SPICE UP YOUR SHELVES

Keep your collection fresh with newly popular authors and trending subgenres. From regency to romantasy, sport themes to body-positive heroines, or suspenseful paranormal tales, this plan supports a spectrum of romance readers.

READERS CAN'T GET ENOUGH ROMANCE

Romance is quickly emerging as today's fastest-growing and highest-earning genre, leaping past thrillers and manga. Sales of romance print books increased by 52% in 2022.

ROMANCE IS BASKING IN A NEW AGE

With the help of #BookTok, the genre is finding younger audiences, and its subgenres are shining. As its readers evolve, diverse protagonists are broadening the traditional definition of a heroine. Characters are more complex and relatable, and likely to feature people of color or members of the LGBTQ+ community.

SWOON-WORTHY AND ACCESSIBLE

Large print offers a format that is accessible, inclusive, and meets the diverse reading needs of your community. Easier on the eyes, large print romance titles offer an escape from the stresses of everyday life and hours of screen time.

If you're looking for a way to effortlessly maintain a more accessible romance collection, a standing order plan will ensure fresh, spicy titles every month — straight from bestseller lists and #BookTok.

A NOVEL

Sally Rooney

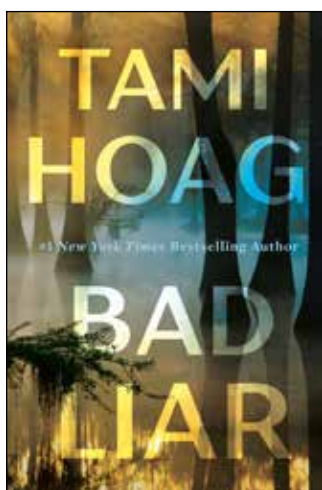

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

EDITOR'S CHOICE #4

Brothers Peter and Ivan Koubek have little in common. Peter is a Dublin lawyer — successful, competent, and unassailable. But in the wake of their father's death, he's medicating himself to sleep and struggling to manage his relationships with two very different women. Ivan is a competitive chess player. He has always seen himself as socially awkward, a loner, the antithesis of his glib elder brother. Now, in the early weeks of his bereavement, Ivan meets Margaret and their lives become rapidly and intensely intertwined. For two grieving brothers and the people they love, this is a chance to find out how much one life might hold inside itself without breaking.

BAD LIAR

Tami Hoag

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

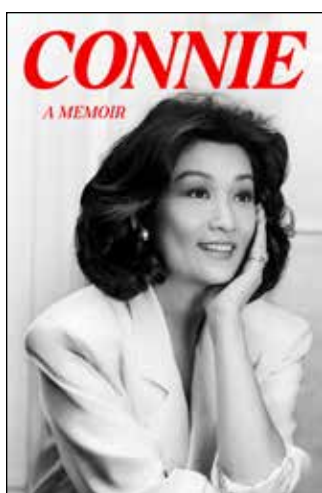

EDITOR'S CHOICE #3

"Hoag sketches Robby, Marc, and B'Lynn with remarkable depth and sensitivity, and keeps the plot moving at a brisk clip through many twists and turns." — Publishers Weekly

A murder victim dumped at the end of a country road is not the way sheriff's detective Nick Fourcade wants to start his week. His only lead takes him to the family of a hometown hero gone missing. Marc Mercier left for a weekend hunting trip and hasn't been seen since. Meanwhile, sheriff's detective Annie Broussard begins her day by taking on the case of B'Lynn Fontenot, a mother desperate to find her grown son. As Annie searches for Robbie Fontenot and Nick investigates the disappearance of Marc Mercier, old jealousies and fresh deceits, family loyalties gone wrong, and love turned sour all lay a twisting trail that endangers all who cross the path of a bad liar.

CONNIE

A MEMOIR

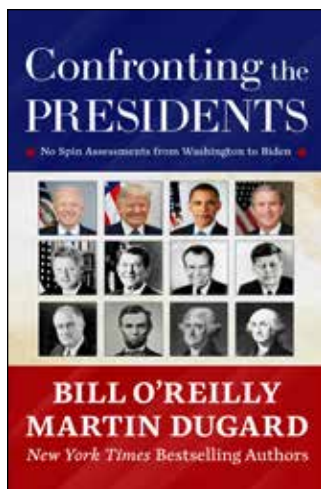

Connie Chung

"A groundbreaker in the truest sense of the word, Chung is as delightful, forthright, and candid on the page as she is on air." — Booklist

Connie Chung is a pioneer. In 1969 at the age of 23, this once-shy daughter of Chinese parents took her first job at a local TV station in her hometown of Washington, D.C. and soon began working at CBS news as a correspondent. She made history when she achieved her dream of being the first woman to co-anchor the CBS Evening News and the first Asian to anchor a news program in the U.S. Chung pulls no punches as she provides a behind-the-scenes tour of her life. From showdowns with powerful men to the stories behind some of her career-defining reporting, nothing is off-limits. This is Connie like you've never seen her before.

CONFRONTING THE PRESIDENTS

NO SPIN ASSESSMENTS FROM WASHINGTON TO BIDEN

Bill O'Reilly, Martin Dugard

EDITOR'S CHOICE #7

From Washington to Jefferson, Lincoln to FDR, Kennedy to Nixon, Reagan to Obama and Biden, the 45 United States presidents have left lasting impacts on our nation. In Confronting the Presidents, O'Reilly and Dugard present wonderfully entertaining and insightful portraits of each president, with no-spin commentary on their achievements — or lack thereof. Who best served America, and who undermined the founding ideals? How do decisions made in one era still resonate today? And what do presidents like to eat, drink, and do when they aren't working — or even sometimes when they are?

PLAYGROUND

A NOVEL

Richard Powers

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"This is a challenging novel . . . with fine writing on friendship and its loss and on the awe and delight the ocean inspires. Along with its environmental warnings, the book carries an intriguing look at the ways people and animals play." — starred, Kirkus Reviews

Twelve-year-old Evie Beaulieu sinks to the bottom of a swimming pool in Montreal strapped to one of the world's first aqualungs. Ina Aroita grows up on naval bases across the Pacific with art as her only home. Two polar opposites at a Chicago high school bond over a three-thousand-year-old board game; Rafi Young will get lost in literature, while Todd Keane's work will lead to a startling AI breakthrough. They meet on the history-scarred island of Makatea in French Polynesia, whose deposits of phosphorus once helped to feed the world. Now the tiny atoll has been chosen for humanity's next adventure: a plan to send floating, autonomous cities out onto the open sea.

THE STONE WITCH OF FLORENCE

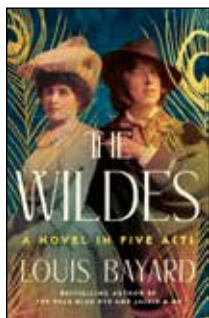

A NOVEL

Anna Rasche

1348. As the Black Plague ravages Italy, Ginevra di Gasparo is summoned to Florence. Ginevra has a gift — harnessing the powers of gemstones, she can heal the sick. But upon arrival, she is tasked with a much different mission: she must use her collection of jewels to track down a thief who is ransacking Florence's churches for priceless relics. If she succeeds, she'll never be accused of witchcraft again. But as her investigation progresses, Ginevra discovers she's merely a pawn in a much larger scheme. And the dangerous men behind this conspiracy won't think twice about killing a stone witch to get what they want.

THE WILDES ★
A NOVEL IN FIVE ACTS
Louis Bayard

Bayard turns the Wilde family's tragedy into an engrossing, eternally relevant fable of fame, scandal, and love.

— Kirkus Reviews / Starred Review

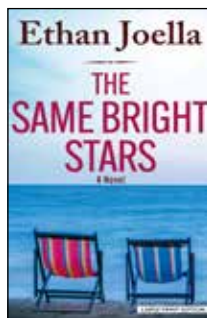

In September of 1892, Oscar Wilde and his family retreated to the idyllic Norfolk countryside for a holiday.

His wife, Constance, has every reason to be happy: two beautiful sons, a stellar reputation as an advocate for progressive causes, and a delightfully charming and affectionate husband and father, who is perhaps the most famous man in England. But as an assortment of houseguests arrive, including an aristocratic young wannabe poet named Lord Alfred Douglas, Constance gradually — and then all at once — comes to see that her husband's heart is elsewhere and that the growing intensity between the two men threatens the whole foundation of their lives.

THE SAME BRIGHT STARS ★
A NOVEL
Ethan Joella

INDIE NEXT PICK

"Joella again unfolds a story that illuminates the connections among people. . . . Both Joella and his protagonist show that nice guys sometimes finish first. About as dear as a novel can be."

— Kirkus Reviews / Starred Review

Three generations of Schmidts have run their family's beachfront restaurant and Jack has been at the helm since the death of his father. Meanwhile, the DelDine group has been gradually snapping up eateries along this stretch of coast and are pursuing Jack with a very generous offer to take Schmidt's off his hands. Jack craves companionship and maybe even a family. He wonders if closing the door on the restaurant might open a new window for him. But who would he be without Schmidt's? When he receives startling news from the past, Jack begins to reshape his life and forge unexpected new friendships. But will he really let go of the very things that have defined him?

"An excellent match for fans looking to take a break from epic fantasy for some feel-good humor and happiness."

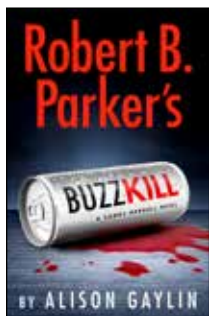

— Library Journal

Kiela has always had trouble dealing with people. Thankfully, as librarian at the Great Library of Alyssium, she hasn't had to. She has spent the last eleven years sequestered among the empire's spellbooks, preserving their magic for the city's elite. But when a revolution begins and the library goes up in flames, she saves as many books as she can carry and flees to a faraway island Kiela was sure she'd never return to: her childhood home. As Kiela comes to make a place for herself among the kind and quirky townspeople of her former home, she realizes that in order to make a life for herself, she must learn to break down the walls she has built up so high.

THE LAST ONE AT THE WEDDING

A NOVEL

Jason Rekulak

EDITOR'S CHOICE #6

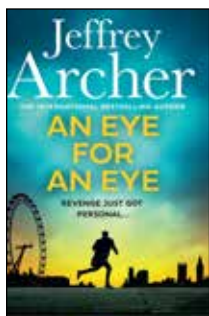

Frank Szatowski is shocked when his daughter, Maggie, calls him for the first time in three years. He's even more surprised when she invites him to her wedding. Frank arrives to find that the wedding is at a private estate very much out of his league. It seems Maggie failed to mention she's marrying Aidan Gardner, the son of a billionaire. Feeling out of place, Frank focuses on reconnecting with Maggie and getting to know her new family. But Aidan is withdrawn and evasive; Maggie doesn't seem to have time for him; and the locals are disturbingly hostile to the Gardners. Frank needs to know more about this family, but if he pushes too hard, he could lose Maggie forever.

THE FOREST OF LOST SOULS

Dean Koontz

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE #2

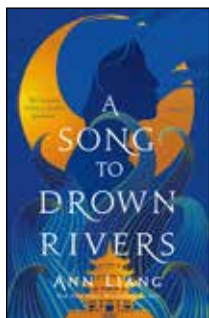

Raised in the wilderness by her late great-uncle, Vida is a young woman with an almost preternatural affinity for nature, especially for the wolves that also call the forested mountains home. Formed by hard experience, by love and loss, and by the prophecies of a fortune teller, Vida just wants peace. If only nearby Kettleton County didn't cast such a dark shadow. It's where Jose Nochelobo, the love of Vida's life, died in a tragic accident. That's the official story, but Vida has reasons to doubt it. The truth can't be contained for long. Vida, the forest, and its formidable wonders are waiting. She will not rest until goodness and order have been restored.

A NOVEL

Ann Liang

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE #8
SHELF AWARENESS PICK

"Liang's . . . adult debut will appeal to those who enjoy retellings blending history and myth." — Library Journal

Xishi's beauty is seen as a blessing to the villagers of Yue. When Xishi draws the attention of famous young military advisor Fanli, he presents her with a rare opportunity: to use her beauty as a weapon. One that could topple the rival neighboring kingdom of Wu, improve the lives of her people, and avenge her sister's murder. All she has to do is infiltrate the enemy palace as a spy, seduce their immoral king, and weaken them from within. Once inside the enemy palace, the king shows her great affection. But the higher Xishi climbs in the Wu court, the farther she and Fanli have to fall — and if she is unmasked as a traitor, she will bring both kingdoms down.

"Anderson . . . approaches the medieval with curiosity and compassion . . . An always entertaining and unexpectedly poignant adventure as rare and gleaming as a reliquary." — starred, Kirkus Reviews

The year is 1087, and a pox is sweeping through the Italian city of Bari. When a monk is visited by Saint Nicholas in his dreams, he interprets the vision as a call to serve the sick. But his superiors have different plans for Brother Nicephorus. Enter Tyun, a treasure hunter renowned for "liberating" holy relics from their tombs. The bones of Saint Nicholas are rumored to weep a mysterious liquid that can heal the sick, Tyun says. For the humble price of a small fortune, he will steal the bones and deliver them to Bari, curing the plague. And Nicephorus will be his guide. What follows is a heist for the ages, as Nicephorus is swept away to commit sacrilegious theft.

ONE BIG HAPPY FAMILY

Susan Mallery

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE #1

Julie Parker's kids are her greatest gift. Still, she's not exactly heartbroken when they ask to skip a big Christmas. Her son, Nick, is taking a belated honeymoon with his bride, Blair, while her daughter, Dana, will purge every reminder of the guy who dumped her. Julie feels practically giddy for one-on-one holiday time with Heath, the (much) younger man she's secretly dating. But her plans go from cozy to chaotic when Nick and Dana plead for Christmas at the family cabin in memory of their late father. Over this delightfully complicated Christmas, she'll discover that a big, happy family can become bigger and happier if they open their hearts to love.

A NOVEL

Clare Pooley

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"[A] delightful romp . . . about . . . aging, love, crime, friendship, making mistakes and living through them, and life's complicated emotions and choices."

— Kirkus Reviews / Starred Review

When Lydia takes a job running the Senior Citizens' Social Club, she assumes she'll be spending her time drinking tea and playing cards. The members, however, are not at all what she was expecting. From Art, a failed actor turned kleptomaniac, to Daphne, who has been hiding from her dark past for decades, to Ruby, a knitter who gets revenge in yarn, these seniors look deceptively benign. When the city council threatens to sell the community center, the members of the Social Club join forces with their tiny friends in the daycare next door to save the building. This group's unorthodox methods may actually work, as long as the police don't catch up with them first.

plagiarism that tormented him. Now she is a literary widow, enjoying her husband's royalty checks in perpetuity, but for the second time in her life, a work of fiction intercedes, and this time it's her own debut novel. When Anna publishes her book, she begins to receive excerpts of a novel she never expected to see again, a novel that should no longer exist. She has come too far, and worked too hard, to lose the right to her own story. And she is, by any standard, a master storyteller.

KNIFE RIVER

A NOVEL

Justine Champine

"While Champine does a decent job of weaving clues about Natalie's disappearance through the book, it's the relationship between the sisters that shines."

— Kirkus Reviews

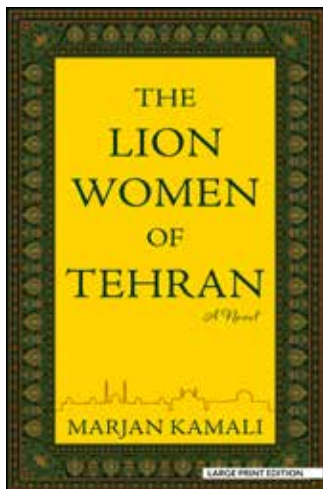

When Jess was thirteen, her mother went for a walk and never returned.

As soon as she was old enough, Jess fled the small town of Knife River. But one morning, fifteen years after her mother's disappearance, she gets the call she's been bracing for: Her mother's remains have been found. Jess returns to find Knife River — and her sister — frozen in time. Liz still lives in their childhood home and has become obsessed with missing persons cases. As Jess gets caught up in the case and falls back in with her high school girlfriend, her understanding of the past, of Liz, of their mother, and of herself become more complicated — and the list of theories more ominous.

Mo Rocca and Jonathan Greenberg

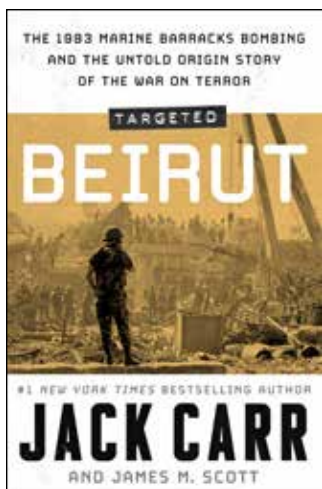

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"A fun collection of stories that give a heartening perspective on living life to the fullest." — Kirkus Reviews

Eighty has been the new sixty for about twenty years now. In fact, there have always been late-in-life achievers, those who declined to go into decline just because they were eligible for social security. Journalist, humorist, and history buff Mo Rocca and coauthor Jonathan Greenberg introduce us to the people past and present who peaked when they could have been puttering. Roctogenarians is a collection of entertaining and unexpected profiles of these unretired titans. With passion and wonder Rocca and Greenberg recount the stories of yesterday's and today's strongest finishers.

Alice Randall

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

SHELF AWARENESS PICK

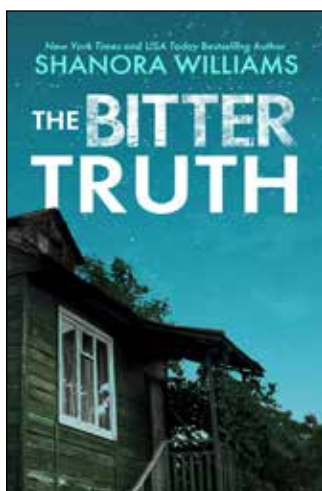

"Randall's knowledge and respect for the performers and musicians who came before her permeates this lyrical memoir/music history hybrid. Country music fans will relish reading it."

— Library Journal / Starred Review

Country music gave Alice Randall a singular distinction in American music history: she is the first Black woman to cowrite a number one country hit, Trisha Yearwood's "XXX's and OOO's (An American Girl)." Randall found inspiration and comfort in the sounds and history of the first family of Black country music: DeFord Bailey, Lil Hardin, Ray Charles, Charley Pride, and Herb Jeffries. As country music goes through a fresh renaissance today, My Black Country is a vibrant introduction to a new generation of listeners who previously were not invited to give the genre a chance.

UNTIL OUR TIME COMES

A NOVEL OF WORLD WAR II POLAND

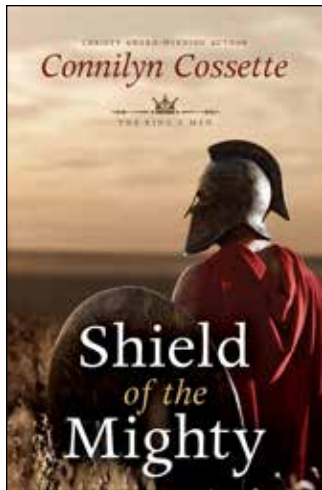

Nicole M. Miller

“Miller’s debut is a sweeping historical romance and spy thriller rolled up into a novel highlighting a little-known aspect of World War II.” — Library Journal

American horse trainer Adia Kensington is living her dream of working at the Janów Podlaski stables in Poland, where the best Arabian horses in the world are bred. But her plans to bring a priceless stallion to the US are derailed when the German army storms into her adopted country in 1939. Bret Conway is at Janów Podlaski under the guise of a news reporter, but his true mission is intelligence gathering for the British. That and keeping Adia safe, which is hard to do as she insists they evacuate two hundred and fifty horses. What follows will test Bret’s and Adia’s strength, as well as their faith in God and each other.

THE BRIGHTEST STAR ★

A NOVEL

Gail Tsukiyama

LIBRARYREADS PICK

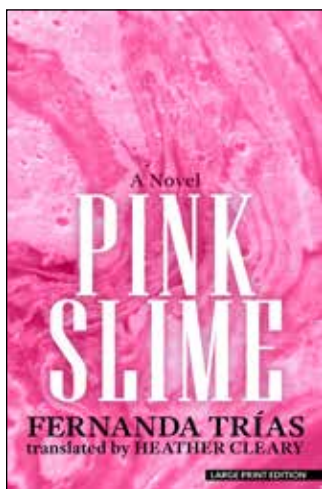

"Tsukiyama has been amplifying Asian voices throughout her career, and her new novel offers an intimate look at what made the original Chinese American film star tick."

— Publishers Weekly / Starred Review

At the dawn of a new century, America is falling in love with silent movies, including young Wong Liu Tsong. By eleven, Wong Liu is determined to become an actress and has chosen a stage name: Anna May Wong. At sixteen, Anna May leaves high school to pursue her Hollywood dreams. Nineteen-year-old Anna May gets her big break in The Thief of Bagdad. Yet her talent isn't enough to overcome the racism that relegates her to supporting roles while Caucasian actresses in "yellowface" are given starring roles portraying Asian women. Though she suffers professionally and personally, Anna May fights to win lead roles and finds freedom and stardom across the globe.

PINK SLIME ★★ ★

A NOVEL

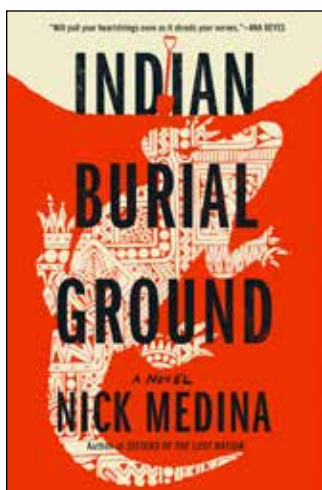

Fernanda Trías, translated by Heather Cleary

"With her eerie and unnervingly probable plot, strong narrative voice, and focus on the small, beautiful moments of life amid disaster, Trías's tale will continue to haunt readers long after they turn the final page." — starred, Library Journal

In a city ravaged by a mysterious plague, a woman tries to understand why her world is falling apart. An algae bloom has poisoned the air that blows in from the sea. Inland, a secretive corporation churns out the only food anyone can afford — a revolting pink paste made of an unknown substance. In the short breaks between windstorms, our narrator tends to her few remaining relationships: with her difficult mother; with the ex-husband for whom she still harbors feelings; with the boy she nannies. Yet as conditions outside deteriorate, her commitment to remaining in place only grows — even if staying means being left behind.

IDENTITY UNKNOWN
A SCARPETTA NOVEL
Patricia Cornwell
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Summoned to an unnerving, abandoned theme park to retrieve a body, Dr. Kay Scarpetta is devastated to learn that the victim is a man she once loved. While teaching in Rome during the early days of her career, Scarpetta had an intense love affair with Sal Giordano that led to a lifelong friendship. The murder scene is bizarre, with a crop circle of petals around the body, and Giordano's skin is strangely red. Scarpetta's niece Lucy believes he was dropped from an unidentified flying craft. Scarpetta knows an autopsy can reveal the dead's secrets, but she is shocked to find her friend seems to have deliberately left her a clue. As the investigators are torn between suspicions of otherworldly forces, and of Giordano himself, Scarpetta detects an explanation closer to home that, in her mind, is far more evil . . .

TRIANGLE
A NOVEL
Danielle Steel
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

As she approaches her fortieth birthday, blond beauty Amanda Delanoe finds joy in running a contemporary art gallery in Paris. The only child of a French businessman and an American model, Amanda lives well and adores her dog, Lulu, but the love of her life has eluded her. Then she meets Olivier Saint Albin, a dashing publisher. At the same time, she reconnects with Tom Quinlan, an old boyfriend from her days at NYU twenty years ago. Olivier is a master at the art of flirtation, but as Amanda feels herself falling for him, she learns he is married. Providing counsel and support is her friend and co-owner of the gallery, fun-loving bachelor Pascal Leblanc. When Amanda begins to receive threatening phone calls late at night, it is Pascal she turns to. Then someone breaks into her apartment on the Left Bank, and it's all too clear she is in real danger.

FRAMED
ASTONISHING TRUE STORIES OF WRONGFUL CONVICTIONS
John Grisham and Jim McCloskey
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

John Grisham's passion for justice led to his work with Jim McCloskey of Centurion Ministries, the first organization dedicated to exonerating innocent people who have been wrongly convicted. Together they offer an inside look at the many injustices in our criminal justice system. A fundamental principle of our legal system is a presumption of innocence, but once someone has been found guilty, there is very little room to prove doubt. These ten true stories shed light on Americans who were innocent but found guilty and forced to sacrifice friends, families, and decades of their lives to prison while the guilty parties remained free. In each of the stories, John Grisham and Jim McCloskey recount the dramatic hard-fought battles for exoneration.

COUNTING MIRACLES

A NOVEL

Nicholas Sparks

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Tanner Hughes was raised by his grandparents, following in his grandfather's military footsteps to become an Army Ranger. His whole life has been spent abroad, and he is the proverbial rolling stone: happiest when off on his next adventure, zero desire to settle down. But when his grandmother passes away, her last words to him are find where you belong. She also drops a bombshell, telling him the name of the father he never knew — and where to find him. Tanner is due at his next posting soon, but his curiosity is piqued, and he sets out for Asheboro, North Carolina, to ask around. He's been in town less than twenty-four hours when he meets Kaitlyn Cooper, a doctor and single mom. They both feel an immediate connection; Tanner knows Kaitlyn has a story to tell, and he wants to hear it. To Kaitlyn, Tanner is mysterious, exciting — and possibly leaving in just a few weeks.

THE BLUE HOUR

A NOVEL

Paula Hawkins

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

An isolated Scottish island, accessible to the mainland only twelve hours a day. An infamous artist whose notoriously unfaithful husband disappeared after visiting her twenty years ago. A present-day discovery that intimately connects three people and threatens a carefully concealed secret. A masterful and propulsive novel that asks searing questions of ambition, power, gender and perception, The Blue Hour recalls the very best of Shirley Jackson and Patricia Highsmith and cements Hawkins's place among the very best of our most nuanced, powerful and stylish storytellers.

THE MESSAGE

Ta-Nehisi Coates

Ta-Nehisi Coates originally set out to write a book about writing, in the tradition of Orwell's classic Politics and the English Language, but found himself grappling with deeper questions about how our stories — our reporting and imaginative narratives and mythmaking — expose and distort our realities. Written at a dramatic moment in American and global life, this work from one of the country's most important writers is about the urgent need to untangle ourselves from the destructive myths that shape our world — and our own souls — and embrace the liberating power of even the most difficult truths.

THE MIGHTY RED

A NOVEL

Louise Erdrich

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

In Argus, North Dakota, a collection of people revolves around a fraught wedding. Gary Geist, a terrified young man set to inherit two farms, is desperate to marry Kismet Poe, an impulsive, lapsed Goth who can't read her future but seems to resolve his. Hugo, a gentle red-haired, home-schooled giant, is also in love with Kismet. He's determined to steal her and is eager to be a home wrecker. Kismet's mother, Crystal, hauls sugar beets for Gary's family, and on nightly runs, tunes into the darkness of late-night radio, sees visions of guardian angels, and worries for the future, her daughter's and her own. Human time, deep time, Red River time, the half-life of herbicides and pesticides, and the elegance of time represented in fracking core samples from unimaginable depths, is set against the speed of climate change, the depletion of natural resources, and the sudden economic meltdown of 2008-2009.

ENTITLEMENT

A NOVEL

Rumaan Alam

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Brooke wants. She isn't in need, but there are things she wants. A sense of purpose, for instance. She wants to make a difference in the world, to impress her mother along the way, to spend time with friends and secure her independence. Her job assisting an octogenarian billionaire in his quest to give away a vast fortune could help her achieve many of these goals. It may inspire new desires as well: proximity to wealth turns out to be nothing less than transformative. What is money, really, but a kind of belief?

WINDOW SHOPPING

A NOVEL

Tessa Bailey

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Two weeks before Christmas and all through Manhattan, shop windows are decorated in red and green satin. I'm standing alone in front of the famous Vivant department store, when a charming man named Aiden asks my opinion of the decor. It's a tragedy in tinsel, I say, unable to lie. He asks for a better idea with a twinkle in his eye. Did I know he owned the place? No. He put me on the spot. Now I'm working for that man, trying to ignore that he's hot. But as a down on her luck girl with a difficult past, I know an opportunity when I see one — and I have to make it last.

HILLBILLY ELEGY

A Memoir of a Family and Culture in Crisis

J. D. Vance

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

From a former marine and Yale Law School graduate, a powerful account of growing up in a poor Rust Belt town that offers a broader, probing look at the struggles of America's white working class. In this personal analysis of white working-class Americans, the decline of this group, a demographic of our country that has been slowly disintegrating over forty years, Vance tells the story of what a social, regional, and class decline feels like. Vance's grandparents, aunt, uncle, sister, and, most of all, his mother, struggled profoundly with the demands of their middle-class life, and were never able to fully escape the legacy of abuse, alcoholism, poverty, and trauma characteristic of their part of America.
