

PUBLICATION OPPORTUNITY

Submit your work to Gale Research Showcase

Gale Research Showcase is a free, open repository of student-authored digital scholarship. Designed to advance early career research, it showcases high-quality, peer-reviewed essays that demonstrate best practices in digital scholarship.

You can use Gale Research Showcase to get inspiration and guidance on using Digital Humanities techniques in your own project – and to get published!

Why should I submit my work to Gale Research Showcase?

- ✓ Free support and suggestions to improve your research.
- ✓ Experience the peer review process.
- ✓ Direct access to a Digital Humanities expert.
- ✓ Boost your profile and CV through publication.
- ✓ Great for job applications – employers can see your work online.

FOR MORE INFO:
gale.com/publication-opportunity

Who can submit?

Any undergraduate and postgraduate student studying at an institution that subscribes to Gale Digital Scholar Lab.

What topics are covered?

Projects are welcomed on any topic, discipline, and from any subject! There is no word limit. The only requirement is that your work made use of Gale Digital Scholar Lab.

Can I publish my work elsewhere, too?

Yes! Gale Research Showcase is an open repository for amplifying the research of early career researchers; copyright ownership remains with you as the author(s), and you can repurpose the project as you wish!

Interested, but unsure how to start?

We can help!

We have a team of Digital Humanities specialists who can provide free, 1:1 support on how to use Gale Digital Scholar Lab – and support getting published in Gale Research Showcase.

Just submit the form located here, and they'll be in touch!

FOR MORE INFO:
gale.com/publication-opportunity

