DAUGHTER OF EGYPT

A NOVEL

Marie Benedict

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE 6

"Benedict evokes the excitement of archaeology in colonial Egypt with an abundance of lush details. There's plenty to enjoy in this story of two women defying expectations." — Publishers Weekly

In the 1920s, archeologist Howard Carter and Lord Carnarvon of Highclere Castle made headlines around the world with the discovery of the treasure-filled tomb of the boy Pharaoh Tutankhamun. But behind it all stood Lady Evelyn Herbert — daughter of Lord Carnarvon — who made the momentous find possible. Nearly 3,000 years earlier, another woman defied expectations: Hatshepsut, Egypt's lost pharaoh. When Evelyn becomes obsessed with finding Hatshepsut's secret tomb, she risks everything to uncover the truth about her reign. But as danger closes in and political tensions rise, she must make an impossible choice: protect her father's legacy — or forge her own.

THE HADACOL BOOGIE ★

A DAVE ROBICHEAUX NOVEL

James Lee Burke

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE 3

"Burke continues to shine as a literary bard of the bayou with his depiction of a beleaguered but good man fighting the corrupting and sinister forces of organized crime. An absolute must-read." — starred, Library Journal

When a cloaked, disfigured man leaves a dead woman in a garbage bag on Dave Robicheaux's property, he knows something bigger and even darker is at play. And his daughter Alafair knew someone with the same tattoos: a rose on each breast. Dave's longtime friend and former partner, the volatile but fiercely loyal Clete Purcel, searches for clues in the seedy underworld of the local saloon, but he's being targeted by a violent man with potential Mob connections. Dave's new partner hides a past that may link her to the murder. And the local handyman leaves cryptic notes and warns of the ghosts who roam the shores of the bayou.

THE HEIR OF WHITESTONE

A NOVEL

Catherine Coulter

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

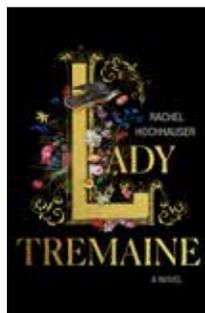

EDITOR'S CHOICE 4

England, 1842. Alex Ivanov is a brilliant young innovator, designing cutting-edge train engines. But Alex isn't really Alex Ivanov. As a boy, he was pulled from the Thames, presumed drowned, with no memory of who he was. Alex has built a new life, but his past is catching up with him. When fate throws Lady Camilla Rohman into Alex's path, their connection is undeniable. But as their whirlwind romance turns into marriage, danger follows. On their honeymoon, a series of deadly attacks make one thing clear — someone wants Alex dead. As they race to uncover the truth, long-buried secrets come to light, leading them to a shocking revelation that will change everything.

LADY TREMAINE ★

A NOVEL

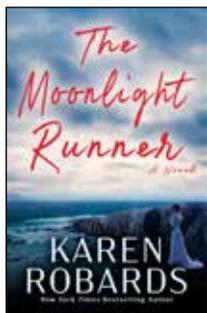

Rachel Hochhauser

Twice-widowed, Lady Etheldreda Verity Isolde Tremain Bramley is solely responsible for her two children, a priggish stepdaughter, a razor-taloned peregrine falcon, and a crumbling manor. Fierce and determined, Ethel clings to the respectability her deceased husband's title affords her, hoping it will secure her daughters' future through marriage. When a royal ball offers the chance to change everything, Ethel risks her pride in pursuit of an invitation for all three of her daughters — only to see her hopes fulfilled by the wrong one. As an engagement to the future king unfolds, Ethel discovers a sordid secret hidden in the depths of the royal family.

EDITOR'S CHOICE 7

Ireland, 1918. Twenty-two-year-old Rynn Carmichael is suddenly pulled into the war of independence when Donal O'Reilly, the boy she loves, takes up gunrunning in support of the rebellion. Raised in a small Irish village on the shores of Donegal Bay, Rynn is working as a nurse in a convalescent home for soldiers wounded in the Great War when she overhears a British officer gloating over the trap that has been set for Irish gunrunners bringing a boat full of smuggled arms ashore. She rushes out to warn the incoming boat, only to find herself caught up in a terrifying and tragic series of events as she and those she loves fight for their lives and their country.

ONCE AND AGAIN

A NOVEL

Rebecca Serle

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE 8

The women of the Novak family were each born with a gift: they can, just once, turn back time. Lauren has known since she was fifteen that her mother Marcella saved Lauren's father from a deadly car accident. Lauren has spent her life waiting for her own catastrophe to strike. Then one summer, Lauren's husband takes a job in New York and she moves back into her childhood home on the shores of Malibu. What she doesn't expect is for the boy next door to return home as well: Stone, Lauren's first love, who broke her heart. Lauren finds herself thinking about all the choices that have brought her to this moment and wondering, finally, if one of them should be undone.

SO OLD, SO YOUNG ★

A NOVEL

Grant Ginder

"A sharp exploration of relationships and the curious blend of love and resentment they bear . . . Ginder does not disappoint."
— Library Journal

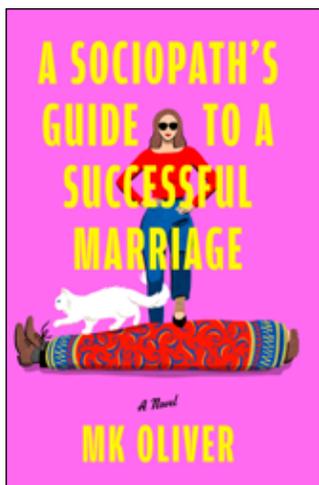

For Marco and Mia, Sasha and Theo, Richie and Adam, the one constant in life after college together has been change. New jobs. New cities. New spouses. New children. Through it all, one thing they thought would always stay the same is their friendship. But time has a way of breaking even the strongest bonds and testing what we thought we knew. From East Village apartment parties and destination weddings to fortieth birthdays and backyard barbecues, Grant Ginder's deeply moving novel is a story about the growing pains of the Millennial generation and a celebration of how love can shift, stumble, and grow into something bigger than we ever could have imagined.

A SOCIOPATH'S GUIDE TO A SUCCESSFUL MARRIAGE

A NOVEL

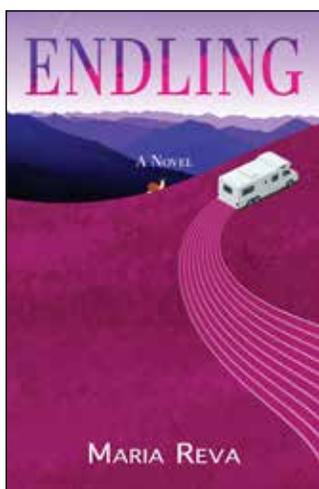

M. K. Oliver

"[A] story of social climbing and domestic intrigue, where extreme self-interest and casual violence are commonplace." — Library Journal

Lalla Rook has a lot on her plate: She needs to guarantee her husband makes partner, secure her dream house in Hampstead, and get her daughter into a prestigious prep school. And on the afternoon she stabs a stranger seven times after he breaks into her living room, she has a four-year-old's birthday party to host. Who is this man and what does he want from her? Because Lalla has a past she'd rather keep hidden — and the sudden appearance of the police means that avoiding them will be yet another task to cross off her to-do list. Funny, calculating, hypercompetent, and ambitious, Lalla is your next favorite antiheroine.

2025 NPR BOOKS WE LOVE

"This work on feminist outrage, environmental destruction, and the inhumanity of war is not didactic; instead, it is a page-turning, genre-bending meta-novel as entertaining as it is gut-wrenching." — starred, Library Journal

Ukraine, 2022. Yeva is a scientist who lives out of her mobile lab. She scours the country's forests and valleys, trying and failing to breed rare snails. Nastia and her sister, Solomiya, are posing as a hopeful bride and her translator while secretly searching for their missing mother, who vanished. Together they embark across hundreds of miles, but their plans come to a screeching halt when Russia invades. In Endling, Reva probes the hard truths of war: What stories must we tell ourselves to survive? To carry on with the routines of life under military occupation? Can our sense of normalcy and security ever be restored, or have they always been a fragile illusion?

Tory Henwood Hoen

“Hoen . . . delivers an uplifting tale filled with wisdom, warmth, and the kind of raw emotion that will have readers laughing through their tears.” — starred, Library Journal

Despite working at a wellness company, 26-year-old Cricket Campbell feels anything but well. Still adrift after a tragedy that upended her world a decade ago, she has entered early adulthood under the weight of her father’s Alzheimer’s diagnosis. When Cricket’s older sister Nina announces it is time to move him into a memory-care facility, Cricket has a better idea. In becoming her father’s caretaker, she hopes to repair their relationship and shake herself out of her funk. As Cricket settles back into the family house — a place she once loved but hasn’t visited since she was a teenager — she uncovers a vital truth: the path forward often starts by going back.

To know the name Judy Blume is to know and love literature. Her influential novels turned classics — including Are You There God? It's Me, Margaret; Tales of a Fourth Grade Nothing; and Summer Sisters — touched the lives of tens of millions of readers. But little is known about the real woman behind the iconic persona. In Judy Blume, Mark Oppenheimer goes deep, exploring Blume's complicated childhood, bouts of heartache and loss, and enduring legacy as a champion of free speech and contemporary literature. He peels back the curtain to reveal the woman behind the literary empire in all her complex, multifaceted glory.

THE WAY OUT

A TRUE STORY OF SURVIVAL IN THE HEART OF THE ROCKIES

Devon O'Neil

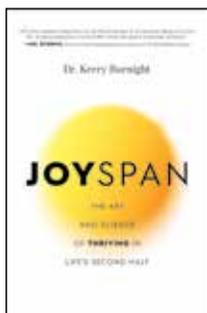

"With both delicacy and solid reporting, O'Neil recounts the events . . . setting them against a Rocky Mountain environment both perilous and jaw-droppingly inspiring. . . . [A] story of surprising depth and power." — Booklist

"You wanna ski a lap?" Fifteen-year-old Cole Walters-Schaler couldn't resist. This was why they'd come to the backcountry, after all — three fathers and four teenage children together for a bonding alpine getaway outside Salida, Colorado, in January 2017. Cole and Brett Beasley, a longtime Forest Service ranger and expert outdoorsman, pushed off from their cabin, expecting to be gone for a half hour or so. But an unforgiving blizzard transformed their quick jaunt into a thirty-hour ordeal that would end in tragedy. The Way Out is the story of those ensuing hours and their aftermath.

TAMING LADY TEMPERANCE

The Secret Society of Spinsters • Book 1

Karen Witemeyer

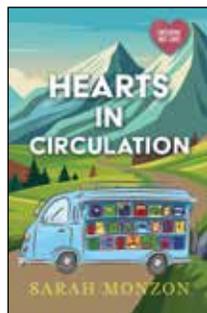

“Witemeyer’s prose is propulsive and the chemistry between her leads is palpable as they struggle to balance their deepest values with the possibility of a relationship. Fans of clean historical romance should snap this up.” — Publishers Weekly

Noreen O’Sullivan believes herself called to defend the cause of prohibition. However, her passionate campaigning often puts her at odds with the men around her. If Deputy James Paxton wants to be elected sheriff, he can’t afford to be seen as her ally. But when Noreen ropes him into helping her plan a temperance march, their growing closeness sparks unexpected feelings. Then tensions escalate at the saloon and accusations fly. James must choose between upholding his badge and protecting the woman who’s captured his heart — knowing either choice could cost him everything.

HEARTS IN CIRCULATION

Checking Out Love • Book 2

Sarah Monzon

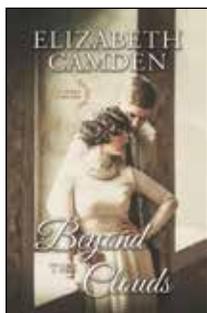

“A stalled bookmobile sparks unlikely chemistry between a bubbly librarian and a curmudgeonly mechanic in this charming contemporary. . . . Bookworms will find the balance of heart and humor hard to resist.” — Publishers Weekly

Little Creek’s bookmobile is a death trap, and librarian Hayley Holt is afraid it’s going to careen down a mountainside with her in it. Her fears come true when the bookmobile breaks down and a rockslide traps her in the small hollow of Turkey Grove. Reclusive mechanic Levi Redding can handle getting the bookmobile running again, but the endless chatter and unsettling touches from the vibrant librarian leave him overstimulated. When forced proximity leads to a misunderstanding, a note of apology begins an epistolary friendship, proving that sometimes the happiest of endings aren’t contained within the bindings of a book.

Elizabeth Camden

“Rich historical detail enlivens the plot, but it’s the opposites-attract love story between risk-taker Finn and cautious Delia that will keep readers turning pages.” — Publishers Weekly

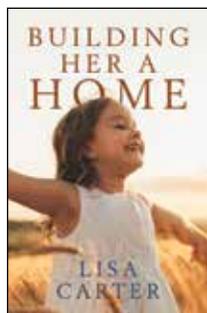

As teenagers, Delia Byrne and Finn Delaney fell in love — until betrayal tore them apart. Now, as America enters World War I, Delia works for peace as a paralegal. Returning to America as a decorated war hero, Finn is eager to get back to the front but is assigned to use his fame to raise funds instead. To his surprise, this mission will bring him face-to-face with Delia. As their shared mission draws them together, old sparks of romance begin to stir — until duty sends them behind enemy lines in occupied Belgium. Will the greatest danger be the conflict raging around them — or the possibility of falling in love again?

Over twenty years ago, a young hunting guide in rural Kentucky was driving his boat in the early morning mist when his peaceful cruise was cut short by a scene so disturbing, he packed up and moved away. Nine women died early that morning, but it was linked to a similar crime in Texas, so the locals quickly wrote it off as having nothing to do with them. Now, one man’s accidental death will bring everything back up to the surface. The locals who knew better can no longer claim it had nothing to do with them, and one woman, desperate to do whatever it takes to save her mother’s life, will learn that nearly everyone in her life has been lying to her.

Finnegan is a rescue dog with a broken heart. Chase is an anxious cheetah cub, newly orphaned. The two animals couldn't be more different. But one day, they are brought together for the unlikelyst of reasons: Finnegan must help Chase gain the confidence she needs to perform as part of an educational program for children at a zoo. Finnegan and Chase have each suffered losses and have trouble trusting. Yet somehow, they are just what the other needs. But if Finnegan isn't able to help Chase overcome her fears, he won't just be letting Chase down — he could be risking his new home as well.

2025 NATIONAL BOOK AWARD FINALIST

"A highly recommended purchase for all libraries looking to expand their historical fiction collections with a novel sure to entrance readers." — starred, School Library Journal

Twelve-year-old Roberto Alvarez is the youngest of his siblings, born on United States soil. He's their dream for a life away from the Mexican Revolution. Moved by anti-immigrant and anti-Mexican propaganda, the Lemon Grove school board and chamber of commerce create a separate "Americanization" school for the Mexican children attending the Lemon Grove Grammar School. But the new Olive Street School is an old barn retrofitted for the children forced to attend a segregated school. Amid threats of deportation, the Comité de Vecinos risk everything to stand their ground and choose Roberto as the lead plaintiff in a lawsuit against the school board in this uplifting novel in verse based on true events.

Down at the bottom of the tall buildings of New York City, Magnolia Wu sits inside her parents' laundromat. She has pinned every lost sock from the laundromat onto a bulletin board in hopes that customers will return to retrieve them. But no one seems to have noticed. But when Iris, a new friend from California, arrives, they set off across the city to solve the mystery of each missing sock, asking questions in subways, delis, plant stores, and pizzerias. With each encounter, Magnolia learns that when you're bold enough to head into the unknown, things start falling into place.

When Melody saves an elderly back-in-the-day actress's life, the woman nominates Melody to be a US spokesperson at an international symposium for kids with different abilities. Melody finally gets to fly on an airplane, and even the airline's somewhat clumsy handling of her wheelchair can't dampen her excitement to be in London. There, Melody meets kids from all over the world who are rallying for greater accessibility and more thoughtful planning on how to make the world more equal for every kid, no matter the unusual challenges they face. As Melody's time to speak approaches, she hopes she can find a way to make every word count and make an impact.

BOOKLIST EDITOR'S CHOICE

KIRKUS REVIEWS BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR

NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY BEST BOOK OF THE YEAR

In this very personal work, adapted from the original #1 bestseller, which the New York Times calls "as compelling as To Kill a Mockingbird, and in some ways more so," acclaimed lawyer and social justice advocate Bryan Stevenson offers a glimpse into the lives of the wrongfully imprisoned and his efforts to fight for their freedom. Stevenson's story is one of working to protect basic human rights for the most vulnerable people in American society — the poor, the wrongly convicted, and those whose lives have been marked by discrimination and marginalization. Through this adaptation, young people of today will find themselves called to action and compassion in the pursuit of justice.

JUDGE STONE

James Patterson, Viola Davis

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHORS

The most respected citizen in Union Springs, Alabama (population 3,314), is Judge Mary Stone. She holds two responsibilities sacred: running her family farm and presiding over her courtroom. It's there she draws the most controversial case in the history of the South. Criminally, it's open-and-shut. Ethically, there is no middle ground. Essentially, it's a choice between life and death. No judge can satisfy everyone. It would be dangerous to try. But Judge Stone is willing to fight to bring justice to the people and place she loves.

Two years ago, Detective Mitch Haskell lost his wife to a vicious act of retribution, and, since, has attributed her murder to two men: Roland Malone and the mastermind of the crime known only as Oz. Malone is an executioner and drug dealer who fronts as a restaurant owner. He performs his handiwork at the bidding of Oz, the faceless kingpin of a drug trafficking operation. Detective John Bowie has forced Mitch to get therapy to sort himself out. Dr. Dylan Reede is immediately empathetic to the pain she senses in Mitch. But from the moment Mitch breezes into her office Dylan finds it a struggle to maintain the professional and personal boundaries that keep her own tragic past at a safe distance. As Mitch begins to close in on Oz and Malone's operation, they're prepared to stop him by any means necessary. And when it's revealed that Dylan might hold the key to bringing them to justice, Mitch and Dylan's irresistible attraction to each other may not only compromise both of them professionally, but place them in Oz's bullseye.

LAKE EFFECT

A NOVEL

Cynthia D'Aprix Sweeney

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

It's 1977 and an air of restlessness has settled on the residents of Cambridge Road in Rochester, New York, a place long fueled by the fortunes of Kodak and Xerox and, for some, the mores of the Catholic church. When Nina Larkin is given a copy of The Joy of Sex by her divorced friend, she can no longer dismiss the nonexistent intimacy of her marriage. Just as her oldest child, Clara, is falling in love for the first time, Nina finds herself longing for a midlife awakening. An intoxicating fling with a prominent neighbor brings Nina a freedom she never thought possible — but also unravels Clara's world. Years later, Clara, now a successful food stylist in New York City, has never been able to move past the long-ago scandal. Drawn home by a family wedding, she makes a pivotal decision that turns her life upside down.

Jax has a slight issue with control — as in, she needs it. Always. Too bad she has power only over the Painted Lady Bookstore, the Victorian mansion turned bookshop she inherited. No one else listens to a word she says. Her ex gets engaged for questionable reasons. Her beloved sister, Ryleigh, wants to move away to find a husband. And the handsome contractor Jax has chosen to convince Ryleigh to stay is only interested in Jax. Still, she's living the bookworm dream — until an unhappy accident erases the names from the bookshop lockboxes where the town keeps their diaries. Which means the only way to find a diary's owner is to read it. As secrets spill and scandals surface, life at the Painted Lady Bookstore gets a lot more colorful and chaotic. But for a woman who's always had to take charge, Jax will see that losing control — especially with the right wrong guy — can set you free.

TRUST NO ONE

A THRILLER

James Rollins

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

The ritualistic murder of a British professor at the University of Exeter points to a startling cast of suspects: his own students. All are enrolled in a postgraduate program covering the history of witchcraft, folklore, and spiritualism. All evidence points to American Sharyn Karr. Prior to the professor's death, he had thrust a centuries-old book upon her, the handwritten and encrypted diary of an eighteenth-century mystic and occultist, the Comte de Saint-Germain. The professor begged her to keep the text safe. Such a responsibility forces her into cooperation with Duncan Maxwell, a fellow postgrad and the sixteenth in line to the British Crown. As dark forces close upon the pair, she and her friends are forced to flee, pursued by law enforcement and hunted by a powerful cabal. In an explosive chase across Europe Sharyn must learn the true secret hidden in the text.

THE HARD LINE

Gray Man Series

Mark Greaney

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Family means different things to different people, but in the Gray Man's world, family is defined by blood — the blood you share with some and the blood you shed with others. Court Gentry's current family operates out of an office park in Norfolk, Virginia. The Ghost Town is an off-the-books direct action team run by Matt Hanley, former CIA Deputy Director. They take on the jobs the Agency needs handled "discretely," and those jobs are rolling in. Somewhere at the top of the US Intelligence apparatus, security experts and intelligence operations worldwide are threatened. It starts with a blown safe house in Tunis. Then Court himself barely escapes from an ambush in the jungles of Nicaragua. Now key members of the U.S. counterintelligence community are being assassinated in their own neighborhoods. With the feds compromised, it's up to Court and his team to stop the hit squads.

CHAIN OF IDEAS

THE ORIGINS OF OUR
AUTHORITARIAN AGE

Ibram X. Kendi

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

What is great replacement theory? Variations on the theory have existed for centuries, but it was given this name by a French novelist in 2011 who believed Black and Brown immigrants were "invading" Europe, brought by shadowy elites to "replace" Europe's White population. From there, politicians and theorists repackaged the conspiracy as a story of "globalists" welcoming "migrant criminals" and diversity initiatives to take away the jobs, cultures, electoral power, and the very lives of White people. In our fast-shifting political landscape, most people are unfamiliar with this theory's origins and its spread, which isn't a coincidence. International bestselling author Ibram X. Kendi uncovers the roots of this theory and its various mutations around the world. It is an unsettling but indispensable global history of how great replacement theory brought humanity into this authoritarian age — and how we can free ourselves from it.

STORIES

Lauren Groff*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHORPUBLISHERS WEEKLY BESTSELLERLIBRARY READS PICK*

Read alone, each story in Lauren Groff's electric collection is an individual triumph, bold, agile, and packed with power. Read together, they hum in exhilarating resonance. Ranging from the 1950s to the present day and moving across age, class, and region, these nine stories reflect and expand upon a shared theme: the ceaseless battle between humans' dark and light angels. "In every human there is both an animal and a god wrestling unto death," one character tells us. Among those we see caught in this match are a young woman suddenly responsible for her disabled sibling, a hot-tempered high school swimmer in need of an adult, a mother blinded by the loss of her family, and a banking scion endowed with a different kind of inheritance. Motivated by love, impeded by the double edges of other peoples' good intentions, they try to do the right thing for as long as they can.

WHAT HAPPENED THAT NIGHT

A NOVEL

Nicci French*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR*

Tyler Green, convicted of murdering his friend Leo at a student house party in 1993, has been released after almost three decades in prison. He has always protested his innocence. On a warm evening in London, Tyler summons eight of his university friends who were present on that fateful night. Is it just a reunion, or something else? With wine — and accusations — flowing liberally, the reunion descends into violent chaos, and one friend will end the night with their throat slit in the upstairs bedroom, the same way that Leo's was in 1993. When Detective Inspector Maud O'Connor gets called to investigate, she has her own doubts about Tyler's guilt, despite what his old friends, the rest of the Metropolitan Police Force, and even the Home Secretary would like her to believe.

THE SISTERS OF BOOK ROW

A NOVEL

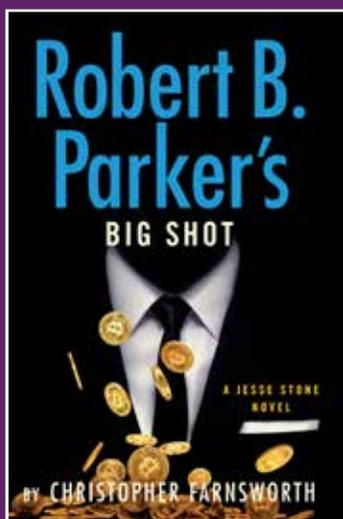

Shelley Noble*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR*

1915: Manhattan's Book Row, an eclectic jumble of forty bookshops along Fourth Avenue, is the mecca for rare book buyers from around the world, and the haunt of locals looking for a bargain. It is also the target of the most vicious censor in American history: Anthony Comstock, and home to three sisters who vow to stop him. For the three Applebaum sisters, the narrow, four-storied Arcadia Rare Bookshop is the only home they've ever known. Olivia, the oldest, is an expert in restoring rare manuscripts. Daphne, the outgoing middle sister, oversees the retail shop and is a favorite with their customers. Celia, the youngest, is left to dust and catalogue, but often sneaks out. Little do her sisters know, Celia has joined a group who secretly print and distribute articles on women's health. Meanwhile, the Comstock Laws threaten anybody who owns or circulates "obscene, lewd, or lascivious" publications. In the face of such oppression, Celia and the booksellers of Book Row band together.
