

Available Credit Amount

Have upsells or change orders? We've got you covered!

The higher available credit amount allows you to generate docs up to that amount without having to adjust the credit application.*

Q: How do I get started?

A: There is no action needed. If your customer qualifies, we will automatically issue the higher available credit amount.

Q: How much is the available credit amount?

A: Each customer's amount will differ depending on their requested amount and eligibility.

Q: Where can I see my customer's available credit amount?

A: You will see it on both the decision email and on the customer's app in your dealer portal.

Q: How long is the available credit amount good for?

A: The available credit amount is subject to the same expiration guidelines that applies to all our applications. It cannot be redeemed on future purchases.

Q: What if we make project changes and need an even higher amount?

A: You can still call us to request additional funds.

Q: If my customer didn't qualify for a higher amount, what can I do?

A: Your customer may still be approved. Please call us to request an increase.

*Available credit amount refers to the total available amount of credit for which the applicant has been approved. This amount is only available through the earlier of the approval expiration date or the date of project completion. Not all customers will qualify. Terms and conditions apply.
