GREAT BIG BEAUTIFUL LIFE ★

Library-Bound Large Print Edition

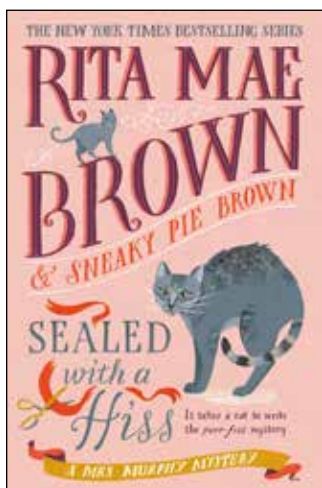

Emily Henry

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE 4

Alice Scott is still dreaming of her big writing break. Hayden Anderson is a Pulitzer-prize-winning human thundercloud. And they're both on Little Crescent Island to write the biography of Margaret Ives. Tragic heiress, former tabloid princess, and daughter of one of the most storied families of the 20th century. Margaret invites them both for a one-month trial period, after which she'll choose the person who'll tell her story. The problem is, Margaret is only giving each of them pieces of her story. And it's becoming abundantly clear that their story — just like the tale Margaret's spinning — could be a mystery, tragedy, or love ballad depending on who's telling it.

SEALED WITH A HISS

A MRS. MURPHY MYSTERY

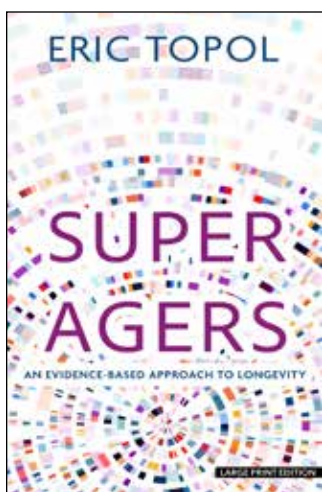

Rita Mae Brown

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE 6

Spring is in full bloom, and everything is blossoming just right for Harry in Crozet, Virginia. Restorations to the long-shuttered local segregated school are nearly complete, and the school will be renamed to commemorate an important community member. To honor the former students, Harry and her friends are hard at work planning a reunion. It's a big affair, and the crew spends their days hanging plaques at the gym, arranging food, and writing speeches. But they come across something unexpected: a dead body. With a little aid from feline sleuths Mrs. Murphy and Pewter, Harry just might have a chance at solving this mystery.

SUPER AGERS: AN EVIDENCE-BASED APPROACH TO LONGEVITY

Eric Topol

Dr. Topol's evidenced-based guide is about new treatments coming available at a faster rate than ever and how they can begin long before middle age, and even long after. In thirty years, we will have five times as many people at least one hundred years old and they will be healthier than ever because of the breakthroughs Dr. Topol describes. The amazing discoveries Topol brings into focus are deeply inspiring. We can now realistically see how we can make considerable headway for preventing age-related diseases and may one day be able to slow the body-wide aging process itself.

MY NEXT BREATH

A MEMOIR

Jeremy Renner

Two-time Oscar nominee Jeremy Renner was the second most googled person on Earth in 2023, and not for his impressive filmography. When a 14,000-pound snowplow crushed him on New Year's Day, he was pronounced dead on the ice. As he was rushed to the ICU, the paramedics called his small mountain community and told them Jeremy would not survive, but survive he did. In this debut memoir, Jeremy writes about his accident and the aftermath. His writing captures the essence of profound transformation, exploring the delicate interplay between vulnerability and strength, despair and hope, redemption and renewal.

READ WITH JENNA PICK

"[A] satisfying coming-of-age story." — Publishers Weekly

Arriving at the University of Edinburgh for her first term, Pen knows her divorced parents back in Canada are hiding something from her. She believes she'll find the answer here in Scotland, where an old friend of her father's — now a famous writer known as Lord Lennox — lives. When she is invited to spend the weekend at Lord Lennox's centuries-old estate with his enveloping, fascinating family, Pen begins to unravel her parents' secret, just as she's falling in love for the first time. As Pen experiences the sharp shock of adulthood, she comes to rely on herself for the first time in her life.

Haiwen is buying bananas at a 99 Ranch Market in Los Angeles when he looks up and sees Suchi, his Suchi, for the first time in sixty years. To recently widowed Haiwen it feels like a second chance, but Suchi has only survived by refusing to look back. Suchi was seven when she first met Haiwen in their Shanghai neighborhood, drawn by the sound of his violin. Their childhood friendship blossomed into soul-deep love, but when Haiwen secretly enlisted in the Nationalist army in 1947 to save his brother from the draft, she was left with just his violin and a note: Forgive me. Homeseeking follows the separated lovers through six decades of war, famine, and opportunity.

I MIGHT BE IN TROUBLE

Daniel Aleman

INDIE NEXT PICK

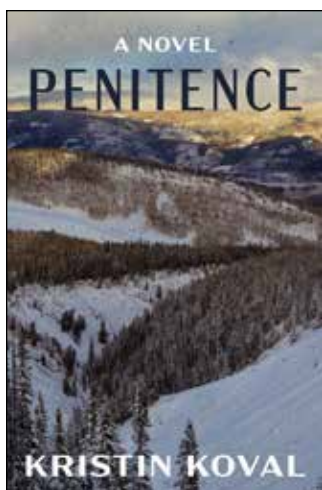

LIBRARY READS PICK

"Things get crazier and campier by the minute . . . Aleman could be a writer to watch." — Kirkus Reviews

A few years ago, David Alvarez had a book deal, a loving boyfriend, and an exciting writing career. His debut novel was a resounding success, which made the publication of his second book — a total flop — all the more devastating. When David connects with a stranger on a dating app, he figures a wild night out may be the perfect distraction. After one of the best nights of his life, David wakes up to find prince charming dead next to him in bed. David calls his agent, Stacey. Together, David and Stacey must untangle the events of the previous night and spin the misadventure into David's career-defining novel — if only they can figure out what to do with the body.

Kristin Koval

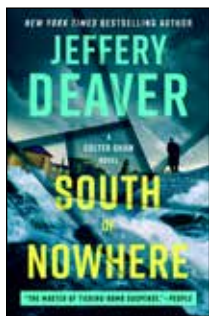

INDIE NEXT PICK

"While exploring the complexities of personal and family relationships, this engrossing, emotionally charged novel also examines the way forgiveness comes from acceptance that 'each one of us is more than the worst we've ever done.' An intelligent, deftly crafted suspense debut." — Kirkus Reviews

When a shocking murder occurs in the home of Angie and David Sheehan, their lives are shattered. Desperate to defend their family, they turn to small-town lawyer Martine Dumont for help, but Martine isn't just legal counsel — she's also the mother of Angie's first love, Julian, a now-successful New York City criminal defense attorney. As Julian and Angie confront their shared past and long-buried guilt from a tragic accident years ago, they must navigate their own culpability and the unresolved feelings between them.

JOHNNY CARELESS ★★

A NOVEL

Kevin Wade

"Wade delivers a complicated police drama of the Don Winslow variety, written in the neo-noir style of Robert B. Parker's Spenser books." — starred, Library Journal

Police Chief Jeep Mullane has been bounced back home to Long Island's North Shore by a heartbreaking case that both earned him his NYPD detective's shield and burned him out of the job. Now heading up a small local police department, he finds himself navigating the same geography he did growing up as the son of an NYPD cop. When the corpse of Jeep's childhood friend Johnny Chambliss — known as "Johnny Careless" for his reckless, golden-boy antics — surfaces in the Bayville waters, Jeep is pulled into a treacherous web, challenged by Johnny's wealthy and secretive family as he untangles a mystery fraught with theft, corrupt local moguls, and decades-old secrets.

ONE GOLDEN SUMMER

Carley Fortune

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE 7

Alice spent just one summer at the lake with Nan when she was seventeen — it's where she took that photo of three grinning teenagers in a yellow speedboat. As a photographer, she's most comfortable letting other people shine. Lately though, she's been itching for something more. When Nan breaks her hip, Alice comes up with a plan: another summer in Barry's Bay. But as they settle in, their peace is disrupted by the roar of a familiar yellow boat, and the man driving it. When she sees his gaze directly on her, Alice begins to worry for her heart. Because she sees people — that's why she's so good at what she does — but she's never met someone who sees her right back.

LIBRARY READS PICK
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Young... examines how the past bleeds into the present in her inviting and moody latest." — Publishers Weekly

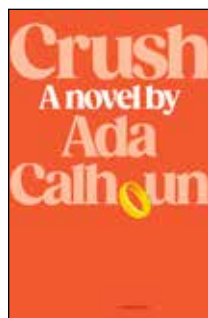

James and Johnny Golden were inseparable. For as long as she can remember, James shared a supernatural connection with her twin brother that went beyond intuition — she could feel what he was feeling. So, when Johnny is killed in an accident, James knows before her phone even rings that her brother is gone. When James arrives in Six Rivers, California, to settle her brother's affairs, she's forced to revisit the ominous events of their shared past. But the more she immerses herself in his life, the more questions she has about the brother she thought she knew. Ultimately, James must decide which truths should come to light and which are better left buried forever.

A MEMOIR OF MY PEOPLE

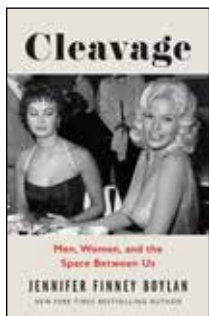

Nemonte Nenquimo and Mitch Anderson

2024 KIRKUS BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR
REESE'S BOOK CLUB PICK

"This stunning memoir offers compelling details about Nenquimo's parallel journeys from student to activist and from child to mother, in a way that will appeal to readers of many generations."
— starred, Library Journal

Born into the Waorani tribe of Ecuador's Amazon rainforest, Nemonte Nenquimo was taught about plant medicines, foraging, oral storytelling, and shamanism by her elders. At age fourteen, she left the forest for the first time to study in the city. Two decades later, Nemonte has emerged as one of the most forceful voices in climate change activism, protecting over a half million acres of rainforest. In We Will Be Jaguars, she partners with her husband, Mitch Anderson, founder of Amazon Frontlines, digging into generations of oral history and revealing a life story as rich, harsh, and vital as the Amazon rainforest herself.

CLEAVAGE ★★ ★★ ★★
MEN, WOMEN, AND THE SPACE BETWEEN US
Jennifer Finney Boylan

"An exploration of gender that effectively balances pathos and humor."
 — Kirkus Reviews

Jennifer Finney Boylan examines the divisions — as well as the common ground — between the genders, and reflects on her own experiences, both difficult and joyful, as a transgender American. She considers her womanhood, reflects on the boys and men who shaped her, and reconceives of herself as a writer, activist, parent, and spouse. Cleavage is a sharp, witty, and captivating look at the triumphs and losses of a life lived in two genders. It provides hope for a future in which we all have the freedom to live joyfully as men, as women, and in the space between us.

SISTERS IN SCIENCE ★★ ★★
HOW FOUR WOMEN PHYSICISTS ESCAPED NAZI GERMANY AND MADE SCIENTIFIC HISTORY
Olivia Campbell
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
LIBRARY READS PICK

In the 1930s, Germany was a hotbed of scientific thought. But after the Nazis took power, Jewish and female citizens were forced out of their academic positions. Hedwig Kohn, Lise Meitner, Hertha Sponer, and Hildegard Stücklen were eminent in their fields, but they had no choice but to flee. Lise fled to Sweden, and the others fled to the United States. Sisters in Science brings these trailblazing women to life and shows us how sisterhood and scientific curiosity can transcend borders and persist in the face of seemingly insurmountable odds.

"[T]his is an intense and emotional story about grief, loss, and the horrors of war." — starred, Booklist

When a detective arrives with news that her best friend has been murdered, Hana Babic knows that something evil has come for her. Thirty years before, Hana was Nura Divjak, a teenager in war-torn Bosnia — until Serbian soldiers arrived to slaughter her entire family. The events of that day thrust Nura into the war, where she became the deadly Night Mora. But a shattering final act forced Nura to flee to the United States with a bounty on her head. Now, her friend has paid the price, leaving her eight-year-old grandson in Hana’s care. To protect the child, Hana must again become the Night Mora — and hope she can find the killer before the past comes for them too.

THE BLANKET CATS ★

Kiyoshi Shigematsu

"Shigematsu adds depth and intrigue by avoiding sentimentality, so that when a story does contain a happy ending or a moment of comfort for the characters, it feels genuine." — Publishers Weekly

A pet shop in Tokyo has been known to offer customers the opportunity to take home one of seven special cats, whose "magic" is never promised, but always received. But there are rules: these cats must be returned after three days. They must eat only the food supplied by the owner, and they must travel to their new homes with a distinctive blanket. In The Blanket Cats, we meet seven customers, each of whom is hoping a temporary feline companion will help them escape a certain reality. But like all their kind, the "blanket cats" are mysterious creatures who delight in confounding expectations. And perhaps what their hosts are looking for isn't really what they need.

Ambushed by sudden gunfire, former cop Stephanie Wolfe realizes the tracking competition she entered with her bloodhound is a setup. An escaped fugitive has lured her into the remote wilderness to exact his deadly revenge. And her ex-boyfriend, bounty hunter Vance Silverton, has fallen into the fatal trap, too. Now cut off from civilization with only minimal supplies and their two dogs, the pair must depend on each other to survive. But with a treacherous storm approaching, it's not only a cold-blooded killer they'll have to escape.

ACROSS THE STAR-KISSED SEA

Arlem Hawks

Mediterranean Sea, 1811. May Byam grew up listening to her uncle's tales of life aboard a Royal Navy ship. After tragedy and scandal shatter her family, May is desperate to escape the shame that follows her. Despite her mother's pleadings against it, May signs on as a lady's maid to the young wife of a naval captain. Heartbroken young Chaplain Elias Doswell returns to a harsh life at sea, but preaching to disinterested sailors isn't the escape he'd hoped for — until a captivating young woman boards the ship. As they struggle to navigate their deepening feelings, the danger of war with the French looms on the horizon, threatening their lives — and their love.

TO LOVE THE BROODING BARON

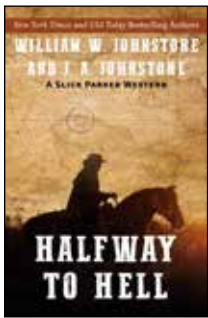

Jentry Flint

"Witty repartee fills the pages . . . Readers looking for chaste historical romance will want to check this out." — Publishers Weekly 1815, London. Arabella Latham longs to feel the spark of true love. Though her prospects seem slim, Arabella knows she can always count on Lord Henry Northcott to be willing to engage in intelligent conversation. Lord Northcott has admired Arabella for years. But he knows he cannot pursue a romantic relationship because of the shadow an old family scandal has cast over his life. He has vowed to preserve what is left of his family's reputation by focusing the majority of his efforts at Parliament. But Arabella is determined to show Lord Northcott that life is meant to be enjoyed. Could the spark of true love be enough to drive away the shadows holding Henry back?

HALFWAY TO HELL

A Slick Parker Western

William W. Johnstone and J. A. Johnstone

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHORS

As the deputy sheriff in a small town, "Slick" Parker Jones has never faced any real dangers. But when a wanted man staggers into his nightly watering hole — half dead, with a hole in his gut and a bloody map in his hand — the young deputy's life takes a wild turn. It starts with the dying man's final words: "The gold." Which leads Slick to one conclusion: The map leads to the stolen gold from the outlaw's latest train robbery. Slick decides to hunt for the gold himself. There's just one problem. A vicious gang is looking for it, too — and they're gunning for the man with the map.

THE STORM THAT CARRIES ME HOME

A STORY OF THE CIVIL WAR

A Tale of Two Colors

Anthony Wood

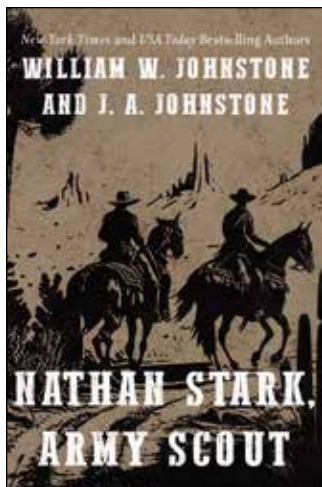

Lummy Tullos took an oath to fight for home and family under the flag of the Confederacy. He gave his heart, mind, and nearly his body to protect his friends and defeat the blue invader. That oath lost its meaning at the surrender of Vicksburg. Lummy's convinced his loyalty and dedication will now best serve ending the war by switching sides. He simply has no other choice — he'll fight to do whatever it takes to end the war. He just didn't know it would bring the war to his own hometown. And it won't be a gray uniform he'll be wearing. No, this time it'll be blue.

Matriarch

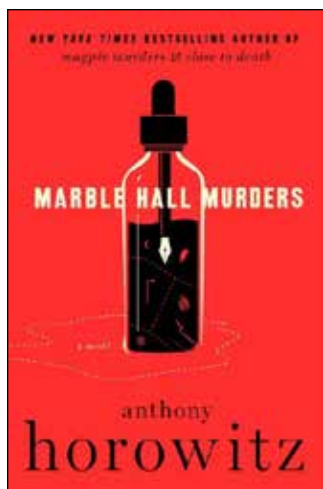

A MEMOIR

Tina Knowles

Tina Knowles, the mother of iconic singer-songwriters Beyoncé Knowles-Carter, Solange Knowles, and bonus daughter Kelly Rowland, is known the world over as a Matriarch with a capital M: a determined and wise woman who raised and inspired some of the great artists of our time. Her life's journey — through grief and tragedy, creative and romantic risks and turmoil, the nurturing of superstar offspring and of her own special gifts — is the remarkable story she shares with readers here. This is a page-turning chronicle of family love and heartbreak, of loss and perseverance, and of the kind of creativity, audacity, and will it takes for a girl from Galveston to change the world. It's one brilliant woman's intimate and revealing story, and a multigenerational family saga that carries within it the story of America — and the wisdom that women pass on to one another, mothers to daughters, across generations.

Freelancing for a London publisher, she's given the last job she wants: working on an Atticus Pünd continuation novel called Pünd's Last Case. Worse still, she knows the new writer. Eliot Crace is the troubled grandson of legendary children's author Miriam Crace who died twenty years ago. Eliot is convinced she was murdered. Susan enjoys reading the manuscript which is set in the South of France and revolves around the mysterious death of Lady Margaret Chalfont, days before she was about to change her will. The more Susan reads, the clearer it becomes that Eliot has deliberately concealed clues about his grandmother's death inside the book.

ABIGAIL AND ALEXA SAVE THE WEDDING

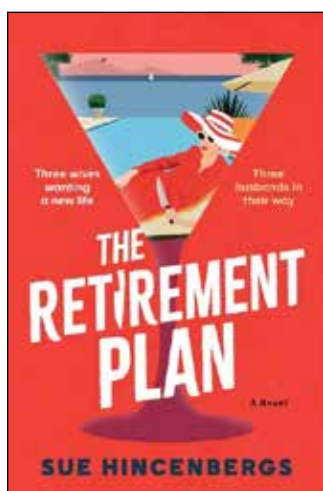

A NOVEL

Lian Dolan

Penelope and Chase make a lovely couple. They're planning a spectacular California wedding. But the Mother of the Bride, suave Greek-born Alexa Diamandis, doesn't understand why any woman would get married. The Mother of the Groom, Abigail Blakeman, is a garden club stalwart firmly planted in coastal Connecticut. She thinks the whole enterprise would be so much easier if the wedding was at their golf club. Especially because the Blakeman's fortunes have taken a turn for the worse. When a sudden twist of fate calls them into action, these two very different women are forced to take over the wedding planning. Despite their differences, Alexa and Abigail charge in to save the day. How far will two moms go to make their children's dream wedding a reality?

THE RETIREMENT PLAN

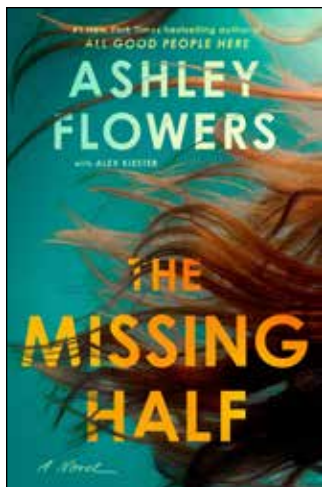

A NOVEL

Sue Hincenbergs

After thirty years of friendship, Pam dreams of her perfect retirement with Nancy, Shalisa, Marlene, and their husbands — until their husbands pool their funds for an investment that goes terribly wrong. Suddenly, their golden years are looking as dreary as their marriages. But when the women discover their husbands have seven-figure life insurance policies, a new dream forms. And this time, they need a hitman. Meanwhile, their husbands are working on their own secret retirement scheme and when things begin to go sideways, they fear it's backfired. The husbands scramble to stay alive . . . but soon realize they may not be quick enough to outmaneuver their wives.

THE MISSING HALF

A NOVEL

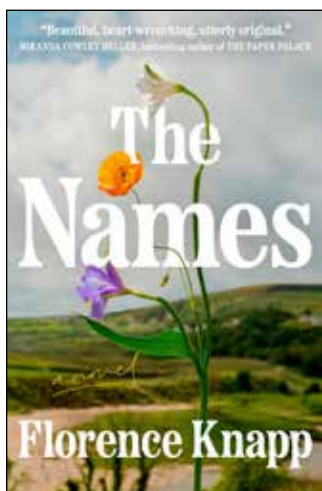

Ashley Flowers with Alex Kiester

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHORS

Nicole "Nic" Monroe is in a rut. At twenty-four, she lives alone in a dinky apartment, she's just gotten a DWI, and she works the same dead-end job she's been working since high school. Everyone has felt sorry for her for the last seven years, since the day her older sister, Kasey, vanished. On the night Kasey went missing, her car was found over a hundred miles from home. The only clue in her disappearance was Jules Connor, another young woman from the same area who disappeared in the same way, two weeks earlier. But both cases eventually went cold. One day, Jules's sister, Jenna Connor, walks into Nic's life and offers her something she hasn't felt in a long time: hope. What follows is a gripping tale of two sisters who will do anything to find their missing halves, even if it means destroying everything they've ever known.

THE NAMES

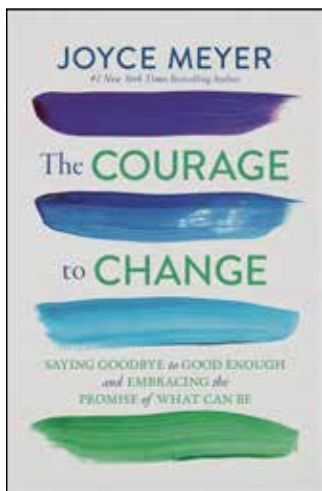

A NOVEL

Florence Knapp

In the wake of a catastrophic storm, Cora sets off with her nine-year-old daughter, Maia, to register her son's birth. Her husband, Gordon, a local doctor, respected in the community but a terrifying and controlling presence at home, intends for her to name the infant after him. But when the registrar asks what she'd like to call the child, Cora hesitates. Spanning thirty-five years, what follows are three alternate and alternating versions of Cora's and her young son's lives, shaped by her choice of name.

THE COURAGE TO CHANGE

SAYING GOODBYE TO GOOD ENOUGH AND EMBRACING THE PROMISE OF WHAT CAN BE

Joyce Meyer

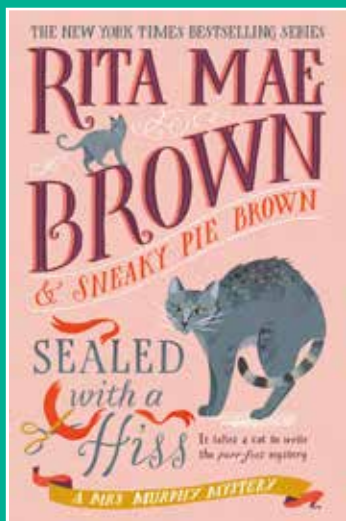

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

We've all heard the saying, "The only constant is change." Sometimes the changes we face, both expected and unexpected, can make our lives feel ungrounded and unsteady. And when we react to change with fear, an opportunity for growth can turn into overwhelming anxiety that locks us into situations, relationships, and ways of thinking and being that prevent us from living in the fullness of who we truly are in Christ. With her signature insight and timeless wisdom, Joyce shows us how to align our emotional reactions to changes with the truth of God's promise that He will work all changes for good in our lives, even the most painful and difficult ones.
