FIRE AND BONES
A TEMPERANCE BRENNAN NOVEL
Kathy Reichs

#1 NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE #1

Tempe is called to Washington, DC, to analyze the victims of a deadly blaze. The devastated building is in Foggy Bottom, and Tempe becomes suspicious about the property's ownership when she delves into its history. Tempe learns that back in the thirties and forties the home was the hangout of a group of bootleggers and racketeers known as the Foggy Bottom Gang. This seems irrelevant until the son of a Foggy Bottom gang member is shot dead. As Tempe digs deeper, another property burns to the ground. Tempe's moves since coming to Washington have been anticipated, and every path forward seems to bring with it a lethal threat.

THE WEDDING PEOPLE ★
A NOVEL

Alison Espach

EDITOR'S CHOICE #7

"Witty dialogue is just a bonus in this engrossing read centering on complex women making life-changing decisions."
— starred, Library Journal

It's a beautiful day in Newport, Rhode Island, when Phoebe Stone arrives at the Cornwall Inn. She's immediately mistaken by everyone in the lobby for one of the wedding people, but she's actually the only guest who isn't here for the big event. Phoebe is here because she's dreamed of coming for years. She hoped to shuck oysters and take sunset sails with her husband, only now she's here without him, at rock bottom, determined to have one last splurge on herself. Meanwhile, the bride has accounted for every possible disaster except for, well, Phoebe and Phoebe's plan — which makes it that much more surprising when the two women can't stop confiding in each other.

A NOVEL SUMMER
A NOVEL
Jamie Brenner

Shelby Archer found inspiration for her first novel while living on the shores of Provincetown on Cape Cod. When she comes to the town to celebrate her new bestseller, she is confronted with the cold shoulders of friends and neighbors who feel exposed and betrayed. Heartbroken, Shelby tries to move on. But then her dear friend who owns Land's End bookshop needs help for the summer. Shelby reluctantly returns to the Cape to manage the store. Shelby sets her focus on the tiny seaside shop and trying to right the wrongs of her past. But as her manuscript deadline nears, she is again forced to choose between her own success and a second chance at love and belonging.

THE FACULTY LOUNGE
A NOVEL
Jennifer Mathieu

It all starts when an elderly substitute teacher at Baldwin High School is found dead in the faculty lounge. When, a week later, the scattering of his ashes on the school grounds catches the attention of parents, it sets in motion a year that can only be described as wild, bizarre, tragic, mundane, beautiful, and humorous. In the midst of the ensuing hysteria, we meet a former punk band front man, now a middle-aged principal; a no-nonsense school nurse; and a disgruntled English instructor. Ultimately, at the heart of this unconventional workplace novel is a story of the power of human connection and of the joy of finding purpose in what it is we do every day.

IT HAD TO BE YOU

Eliza Jane Brazier

When Eva and Jonathan hook up on the sleeper train from Florence to Paris, they think they’ll never see each other again. Which is too bad, because neither has ever felt a spark like this for another person. But love isn’t on the agenda in their line of work. Six months later, they run into each other in Versailles. This encounter is not by chance, because Eva has been hired to kill Jonathan. She’s a contract killer, but what she doesn’t know is that he is too. Their meeting kicks off a high-stakes adventure across Western Europe. As the two get closer to completing their assignments, it becomes clear they are being hunted by something even more dangerous than love.

TIRED LADIES TAKE A STAND

A NOVEL

Gretchen Anthony

“Engaging and easy to read . . . For those who remember the 1990s, the flashbacks will evoke feelings of nostalgia.” — Booklist

During one unforgettable year in their twenties, best friends Emma, Fern, Carolina, and Andi make a pact to embrace whatever life throws at them, inspiring Fern to write a memoir detailing their escapades and the magical power of saying Yes. But fast forward twenty years and Fern is a full-time writer struggling to pay the bills. Carolina is a fitness-obsessed workaholic. Andi is a disillusioned human rights lawyer. And Emma is a stressed-out divorcée in the thick of planning her daughter’s wedding. To reconnect to the fun, fulfilled women they were before, they must learn how to stop saying Yes to everything asked of them. And so begins the “Year of No.”

FIVE BROKEN BLADES ★

Mai Corland

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER
PUBLISHERS WEEKLY BESTSELLER

"The heist is suspenseful, the characters are well-shaded, and the world is richly imagined. Skillfully combining espionage, fantasy, romance, and a quest for justice, this marks Corland as an exciting new voice."

— Publishers Weekly

The five most dangerous liars in the land have been summoned to work together to kill the God King Joon. Under his merciless immortal hand, the nobles flourish while the poor and innocent are imprisoned, ruined, or sold. And now each of the five blades will come for him. Each has tasted bitterness — from the hired hitman seeking atonement, an assassin who seeks freedom, or even the prince banished for his crimes. None can resist the lure of vengeance. They can agree on murder. They can agree on treachery. But for these five killers it's not enough to forge an alliance. To survive, they'll have to find a way to trust each other . . . but only one can take the crown.

TELL ME WHO YOU ARE ★★

A NOVEL

Louisa Luna

2023 SUE GRAFTON MEMORIAL AUTHOR AWARD

"Seriously creepy cat-and-mice games ensue when a sharp-thinking therapist tries to track down a patient who may also be a kidnapper." — starred, Kirkus Reviews

Brooklyn psychiatrist Dr. Caroline Strange is certain she knows what's best for her patients, but that changes when a troubled young man arrives for his appointment and makes a pair of alarming confessions: I am going to kill someone, and I know who you really are. Caroline is accustomed to hearing her patients' darkest secrets, but it seems Nelson Schack may be one step ahead when detectives show up later that day, inquiring about a missing woman. Convinced the police are incompetent, Caroline takes matters into her own hands. As she closes in on her target, all the polished pieces of her manicured life splinter when people begin to question who she really is.

GOOD MORNING AMERICA BOOK CLUB

"[T]his quasi-futuristic tale of time and tenderness . . . offers a meaningful, nuanced perspective on the challenges we face, the choices we make, and the way we live and love today." — starred, Kirkus Reviews

In the near future, a government ministry is gathering "expats" from across history to establish whether time travel is feasible — for the body, but also for the fabric of space-time. A civil servant is tasked with working as a "bridge" — living with, assisting, and monitoring the expat known as Commander Graham Gore. As far as history is concerned, Gore died in 1845, so he's a little disoriented to be living with an unmarried woman. By the time the true shape of the ministry's project comes to light, the bridge has fallen in love, with consequences she never could have imagined. The bridge must finally reckon with how what she does next can change the future.

A NOVEL

Abraham Chang

INDIE NEXT PICK

"Chang strikes all the right notes in his portrayal of a tender youth." — Publishers Weekly

Young Wang has received plenty of wisdom from his beloved uncle: don't take life too seriously, get out on the road when you can, and everyone gets just seven great loves in their life. At the end of 1995, when Young is at New York University, he meets Erena. She's brilliant, charismatic, and funny. They fall in love and, for Young, it feels so real that he's thrilled and terrified. As Young and Erena's relationship blossoms, we get flashbacks to Young's first five loves. That means Erena is "number six." Was his uncle wrong — is she the one and only? Or are they fated for failure to make room for Young's final, seventh love?

THE SHADOW OF WAR

A NOVEL OF THE CUBAN MISSILE CRISIS

Jeff Shaara

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
USA TODAY BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"A gripping story of foes stepping away from the brink of annihilation." — Kirkus Reviews

In 1961, President John F. Kennedy inherited an ill-conceived, poorly executed invasion of Cuba that failed miserably and set in motion the events that put the U.S. and the Soviet Union on a collision course that nearly started a war that would have enveloped much of the world. Extensively researched and vividly imagined, The Shadow of War brings to life the many threads that led to the building crisis between the Soviet Union and the United States in 1962. Told from a multitude of perspectives and voices, Shaara brings to life all the action and actors, famous and little known, that embodied the Cuban Missile Crisis.

HOW TO BE OLD

LESSONS IN LIVING BOLDLY FROM THE ACCIDENTAL ICON

Lyn Slater

"Slater's genuine enthusiasm radiates throughout the text; her tales of resilience and about the evolution of her self-confidence suffuse each page, effectively challenging societal constructs about age. A charming, relatable tale about the power of reinvention." — Kirkus Reviews

When Lyn Slater started her fashion blog Accidental Icon at age sixty-one, she discovered that followers were flocking to her account for more than just her A-list style. As Lyn flaunted gray hair, wrinkles, and a megadose of self-acceptance, they found someone who showed that all women have the opportunity to be relevant and take major risks at any stage of their life. In this paradigm-shifting memoir, Lyn exemplifies that even with its challenges, being old can be the best and most invigorating of all of life's phases, full of rebellion and reinvention, connection and creativity.

CHALLENGER ★★

A TRUE STORY OF HEROISM AND DISASTER ON THE EDGE OF SPACE

Adam Higginbotham

"A deeply researched, fluently written study in miscommunication, hubris, and technological overreach." — starred, Kirkus Reviews

On January 28, 1986, the space shuttle Challenger broke apart over the Atlantic Ocean, killing all seven people on board. The disaster is a defining moment in twentieth-century history — yet the full story of what happened, and why, has never been told. It's a compelling tale of ambition and ingenuity undermined by political cynicism and cost-cutting in the interests of burnishing national prestige. A masterful blend of riveting human drama and fascinating and absorbing science, Challenger brings to life an even more complex and astonishing story than we remember.

SWAMP KINGS

THE STORY OF THE MURDAUGH FAMILY OF SOUTH CAROLINA & A CENTURY OF BACKWOODS POWER

Jason Ryan

"A grimly fascinating story, and as Ryan shows, Murdaugh summed up a long familial legacy. They were effectively a law unto themselves. The story unfolds with the care of a well-plotted procedural. A searing true-crime study indicting a legacy of crime stretching out over centuries." — Kirkus Reviews

The most famous man in South Carolina lives in prison. Once a high-flying lawyer, Alex Murdaugh is now disbarred and disgraced. For more than a decade, prosecutors asserted that Alex was secretly a fraud, thief, drug trafficker, and all-around phony. On June 7, 2021, they claimed, he also became a killer, shooting dead his wife and son. In Swamp Kings, Jason Ryan reveals history has a way of repeating itself, weaving together the narratives of generations of Murdaughs before culminating in the telling of a murder trial for the ages.

"Ackerman and Stavridis paint a sweeping and resonant portrait of a world faced with a powerful technological advancement it doesn't fully understand. The results are genuinely chilling."

— starred, Publishers Weekly

It is twenty years after the catastrophic war between the United States and China that brought down the old American political order. The American president has control of the media, but he is beginning to lose control of the streets. Suddenly, he collapses in the middle of an address to the nation. After an initial flurry of misinformation, the administration reluctantly announces his death. All signs point to a profound breakthrough in AI. As some of the world's great powers struggle to outmaneuver one another in this new Great Game of scientific discovery, the outcome becomes entangled with the fate of American democracy.

A NEST OF VIPERS ★★
A Bangalore Detectives Club Mystery
Harini Nagendra

"Nagendra masterfully melds character, plot, and period detail in her transporting third historical mystery featuring amateur detective Kaveri Murthy. Nagendra is in peak form here, expertly mining the era's political frisson for top-shelf suspense." — Publishers Weekly

Bangalore, 1921. When the Prince of Wales begins a tour of India, he encounters passionate crowds demanding independence from Britain, with rioting on the streets of Bombay. The mood of the prince's subsequent trip to Bangalore and Mysore appears, at first glance, very different and is made of large, welcoming crowds. But perhaps all is not what it seems to be. While exploring another (seemingly unrelated) crime scene, Kaveri and Ramu become tangled in a complex web of intrigue, getting pulled into a potentially dangerous plan that could endanger the life of the visiting prince.

"[A] searingly captivating debut . . . The tender, tough, funny, and heartbreaking voices of the characters will seep into readers' souls." — Library Journal

Carter is a young mother on a quest to find the true meaning of her heritage, which she only learned of in her teens. Allie is trying to make up for the lost years with her first born and to protect Carter from the hurt she herself suffered from her own mother. Lucie wants the granddaughter she's never met to help her get to her ancestors in the afterlife. And Geneviève is determined to conquer her demons with the help of the sister she lost but has never been without. Meanwhile, Mamé, in the afterlife, knows that she must find a way to cut herself from the last threads that keep her tethered to the living, just as they must find their own paths forward.

THE THINGS WE DIDN'T KNOW

A NOVEL

Elba Iris Pérez

USA TODAY BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"A coming-of-age tale that beautifully evokes the contrasting environments of Puerto Rico and Massachusetts." — Kirkus Reviews

Andrea Rodríguez is nine years old when her mother whisks her and her brother, Pablo, away from Woronoco, the tiny Massachusetts factory town that is the only home they've known. With no plan and no money, she leaves them with family in the mountainside villages of Puerto Rico and promises to return. Months later, when Andrea and Pablo are brought back to Massachusetts, they find their hometown significantly changed. As they navigate the rifts between their family's values and all-American culture and face the harsh realities of growing up, they must embrace both the triumphs and heartache that mark the journey to adulthood.

GARMENT OF PRAISE

New Directions • Book 3

Linda Byler

"Byler creates multifaceted characters who deal with real-life issues, showcasing how plain life is not always simple." — Publishers Weekly

Susan has been in Wyoming long enough to feel at home, but she finds herself still struggling to adapt. The real struggle is the same as it has been since the day she married Isaac — the long hours he spends away at his logging job and the way his son Titus seems to loathe her presence in their lives. Titus is growing quickly, coming closer to manhood every day. He's working with his father, always torn between wanting to impress him and being repulsed by the entire logging industry. He struggles with pent-up anger from his mother's death, but could a meeting with a young woman full of her own struggles change everything?

AT WAR WITH OURSELVES

MY TOUR OF DUTY IN THE TRUMP WHITE HOUSE

H. R. McMaster

At War with Ourselves is the story of helping a disruptive president drive necessary shifts in U.S. foreign policy at a critical moment in history. McMaster entered an administration beset by conflict and the hyper partisanship of American politics. With the candor of a soldier and the perspective of a historian, McMaster rises above the fray to lay bare the good, the bad, and the ugly of Trump's presidency and give readers insight into what a second Trump term would look like. McMaster offers a frank and fresh assessment of the achievements and failures of his tenure as National Security Advisor and the challenging task of maintaining one's bearings and focus on the mission in a hectic and malicious environment.

WORSE CASE SCENARIO

A NOVEL

T.J. Newman

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

When a pilot suffers a heart attack at 35,000 feet, a commercial airliner filled with passengers crashes into a nuclear power plant in a small town in Minnesota, which becomes ground zero for a catastrophic national crisis with global implications. The International Nuclear Event Scale tracks nuclear disasters. It has seven levels. Level 7 is a Major Accident, with only two on record: Fukushima and Chernobyl. There has never been a Level 8. Until now. Ordinary people are thrust into an extraordinary situation as they face the ultimate test of their lives. It will take the combined courage, ingenuity, and determination of a brave few to save not only their community and loved ones, but the fate of humanity at large.

JOY

A NOVEL

Danielle SteelNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

When she is six years old, Allegra Dixon's mother leaves without a goodbye. Her father, an emotionally distant military officer, is unable to care for her. Sent to live in her grandparents' joyless home, Allegra finds solace in books. Attending boarding school, life takes a turn when she meets a dashing young West Point cadet named Shep Williams. They fall deeply in love. After college, Allegra establishes herself as a book editor and Shep rises through the ranks of the military. But then Shep receives a posting to Afghanistan, and they decide to marry before he goes. Between deployments, they cling to their brief and fraught stolen moments together. Allegra realizes that the horrors of war have begun to change her husband. The trauma he experiences is harrowing, and Allegra finds herself feeling utterly alone just when she thought she'd found happiness.

THE SEVENTH VEIL OF SALOME*Silvia Moreno-Garcia*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

1950s Hollywood: Every actress wants to play Salome, the star-making role in a big-budget movie about the legendary woman whose story has inspired artists since ancient times. So when the film's mercurial director casts Vera Larios, an unknown Mexican ingenue, in the lead role, she quickly becomes the talk of the town. Vera also becomes an object of envy for Nancy Hartley, a bit player whose career has stalled and who will do anything to win the fame she believes she richly deserves. Two actresses, both determined to make it to the top in Golden Age Hollywood — a city overflowing with gossip, scandal, and intrigue — make for a sizzling combination.

BURN
A NOVEL
Peter Heller

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Every year Jess and Storey have made an annual pilgrimage to northern Maine, where they camp, hunt, and hike. Although the state has convulsed all summer with secession mania, Jess and Storey figure it's a fight reserved for legislators or, worse-case scenario, folks in the capitol. But after two weeks hunting moose off the grid, the men reach a small town and are shocked to find a bridge blown apart, buildings burned, and bombed-out cars abandoned on the road. Trying to make sense of the sudden destruction all around them, they head home, dragging a wagon across bumpy dirt roads, ransacking boats left in the lakes, and dodging armed men who are armed. The discovery of a child in the cabin of a boat alters their path and the stakes of their escape.

CLOSE KNIT
A NOVEL
Jenny Colgan

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

In the northernmost reaches of Scotland, where a string of little islands in the North Sea stretches towards Norway, lives Gertie MacIntyre. Her social circle is small but tight: family and friends, particularly the women in her knitting circle. In the cottages of their hometown, everyone knows everyone, and the ladies of the knitting circle know more than most. The knitting circle is a precious source of gossip, home, laughter, and comfort for them all. When Gertie develops a crush on Callum Frost, who owns the local airline, she dares herself to take a job as an air stewardess on the little plane that serves the local islands. Terrifying at first, the sixteen-seat puddle jumper also offers the first taste of real freedom she's ever known. Will Gertie's future lie in the skies? Or will she need to go further afield to find the adventure she craves?

SCANDALOUS WOMEN
A NOVEL OF JACKIE COLLINS AND
JACQUELINE SUSANN
Gill Paul

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

1966, NYC: Jacqueline Susann's Valley of the Dolls hits the bookstores and she needs a bestseller. In London, Jackie Collins' racy The World Is Full of Married Men launches her career.

But Jacqueline and Jackie are lambasted by the literary establishment, deluged with hate mail, and even condemned by feminists. 1965, NYC: College graduate Nancy White is excited to take up her dream job at a Manhattan publishing house, but she could never be prepared for the rampant sexism she will encounter. While working on Valley of the Dolls, she becomes friends with Jacqueline Susann, and, after reaching out to Jackie Collins about a U.S. deal, she is responsible for the two authors meeting. Will the Jackies clash as they race to top the charts? Will Nancy achieve her ambition of becoming an editor, despite all the men determined to hold her back?
