THE GLASSMAKER ★

A NOVEL

Tracy ChevalierNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITORS CHOICE #2

It is 1486 and Venice is a wealthy, opulent center for trade. Orsola Rosso is the eldest daughter in a family of glassblowers on Murano, the island revered for the craft. As a woman, she is not meant to work with glass — but she has the hands for it, the heart, and a vision. When her father dies, she teaches herself to make glass beads in secret, and her work supports the Rosso family fortunes. Skipping like a stone through the centuries, in a Venice where time moves as slowly as molten glass, we follow Orsola and her family as they live through creative triumph and heartbreaking loss. In every era, the Rosso women ensure that their work, and their bonds, endure.

James Lee BurkeNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITORS CHOICE #3

Clete Purcel is Dave Robicheaux's longtime friend and partner in detective work. When Clete finds his beloved Caddy ransacked by a group of thugs tied to the drug trade, it feels personal. Just as Clete starts to trail the culprits, Clara Bow, a woman with a dark past, hires Clete to investigate her scheming, slippery ex-husband. Clete is experiencing shockingly lifelike hallucinations and questioning Clara's motives when he and Dave start to hear rumors of a dangerous substance with potentially catastrophic effects. The thugs who destroyed his car might have been pawns in a scheme far darker than they could've imagined.

SOME MURDERS IN BERLIN

A NOVEL

Karen Robards

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITORS CHOICE #6

September 1943. Berlin is the last place Dr. Elin Lund wishes to be. An expert in psychological profiling, she's been summoned from Copenhagen to investigate the gruesome murders of eight young women. Even in the midst of unspeakable evil, these killings stand out. And with her homeland under Nazi occupation and a young son to protect, Elin can't refuse such a request. Racing to complete the investigation and return to her son, Elin feels the net tightening. Every sliver of evidence reveals a killer infinitely more dangerous, and more powerful, than anyone suspected. And in drawing closer to the terrifying truth, Elin has unwittingly made herself his new obsession.

LONDON FALLING

International School • Book 2

Chanel Cleeton

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

When Maggie Carpenter left London for summer break in her South Carolina hometown, she walked away from the most intense encounter of her life. But now that she's returned to the International School — and sexy, privileged Samir Khouri is once again close enough to touch — she can't help but remember the attraction, the drama, the heartbreak. Samir can't afford to fall for someone so far removed from his world when his time in London is running out. But when a secret hookup with Maggie becomes a temptation neither one can resist, they'll both have to fight to survive the consequences, if they want a future together.

FOUR SQUARES

Bobby Finger

"Finger's depictions of the changes in the West Village, the depredations of aging, and the possibilities of romantic connection between older single people are acute, yet infused with a sweet shrug of resignation."
— Kirkus Reviews

Artie Anderson spends his days at a tedious job, finding relief in the corner of New York City he can call his own, even as the queer community is still being ravaged by HIV. But when his birthday celebration brings Artie and his friends to his favorite bar, a chance encounter with Abe pushes Artie to want more for himself. Thirty years later, Artie is stunned when Halle and Vanessa, Abe's daughter and ex-wife, announce they are moving across the country. Their departure makes Artie realize he might be lonelier than he thought. When an injury pushes Artie into the local center for queer seniors, a rambunctious group of elders insist on taking him under their wing.

A NOVEL

Joseph Kanon*NEW YORK TIMES* BESTSELLING AUTHOR

EDITORS CHOICE #8

After the violence of Kristallnacht, European Jews desperate to emigrate found the consular doors of the world closed to them. Only one port required no entry visa: Shanghai, a Western trading enclave in what was technically Chinese territory, a political anomaly that became an escape hatch if you were lucky enough to afford a ticket on one of the liners. Daniel Lohr was one of the lucky ones. But even lucky refugees have to confront the reality of Shanghai. Daniel finds himself ensnared in a maze where politics and crime are two sides of the same shiny coin. The trick is to stay one step ahead. But how do you stay ahead of murder? How do you outrun your own past?

A DIFFERENT DAWN

Nina Guerrero • Book 2

Isabella Maldonado

"A horrifying crime, cat-and-mouse detection, aha moments, and extended suspense." — Kirkus Reviews

A family is murdered as they sleep. FBI Special Agent Nina Guerrero and her team are tasked with determining whether there is any link between this attack and another triple homicide from four years earlier. In the process, they discover a serial killer so cunning his grisly trail of death spanning nearly three decades has gone undetected. Each crime scene reminds Nina of the ghostly Latin folktale of La Llorona. Now she must uncover the meaning behind the rituals as the evidence leads her in an unexpected direction and the present collides with Nina's past in a twist of fate that forces her to make the ultimate sacrifice.

A NOVEL

Mariely Lares

INDIE NEXT PICK

"Lares's debut is an action-filled historical fantasy set in an alternate 16th-century Mexico, featuring Mesoamerican mythology and a unique blend of magic and adventure." — Library Journal

In sixteenth-century New Spain, Pantera uses her magic and legendary swordplay skills to fight the tyranny of Spanish rule. To all who know her, Leonora de las Casas Tlazohtzin never leaves the palace and is promised to the heir of the Spanish throne. Lady Leonora faints at the sight of blood and would rather be caught dead than meddle in court affairs. No one suspects that Leonora and Pantera are the same person. When an ancient prophecy of destruction threatens to come true, Leonora is forced to decide: surrender or fight to the end. But Pantera is destined for more than an early grave, and once she discovers the truth of her origins, not even death will stop her.

INDIE NEXT PICK

"A warm remembrance sure to resonate with anyone who has experienced loss."
— starred, Kirkus Reviews

Grief Is for People is a book about loss that is profuse with life. After the pain and confusion of losing her closest friend to suicide, Sloane Crosley looks for answers in philosophy and art, hoping for a framework more useful than the unavoidable stages of grief. For most of her adult life, Sloane and Russell worked together and played together as they navigated office life, the literary world, and the dramatic cultural shifts in New York City. When Russell dies, his suicide propels Sloane to explore what constitutes family and possession. Grief Is for People rises precisely to console and challenge our notions of mourning during these grief-stricken times.

AN UNFINISHED LOVE STORY

A PERSONAL HISTORY OF THE 1960S

Doris Kearns Goodwin

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

"A heartfelt tribute to the author's late husband and a captivating reflection on this pivotal era in American politics." — Kirkus Reviews

Dick and Doris Goodwin were married for forty-two years and married to American history even longer. Dick was one of the young men of John F. Kennedy's New Frontier, and he both named and helped design Lyndon Johnson's Great Society. Doris was a White House Fellow and worked directly for Lyndon Johnson, later assisting on his memoir. The Goodwins' last great adventure involved opening the more than three hundred boxes of letters, diaries, documents, and memorabilia Dick had saved for more than fifty years. The voyage of remembrance revived the hope that the youth of today will carry forward this love story with America.

THE AGE OF GRIEVANCE

Frank Bruni

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Whether from left or right, Bruni calls for a dose of humility on the part of all: 'an amalgam of kindness, openness, and silliness might be an effective solvent for grievance.' A welcome call to grow up and cut out the whining." — Kirkus Reviews

The twists and turns of American politics are unpredictable, but the tone is a troubling given. It's one of grievance. The United States was born of grievance, and across the years of our existence, grievance has been the engine of change. But what happens when people take their grievances to lengths they didn't before? A violent mob storms the U.S. Capitol. Fox News peddles lies. College students chase away speakers, and college administrators dismiss instructors for dissenting from progressive orthodoxy. How did we get here? What does it say about us, and where does it leave us? The Age of Grievance examines these critical questions and charts a path forward.

THAT NIGHT IN THE LIBRARY

A NOVEL

Eva Jurczyk

The night before graduation, seven students gather in the basement of their university's rare books library. They're not allowed in the library after closing time, but it's the perfect place for the ritual they want to perform — one borrowed from the Greeks, said to free those who take part in it from the fear of death. And what better time to seek the wisdom of ancient gods than in the hours before they'll scatter in different directions to start their real lives? But just a few minutes into their celebration, the lights go out — and one of them drops dead. As the body count rises, the group must figure out how to survive the night while trapped with a murderer.

A MYSTERY

A National Parks Thriller

A. J. Landau

"High-octane action fuels the story, which is nicely bookended with factoids about the parks and landmarks it features. This must-read thriller is addictive and engaging and will please National Parks enthusiasts and fans of action stories." — Library Journal

In a brutal act of terrorism, an explosion topples the Statue of Liberty. Special Agent Michael Walker of the National Park Service is sent to New York as the agent-in-charge. Not long after he lands, he learns that threats of a second terrorism attack are already being called into the media. Walker finds a young boy among the survivors with a critical piece of information — a video linking the attackers to the assault. As a radical domestic terrorist group threatens further attacks against America's cultural symbols, powerful forces within the government are misleading the investigation to further their own radical agenda.

A NOVEL

Kate Alice Marshall

"Marshall's deft writing teases out revelations aplenty, perpetually ratcheting up the tension—and an element of violence—while keeping the story skimming along. Family connections prove both their damage and their worth in this community-focused thriller." — starred, Kirkus Reviews

Fourteen years ago, the Palmer sisters left Arden Hills and never returned. But when Emma discovers she's pregnant and her husband loses his job, she has no option but to return to the house that she and her estranged sisters still own . . . and where their parents were murdered. Emma has never told anyone what she saw the night her parents died, even when she became the prime suspect. But her presence in the house threatens to uncover secrets that have stayed hidden for years, and Emma begins to wonder just what her siblings will do to keep the past buried, and whether she did the right thing staying quiet about what was whispered that night: "No one can know."

A REFINER'S FIRE

A Commissario Guido Brunetti Mystery

Donna Leon

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

On an early spring morning, two teenage gangs are arrested after clashing in one of Venice's squares. Commissario Claudia Griffoni walks the last of the boys home because his father, Dario Monforte, failed to pick him up. Guido Brunetti is asked to vet Monforte for a job, triggering Brunetti's memory that twenty years earlier Monforte had been celebrated as the hero of a devastating bombing. Yet Monforte had never been awarded a medal. Brunetti discovers the hypocrisy surrounding Monforte's past, culminating in a fiery meeting of two gangs and a final opportunity for redemption.

PATCHWORK QUILT MURDER

A Lucy Stone Mystery

Leslie Meier

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

When a community center opens in town, many embrace it as a space where locals of all ages can gather and create. Others view it as a waste of taxpayer dollars. The director, Darleen Busby-Platt, is no less controversial. Intense and showy, Darleen has huge plans for her new role. But Lucy believes the woman isn't exactly as warm hearted — or qualified — as she seems. That hunch deepens when Darleen and a young employee vanish . . . and dismembered remains appear! The closer Lucy gets to the facts, the more she realizes that she must piece together the big picture — before she becomes part of a crafty killer's deadly design.

LOST MAN'S LANE ★

A NOVEL

Scott Carson

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Carson masterfully weaves threads about Marshall's home and school life into the tantalizing central mystery, and populates the narrative's margins with fully realized characters who help bring the setting to vivid life." — starred, Publishers Weekly

For a sixteen-year-old, a summer internship working for a private investigator seems like a dream come true — particularly since the PI is investigating the most shocking crime to hit Bloomington, Indiana, in decades. A local woman has vanished, and the last time anyone saw her she was in the backseat of a police car driven by a man impersonating an officer. Marshall Miller's internship puts him at the center of the action, until a terrifying moment turns into accusations of lying and imperiling the case. Marshall alone understands that the darkness visiting his town this summer goes far beyond a single crime. Now his task is to explain it — and himself.

MURDER AT LA VILLETTE

An Aimée Leduc Investigation

Cara Black

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Features the requisite host of colorful characters who spill out of the biker bars and tattoo parlors of the 19th arrondissement, a bevy of chic disguises, and a few slick car chases. But as usual, the star of the show is the city Aimée loves. Vintage Black for fans of women's empowerment and life in Paris."

— Kirkus Reviews

Parisian private investigator Aimée Leduc's ex, Melac, has been hounding her to move their daughter, Chloé, to Brittany. Aimée is fed up with his threats to take her to court and has stopped answering his calls. Which is why she doesn't know he's waiting for her as she leaves a client's office late one night. When she finds him there, bleeding in the canal, he has just been stabbed by an assailant. Cut off from her typical network and forced to operate under multiple layers of cover, Aimée must go deep into the underbelly of Paris's 19th arrondissement on her hunt for justice.

INDIE NEXT PICK

"A riveting yet sedately paced novel about inspiration and identity." — starred, Library Journal

The year is 1921. Lesley Hamlyn and her husband, Robert, are living at Cassowary House on the Straits Settlement of Penang when "Willie" Somerset Maugham, a famed writer and friend of Robert's, arrives with his secretary Gerald. Having long hidden his homosexuality, Maugham's marriage of convenience becomes unbearable after he loses his savings and the freedom to travel with Gerald. Maugham arrives at Cassowary House in need of a subject for his next book. Learning of Lesley's connection to the Chinese revolutionary Dr. Sun Yat Sen, Maugham discovers a surprising tale that involves an Englishwoman charged with murder. It is, to Maugham, a story worthy of fiction.

PROBABLY RUBY

A NOVEL

Lisa Bird-Wilson

"A bighearted portrait of an Indigenous woman whose transracial adoption spurs a lifelong quest to discover — or perhaps create — her identity." — Kirkus Reviews

When we first meet Ruby, a Métis woman, her life is spinning out of control. But her story is more complex than even she can imagine. Given up for adoption as an infant, Ruby is raised by a white couple who understand little of her Indigenous heritage. This is the great mystery that hovers over Ruby's life — who her people are and how to reconcile what is missing. As the novel spans time and multiple points of view, we meet Ruby's birth parents and grandparents, her adoptive parents, the men and women Ruby has been romantically involved with, a beloved uncle, and Ruby's children. These characters form a kaleidoscope of stories, giving Ruby's life dignity and meaning.

Pregnant and recently widowed, Grace Fisher is determined to provide for her family on her own. But it's difficult keeping up with her work, her farm chores, and her two mischievous children. Elijah Beiler has always admired his neighbor Grace. So standing by while she struggles to support her family isn't an option. Offering to take over her farm duties, Elijah is determined to help while remaining detached. He knows all too well that love only leads to heartbreak. Yet the more time he spends with Grace and her children, the harder he finds it to leave each day. Can Elijah open his heart to this ready-made family?

COURTING AN AMISH BISHOP

The Heart of the Amish • Book 4

Mindy Steele

Simon Graber became a widower and a bishop early in life. His focus is solely on his very close-knit Old Order Amish community — not entertaining the idea of marriage, despite what many of the elders think. When sickness comes to Cherry Grove, Kentucky, Simon reaches out into the next community for help. But help is beginning to look a lot like a second chance when Stella Schmucker agrees to offer her vast herbal knowledge to the sick. Can it be that these two, who have been too busy serving others to entertain the idea of love, have met at just the perfect time for an unlikely courtship?

THE AMISH COWBOY'S HOMECOMING

Honey Brook • Book 2

Ophelia London

"A leisurely and entertaining love story that registers delicate feelings as well as intense desire."
— Kirkus Reviews

Grace Zook still struggles to prove that she is worthy of taking over the family's horse farm. With a fiery new stallion coming, Grace knows this is her chance to prove she can finally take the reins. When Isaac King is offered the lead training job on a new farm out of town, he's thrilled to finally provide some permanent roots for his daughter. Grace has drastically different ideas about how to handle the horse, yet he can't seem to get her out of his mind. There's too much at stake for Isaac to gamble his future on Grace, even though suddenly, he can't imagine one without her.

THE WICKED AND THE DEAD

THE HAIR-RAISING TALE OF HACK LONG AND HIS OUTLAW GANG

William W. Johnstone and J. A. Johnstone

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHORS

It was supposed to be a simple robbery. A fortune in gold for the taking. What Hack Long and his outlaws hadn't figured on was the Texas Rangers pouncing on them. Desperate to escape, Long led his men south where they ran afoul of Mexican Rurales and were imprisoned. Long's band of desperadoes break out of jail and split up to escape, hunted by lawmen, Comanches, and a gang of bandits. Though they be thieves and outlaws, Long and his men aren't nearly as deadly as their pursuers. And only death passes judgment on both the good and the bad.

A NOVEL

Riley Sager

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

The Hope family murders shocked the Maine coast in 1929. While most people assume seventeen-year-old Lenora was responsible, the police were never able to prove it. It's now 1983, and home-health aide Kit McDeere arrives to care for Lenora after her previous nurse fled in the middle of the night. In her seventies, Lenora was rendered mute by a series of strokes and can only communicate with Kit by tapping out sentences on a typewriter. One night, Lenora uses it to make an offer — I want to tell you everything. As Kit helps Lenora write about the events leading to the Hope family massacre, Kit starts to suspect Lenora might be far more dangerous than she first thought.

LONG ISLAND COMPROMISE

Taffy Brodesser-Akner

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

In 1980, a wealthy businessman named Carl Fletcher is kidnapped from his driveway, brutalized, and held for ransom. He is returned to his wife and kids less than a week later, and the family moves on with their lives. But forty years later, it's clear that nobody ever got over anything. Carl has spent the ensuing years secretly seeking closure to the matter of his kidnapping, while his wife, Ruth, has spent her potential protecting her husband's emotional health. As for their grown children, Nathan's chronic fear won't allow him to advance at his law firm; Beamer, a Hollywood screenwriter, will consume anything to numb his own terror; and Jenny has spent her life trying to prove that she's not a product of her family's pathology. As they hover at the precipice of a different kind of survival, they learn that the family fortune has dwindled to almost nothing, and they must face desperate questions about how their wealth has played a part in their successes and failures.

ALL THE COLORS OF THE DARK

A NOVEL

Chris Whitaker

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

1975 is a time of change in America. The Vietnam War is ending. Mohammed Ali is fighting Joe Frazier. And in the small town of Monta Clare, Missouri, girls are disappearing. When the daughter of a wealthy family is targeted, the most unlikely hero emerges — Patch, a local boy, who saves the girl, and, in doing so, leaves heartache in his wake. Patch and those who love him soon discover that the line between triumph and tragedy has never been finer. And that their search for answers will lead them to truths that could mean losing one another. A missing person mystery, a serial killer thriller, a love story, a unique twist on each, Chris Whitaker has written a novel about what lurks in the shadows of obsession, and the blinding light of hope.

THE CONDITIONS OF UNCONDITIONAL LOVE

An Isabel Dalhousie Novel • Book 15

Alexander McCall Smith

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Isabel Dalhousie, everyone's favorite moral philosopher, is once again called on to help navigate a decidedly delicate dispute with all of the insight and compassion she has become known for. What makes Isabel's investigations so unique is her uncanny ability to view all sides of a situation with coolness and reserve — and she will tap deep into her stores of both in order to help see this one through. Meanwhile, Isabel and her husband Jamie will together be dealing with tricky personal issues of their own. Philosophical observations and humorous asides abound in this fifteenth installment of the beloved series.

THE AU PAIR AFFAIR

A NOVEL

Tessa Bailey

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Tallulah, twenty-six and broke, is studying to be a marine biologist. When Burgess, a hockey veteran and newly single dad, offers her a job as his live-in nanny, she jumps at the opportunity. Her tween charge Lissa isn't the only one who could use some help fitting in, though. Burgess needs to get back on the dating scene, and adventurous Tallulah is just the girl to show him how. Boundaries are crossed and Burgess finds himself pulled between his daughter, who wants her parents back together, and Tallulah. When a rift is formed, Tallulah breaks her own heart and walks away. Though Burgess knows it's for the best, a chance meeting forces him to put everything on the line and fight for Tallulah.

CONFESSIONS OF THE DEAD

James Patterson and J. D. Barker

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHORS

Hollows Bend, New Hampshire, is a picture-perfect New England town where weekend tourists flock to see fall leaves and eat breakfast at the Stairway Diner. The crime rate — zero — is a point of pride for Sheriff Ellie Pritchett. The day the stranger shows up is when the trouble starts. The sheriff and her deputy investigate the mysterious teenage girl. None of the locals can place her. She can't, or won't, answer any questions. She won't even tell them her name. While the girl is in protective custody, the officers are called to multiple crime scenes leading them closer and closer to a lake outside of town that doesn't appear on any map.
