CONFRONTING EVIL

ASSESSING THE WORST OF THE WORST

Bill O'Reilly & Josh Hammer

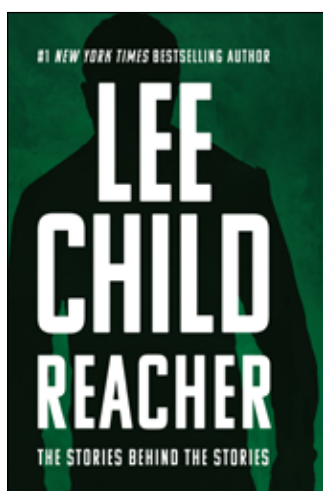

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

EDITOR'S CHOICE 4

Confronting Evil recounts the deeds of the worst people in history: Genghis Khan. The Roman Emperor Caligula. Henry VIII. The 19th-century slave traders and the 20th-century robber barons. Stalin. Hitler. Mao. The Ayatollah Khomeini. Putin. The Mexican drug cartels. By telling what they did and why, Confronting Evil explains the struggle between good and evil — a choice every person is compelled to make. But many look away. Prepare yourself to read the consequences of that inaction. As John Stuart Mill said in 1867: "Bad men need nothing more to compass their ends, than that good men should look on and do nothing."

REACHER

THE STORIES BEHIND THE STORIES

Lee Child

EDITOR'S CHOICE 7

From urgently scribbling out his debut Killing Floor in pencil to taking a step back with Blue Moon, and everything in between, here are 24 fascinating personal reflections on Lee Child's life and work, crafted across decades. Each riveting piece deftly evokes where he was, psychologically and physically, when he wrote each novel. These reflections were originally designed for fans of Jack Reacher who may be interested in a behind-the-scenes, but this collection is also so much more. It is the story of a man who once put pencil to paper in an attempt to turn his luck around . . . and who made every word count.

USA TODAY BESTSELLER

Lottie Jones thought her crimes were behind her. Decades earlier, she changed her identity and tucked herself away in a small town. Her most exciting nights are the weekly bingo games at the local church and gossiping with her friends. When investigative journalist Plum Dixon shows up on her doorstep asking questions about Lottie's past and specifically her involvement with numerous unsolved cases, well, Lottie just can't have that. But getting away with murder is hard enough when you're young. And when Lottie receives another annoying knock on the door, she realizes this crime might just be the death of her.

A NOVEL

Susan Choi

"[Choi is] a writer at the top of her game, capable of crafting a well-plotted and complex story while remaining attuned to small internal motivations, along with intersectional and cultural liminalities."
— Library Journal

One night, Louisa and her father take a walk on the beach. Later Louisa is found washed up by the tide, barely alive. Her father is gone. Louisa's father, Serk, an ethnic Korean born and raised in Japan, lost touch with his family when they relocated to the DPRK. Her American mother, Anne, is estranged from her family after a reckless adventure in her youth. And then there is Tobias, Anne's illegitimate son, whose reappearance in their lives will have astonishing consequences. What really happened to Louisa's father? Why did he take Louisa and her mother to Japan just before he disappeared? And how can we make sense of our lives when there's so much we can't see?

A NOVEL

Virginia Evans

INDIE NEXT PICK

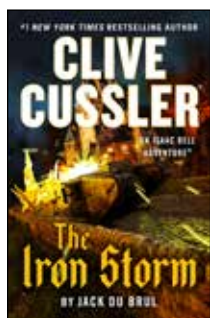

LIBRARY READS PICK

"Evans has created a brusque and quirky yet endearing main character with no shortage of opinions and advice for others but who fails to excavate the knotty difficulties of her own life . . . An affecting portrait of a prickly woman." — Kirkus Reviews

Most mornings, Sybil Van Antwerp sits down to write letters — to her brother, to her best friend, to the president of the university who will not allow her to audit a class she wants to take, to Joan Didion and Larry McMurtry to tell them what she thinks of their latest books, and to one person to whom she writes often yet never sends the letter. Sybil expects her world to go on as it always has — but when letters from someone in her past force her to examine one of the most painful periods of her life, she realizes the letter she has been writing over the years needs to be read and that she cannot move forward until she finds it in her heart to offer forgiveness.

TO SAVE THE MAN ★★John Sayles

"A well-researched study of state-sanctioned bigotry." — Kirkus Reviews

In September 1890, the academic year begins at the Carlisle School, a boarding school for Indians in Pennsylvania, founded and run by Captain Richard Henry Pratt. Pratt's motto, "To save the man, we must kill the Indian," is severely enforced: Speak only English, forget your own language and customs, learn to be white. As the students navigate surviving the school, they begin to hear rumors of a "ghost dance" aimed at restoring the Native People to power. The US government responds by deploying troops onto lands that had been granted to the Indians. At Carlisle, each student must make a choice: to follow the white man's path, or be true to their own way of life.

"This is a fundamentally hopeful book about an overwhelming ecological catastrophe, answering the titular question with a resounding 'yes.'" — starred, Library Journal

Is a River Alive? flows like water from the mountains to the sea, over three major journeys: The first is to northern Ecuador, where a miraculous cloud-forest and its rivers are threatened with destruction by gold-mining. The second is to the wounded rivers, creeks, and lagoons of southern India, where a desperate battle to save the lives of these waterbodies is underway. The third is to north-eastern Quebec, where a wild river — the Mutehekau or Magpie — is being defended from death by damming in a river-rights campaign. DAWN OF GRACE
MARY MAGDELENE'S STORY
Jill Eileen Smith

"[A] sharp and nuanced take on the murky life of a biblical figure and the volatile period in which she lived. Readers will be spellbound." — Publishers Weekly

From her earliest days, Mary Magdalene has known fear and loss. Incapable of freeing herself,

Mary walks in shadow — until one day she encounters a healer, a rabbi who is radically different from the religious leaders who could do nothing to help her. One touch from Jesus and Mary is never the same. Now Mary's mission in life is to serve the one who freed her. Even when her savior is arrested and sentenced to execution, she cannot abandon him as so many others did. On the brink of despair, Mary is about to discover that while the life of faith is never perfect, perfect love casts out fear — and Jesus makes all things new.

THE TRIPLETS' HOLIDAY MIRACLE

A Violet Ridge Novel • Book 1

Tanya Agler

Widow Daisy Stanley desperately wants her adorable — if exuberant — triplets to be part of Violet Ridge's annual Christmas play. She just wasn't expecting this much chaos — and from the looks of it, former air force officer Ben Irwin wasn't, either! But when the play's director is forced to bow out, Ben and Daisy find themselves volunteering to rescue the production. Now there's no avoiding each other, and between frosted cookies, snowball fights and plenty of holiday merriment, her kiddos are quickly stealing his heart. The only problem is that he's winning hers, too.

SNOW PLACE LIKE HOME

A CHRISTMAS NOVEL

Lacey Baker

Ella Wilson has avoided home and the holidays for nearly a decade. For her, the season is plagued by painful memories: her mother's death two decades ago, her fiancé's abandonment last year, and now the loss of her job. But without work to occupy her, home is exactly where Ella has ended up. Somehow, she's also been roped into planning the Christmas tree auction — side by side with her first love, Seth Hamil. To find a way to work together, the two strike a deal: Ella can incorporate her splashy ideas into the auction if she will allow Seth to show her why Christmas is about more than decorations. Soon both begin to wonder if Christmas wishes really can come true.

In 1581, Emilia Bassano is allowed no voice of her own. But she finds a way to bring her work to the stage secretly. Yet, creating some of the world's greatest dramatic masterpieces comes at a cost: by paying a man for the use of his name, she will write her own out of history. His name? William Shakespeare. In modern day New York, playwright Melina Green is determined to see one of her shows make the stage, inspired by her ancestor Emilia Bassano, England's first published female poet. Although the challenges are different for her, a woman's voice is still not heard like a man's. But what lengths will she be willing to go to in order to achieve her dreams?

THE SECRET OF SECRETS*A NOVEL*Dan Brown*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Robert Langdon, esteemed professor of symbology, travels to Prague to attend a groundbreaking lecture by Katherine Solomon — a prominent noetic scientist with whom he has recently begun a relationship.

Katherine is on the verge of publishing an explosive book that contains startling discoveries about the nature of human consciousness and threatens to disrupt centuries of established belief. But a brutal murder catapults the trip into chaos, and Katherine suddenly disappears along with her manuscript. Langdon finds himself targeted by a powerful organization and hunted by a chilling assailant sprung from Prague's most ancient mythology. As the plot expands into London and New York, Langdon desperately searches for Katherine. In a thrilling race through the dual worlds of futuristic science and mystical lore, he uncovers a shocking truth about a secret project that will forever change the way we think about the human mind.

KATABASIS*A NOVEL*R. F. Kuang*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Alice Law has only ever had one goal: to become one of the brightest minds in the field of Magick. She has sacrificed everything to make that a reality. When her professor at Cambridge, Jacob Grimes, the greatest magician in the world, dies in a magical accident and is now in Hell, Alice decides to go after him. His recommendation could hold her very future in his now-incorporeal hands and even death is not going to stop the pursuit of her dreams. Nor will the fact that her rival, Peter Murdoch, has come to the very same conclusion. They set off across Hell to save a man they don't even like. But Hell is not like the storybooks say, Magick isn't always the answer, and there's something in Alice and Peter's past that could forge them into the perfect allies . . . or lead to their doom.

THE MAGICIAN OF TIGER CASTLE*Louis Sachar

Long ago and far away (and somewhere south of France) lies the kingdom of Esquaveta. There, Princess Tullia is in nearly as much peril as her struggling kingdom. Esquaveta desperately needs to forge an alliance, and to that end, Tullia's father has arranged a marriage between her and an odious prince. However, one month before the "wedding of the century," Tullia falls in love with a lowly apprentice scribe. The king turns to Anatole, his much-maligned magician. Seventeen years earlier, Anatole was regarded as something of a prodigy. But after a long series of failures, he has become the object of contempt. The only one who still believes in him is the princess. When the king orders Anatole to brew a potion that will ensure Tullia agrees to the wedding, Anatole is faced with an impossible choice. With one chance to save the marriage, the kingdom, and, of most importance to him, his reputation, will he betray the princess or risk ruin?

THE UNEXPECTED JOURNEY

FINDING STRENGTH, HOPE AND YOURSELF ON THE CAREGIVING PATH

Emma Heming Willis

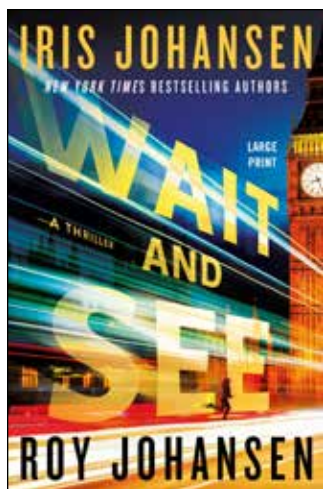

The day Emma Heming Willis' husband, Bruce Willis, was diagnosed with frontotemporal dementia (FTD), all they were given was a pamphlet and told to check back in a few months. With no hope or direction,

Emma walked out of that doctor's appointment frozen with fear, confusion, and a sense that her world had just fallen apart. In fact, it had. Bruce and Emma had their story written, their future mapped out. Yet all those dreams crumbled with that diagnosis, and Emma felt alone and more isolated than ever. How would she care for her husband while parenting their young daughters? At that devastating time, Emma just wanted someone who'd been through it to tell her, it was going to be okay. Emma has written the book she wishes she'd been handed on the day of Bruce's diagnosis: a supportive guide to navigating the complicated, heartbreaking, and transformative experience that is caregiving for your loved one.
