunlight can cause UV damage, such as fading, to most interior finishes. Low E glass should be selected to reduce the UV transmission to less than 1%. If Low E glass is not an option, applying 3M™ Sun Control Window Film, or similar, on the windows is recommended. Areas of the flooring subjected to direct sunlight must be shielded for two hours before, during and for a period of (72) hours after the installation.
