DAISY
Katie Cotugno

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
PUBLISHER'S SHOWCASE

Daisy Buchanan is the top society hostess on East Egg, Long Island, with a successful husband, beautiful children, and a jaw-dropping house. No one knows that she needs a few Klonopin to get through the day, to forget that the love of her life, Jay Gatsby, was killed two summers ago. But when Daisy's best friend, Jordan Baker, is found dead, Daisy's fragile peace is shattered. As the police investigate Jordan's murder, Daisy spirals into her own toxic cocktail of revelations and confusion. Is someone watching her? What was it that Jordan wanted to tell her right before she died, and did that secret lead to her demise? Is whoever killed Jordan coming for Daisy next?

FETAL POSITION
A NOVEL
Carolyn Huynh

"Huynh creates a fascinating world [and] weaves in a shadowy mystery that compels readers to keep turning pages. . . . The thought-provoking elements of Huynh's novel stand out and will appeal to philosophical, forward-thinking readers."
— Library Journal

In a near future plagued by plummeting birthrates, a start-up called Hatch recruits women with a seductive promise: trade your grueling work life for security, a beautiful home, and a robotic butler to handle every domestic burden. You simply trade in your corporate labor for child labor — through being inseminated with a male match's sperm. Lena Do has been stuck in corporate America for far too long. So when she receives an invitation to Hatch, she's wooed by their promises. But the facade begins to crack when the women around her vanish, and Lena has no choice but to race against the clock to uncover the truth behind the company before she's trapped forever.

MEET ME IN THE GARDEN
A NOVEL
Nina LaCour

INDIE NEXT PICK

"Fans of Nella Larsen's Passing will enjoy this sympathetic tale about the secrets a family keeps among themselves and from each other as they grapple with societal prejudice during the mid-20th century."
— Library Journal

New Orleans, 1944. While Odette's older sisters are content to be wives and mothers, Odette has always wanted something else. It is only with her beloved cousin, Delphine, that Odette can tell her secret: she is in love with a woman, and she longs to be an artist. In the hidden garden they've discovered, Odette and Delphine can dream of futures full of passion and freedom. But five years later, Odette's life is nothing like what she'd planned. She's a widowed mother, living in Los Angeles, and she and Delphine have spiraled away from each other. When Delphine reaches a breaking point, Odette must make a shattering choice to try to hold her family together.

SOME PEOPLE
A NOVEL
Parini Shroff

Malti Patel is fine. Concussed and bruised, maybe, but fine. Certainly fine enough to not need her daughter's soon-to-be-ex-husband, Nathan, playing nurse in her home. And yet, that's exactly the quandary in which she finds herself. Her doctor insists on in-home supervision for seven days, and with her daughter, Kavya, abroad at grad school, Nathan proves too much of a do-gooder to let Malti rehabilitate alone. Over the course of the week, as Malti grapples with the shadows of her past and Nathan ponders the wreckage of his marriage, they learn that they are the two people who know Kavya best — and the ones who have hurt her so deeply that she's left them both.

Sanchez and Heron Series • Book 3

Jeffery Deaver, Isabella Maldonado

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE 4

A high-stakes theft draws federal agent Carmen Sanchez and brilliant hacker Jake Heron into the hunt to recover the stolen Epsilon Core, a revolutionary weapon engineered to operate beyond human control. An enemy is assembling the final components to unleash it, causing unimaginable casualties. Racing against mercenaries, arms dealers, cult conspiracies, and a nemesis from Jake's past, Carmen and Jake must navigate an increasingly personal relationship — one put to the test when Jake himself falls under suspicion. As the clock runs out, Carmen must decide if she can trust her partner, a man she may not even recognize anymore.

TIME TO BURN ★★★

A NOVEL

Ellery Lloyd

"This is a thriller blended with old-school science fiction at its best: a story rooted in current reality and fertilized with a healthy dose of dystopia." — starred, Library Journal

Tech entrepreneur Inigo Frank has perfected commercial time travel. To immortalize his achievement, Frank enlists award-winning filmmaker Phoebe Hunt to create a documentary. On her first day shadowing Inigo, she is set to witness the return of a billionaire and his family from their trip to the past. But instead of their awe-filled return, she captures the group arriving bloodied and traumatized, with one of their number missing. Not only that, but Phoebe recognizes the missing woman and knows that she's not who she claims to be. As events begin to unravel in the present, Phoebe must race to untangle the truth — before past and the future are rewritten.

TRAD WIFE

A NOVEL

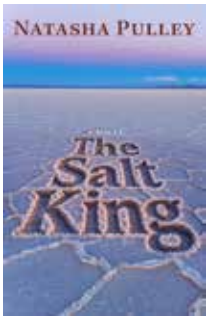

Sarah Langan

LIBRARY READS PICK

"[A] slick, eerie horror outing . . . a memorable entry in the recent slew of horror novels and thrillers sending up the trad wife phenomenon." — Publishers Weekly

Every day, millions watch Mia Wright, the "trad wife" queen, on her idyllic three-hundred-acre farm. With her handsome husband, seven children, and a life of from-scratch meals and pastoral bliss, she's an icon of modern femininity. Desperate to save her tarnished career, journalist Jenny Kaplan arrives at Black Swan Farm to write a scathing exposé, determined to expose the deception behind Mia's curated life. But soon, Jenny has more to contend with than staged videos and camera-ready poses. She's losing time. She's losing her hair. She starts to worry that she's losing her mind. There is a horror at the heart of Black Swan, and it's waiting just for Jenny.

THE SALT KING ★

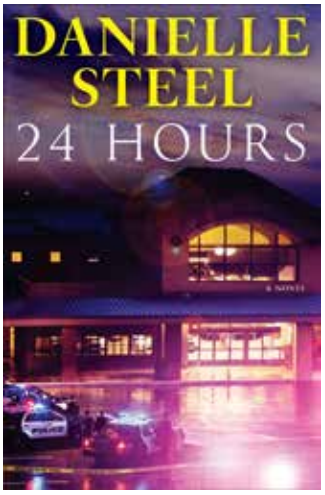

A NOVEL

Natasha Pulley

"A compelling religious alternate-history mystery about isolation, spectrums of religious and romantic love, and beliefs defining and dividing community." — Library Journal

Jesuit priest Avelyn Brocken was born in Hreodwater, a small salt town in the Fens of England. At age 16, he fled, abandoning his faith in the god of the mine — the Salt King. When a fellow priest is miraculously healed only to then be turned to salt after a visit to Hreodwater, Avelyn is sent by the Vatican to investigate. The town's doctor, Jericho, tells him that the priest may not be the only one in danger from a substance the locals call "salt light." Avelyn and Jericho team up to protect the world from the salt light — but they may already be too late. As the salt light spreads, Avelyn must decide whether his faith is strong enough to withstand an apocalypse.

24 HOURS
Danielle Steel

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE 3

Days before Thanksgiving, a supermarket in San Francisco is busy with shoppers preparing for a holiday filled with family and love. Then, violence shatters the festive mood as customers find themselves trapped with gunmen. Two murders are committed in the first few minutes of the hostage situation. The hostages are terrified, but not entirely helpless. Among the shoppers are FBI agent Tom Parker and two armed police officers. Also trapped in the store is a pregnant mother whose water just broke. A paramedic tries to care for her under the worst possible circumstances. An elderly couple take comfort in being with each other — until one of them goes into cardiac arrest. Amid the terror, new bonds are formed, which will prove life-changing. For those who survive, their gratitude this Thanksgiving will be profound.

THE OPPOSITE OF MURDER
Sophie Hannah

"A model who's-going-to-do-it from its irresistible hook to its final surprise." — starred, Kirkus Reviews

Jemma Stelling walks into a police station and confesses — not to a murder she's committed, but to one she's terrified she might. Jemma can't stop thinking about murdering her stepmother, Marianne Upton. The only way to stop herself might be to confess before she snaps and does the unthinkable. But while Jemma is giving her statement, a call comes in: Marianne has been found stabbed to death, killed in exactly the way Jemma described. Suddenly, the woman desperate to prevent a murder has an unshakeable alibi . . . and a disturbingly accurate description of the crime. Is Jemma an innocent bystander? Or a cold-blooded killer who planned everything down to the minute?

THE LOST SPECTACULAR
Zoé Duhaime

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Mystery, magic, and whimsy fill the pages of Duhaime's debut novel; recommended for fans of metamagical stories about bookstores." — Library Journal

One night, Noon Bonaventure and Munro Forrest discovered the Spectacular, a mysterious festival glittering with everything lost: lone pearl earrings and apple orchards, abandoned first drafts and shipwrecks. Now long estranged yet forever drawn to one another, Noon and Munro's differences have defined their ways of life. Munro, a museum curator, vows his next exhibit will trap the Spectacular and return its lost treasures, while Noon, queen of cat-and-mouse, has been chosen as the next captain of the show. As opening night for Munro's exhibit draws closer, he and Noon will have to finally agree on how their story ends — and perhaps find a way to start again.

THE GIRL WITH SEVEN LIVES
A NOVEL
Vikas Swarup

"[T]he gender politics at play here add depth, as the author traces a woman's quest to thrive in a world where she's the only person she can depend on." — Publishers Weekly

Growing up in the slums of Delhi, Devi has learned that survival comes at a cost — and naturally, that means she's made a few enemies along the way. Now she's being held captive, her life up for sale in an online auction, where the highest bidder will determine her fate. With her existence hanging in the balance, Devi proceeds to give her captor "a confession to beat all confessions" — as over the course of a single night, Devi unveils the secrets of her seven extraordinary lives. Devi is the ultimate survivor — a girl from the gutters who dares to rewrite her own destiny. But, like Sheherazade in the Arabian Nights, will she survive the longest night of her life?

WISDOM CORNER

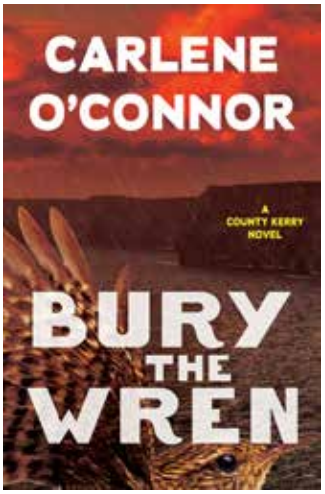

A NOVEL

David Heska Wanbli Weiden

"Mixing noir suspense with lived-in knowledge of the cultural history and hard realities of reservation life, Weiden's second entry in this burgeoning series is another winner." — Library Journal

Virgil Wounded Horse is trying to escape his past as a hired vigilante on the Rosebud Indian Reservation. But when a legendary figure from the reservation is murdered, Virgil is forced to return to the job. Making matters more complicated, threats are coming from the Pine Ridge 705 — a gang from a neighboring reservation who want to expand their reach into Rosebud — and Mitch Gagnon, a shady politician who will stop at nothing to gain more power. With a tribal council election looming, as well as new revelations regarding past injustices at the local Native boarding school, the stakes grow even higher. Will Virgil find the justice he's seeking before it's too late?

BURY THE WREN

A County Kerry Novel • Book 5

Carlene O'Connor

USA TODAY BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Dingle is a town steeped in folklore. On the day after Christmas, St. Stephen's Day, the wren boys — local lads from competing neighborhoods — paint their faces and dress in straw garb to march through town. But this year's celebration takes a dark turn when one of the wren boys is found strangled, thick fisherman rope still around his neck. Then Dimpna discovers her friend Paul Byrne dead — with a wren's body beside him. While Detective Sergeant Cormac O'Brien begins to investigate, Dimpna immerses herself in a case that has become deeply personal. For it's not only traditions that persist here, grudges and secrets do too.

"Critically acclaimed author Nava . . . continues to be a mighty Indigenous voice in romance and a fan favorite." — Library Journal

Drained by her high-pressure tech job, June Walker finally hits her breaking point and buys a crumbling sunflower farm in rural Oklahoma, where she grew up. Nothing, however, tests her resolve quite like running into the boy she left behind when she was seventeen. Between his family, his job, and a town that knows him inside and out, Noah Abbott has everything he needs — except answers. So when June returns, Noah is determined to find out why the girl who once meant everything to him vanished. As old wounds open and attraction flares back to life, June and Noah are forced to decide whether first love is a memory best left buried or the one thing worth replanting.

LAST MISSION TO PARIS

Susan Elia MacNeal

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

In the Scottish Highlands, four women training as secret agents became inseparable: Flip, Zaina, Bella, and Gabrielle. They parachuted into Nazi-occupied Paris, where they trusted each other with their lives . . . until the betrayal that shattered everything. Twenty years later, the surviving agents are honored with a statue on the Thames. However, the recognition is eclipsed by an anonymous letter suggesting that Gabrielle's demise was more suspicious than it appeared. Chloe, Gabrielle's daughter, seeks out the three surviving agents, her mother's friends. As past and present collide, the women discover that some betrayals go further than anyone can imagine.

THE HOUSEKEEPER

A NOVEL

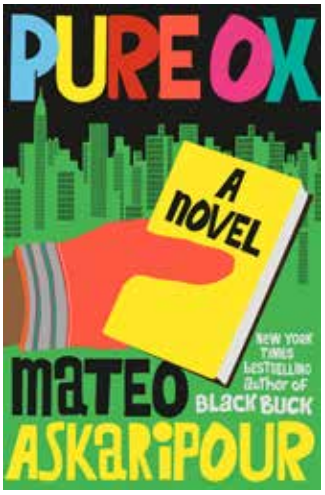

Rose Tremain

ORANGE PRIZE–WINNING AUTHOR
IN PRODUCTION AS A MAJOR MOTION PICTURE

"A clever, enjoyable spinoff, deepened by an evocative historical backdrop and a sensitive character study." — Kirkus Reviews

Mrs. Danowski, known as Danni, is hired as housekeeper at Manderville Hall. A loyal and lonely woman, Danni dreams of finding love. Those dreams are fulfilled when Daphne du Maurier arrives. Succumbing to her secret sexual desire for women, Daphne begins a love affair with Danni, meeting the housekeeper in the secluded boathouse at Manderville Cove. For both women, this forbidden passion is both beautiful and terrifying. But of course such a love cannot last — and Danni and Daphne must deal with the aftermath. While Danni struggles to find a new place in the world, Daphne reconfigures the experience into her most famous work, Rebecca, with surprising results.

SOMETHING WE SAID
RICHARD PRYOR, A NOTORIOUS WORD, AND ME

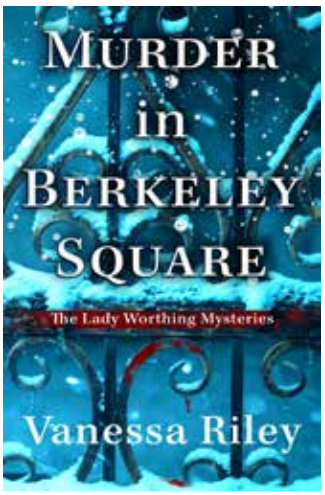

Elizabeth Stordeur Pryor

BLK BESTSELLER

"A moving reflection on family, belonging, and language's power to wound and heal." — Kirkus Reviews

The N-word is one of the most controversial words in the American lexicon. It's a word Elizabeth Pryor has taught and observed up close. When a white student quoted her father and blurted out the N-word in the middle of a class she was teaching, Professor Pryor was forced to confront the history of the slur in the United States, and her complicated relationship with her father Richard Pryor, who made the word a trademark of his comedy in the 1970s. Something We Said follows Elizabeth as she becomes a leading scholar and teacher of the very word her father put on the pop culture map.

MURDER IN BERKELEY SQUARE
The Lady Worthing Mystery • Book 3

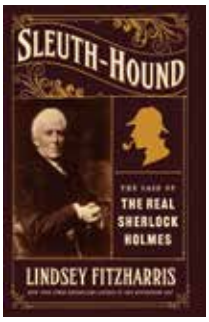

Vanessa Riley

"Lovers of Agatha Christie will find this puzzle both disturbing and delightful." — Kirkus Reviews

Lady Abigail Worthing is finding her husband's endless conditions increasingly repressive. Unable to stay at their London home during the winter, she accepts a ride to the country from her neighbor, Stapleton Henderson. However, she's less than delighted that she's his excuse to avoid a dinner held by Lord Charles Duncan, one of London's most powerful magistrates. Then a blizzard strands them at Lord Duncan's with his now-houseguests and one of the guests is found dead in front of the mansion. As Abigail races to find who was responsible, she'll be forced to put her own life at risk.

SLEUTH-HOUND
THE VICTORIAN MEDICAL DETECTIVE WHO INSPIRED SHERLOCK HOLMES

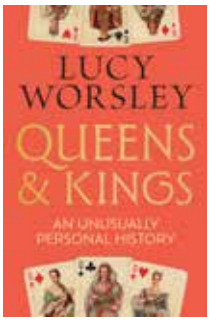

Lindsey Fitzharris

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Fans of the great detective and of the history of criminology will enjoy this gripping and grisly narrative."
— starred, Library Journal

Throughout nineteenth-century Edinburgh, the surgeon Joseph Bell was known for his talent for detection and diagnosis. He could read a patient's ailments, occupation, and personal habits from a single glance. Such deductive powers had a profound influence on Arthur Conan Doyle. Since Sherlock Holmes first appeared in 1887, he has become a global phenomenon. Yet the man Conan Doyle credited as Sherlock's prototype has slipped into the shadows. In Sleuth-Hound, Lindsey Fitzharris brings Bell center stage, recounting how his work took him from ward to witness box as a medical detective.

QUEENS & KINGS
AN UNUSUALLY PERSONAL HISTORY

Lucy Worsley

"[Worsley's] lively account pushes against cinematic dramatizations, chasing through the archives as well as stalking the halls. . . . A singular perspective on palace intrigue."
— Kirkus Reviews

No one has lived and breathed the monarchy quite like Lucy Worsley. For over twenty years, she worked as Chief Curator in some of Britain's most splendid palaces — and now she is ready to throw open the doors and welcome us in. In Queens & Kings, Worsley takes us on a journey through some of our most turbulent and significant moments in history. From the Council Chamber in which Henry VIII decided to break from the pope to lunch with the late Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace, from encounters with the Tower of London's Ravenmaster to the depths of Queen Victoria's wardrobe, Worsley shares a fresh history of the monarchy.

PROTOCOLS
AN OPERATING MANUAL FOR THE HUMAN BODY

Andrew D. Huberman, PhD

PUBLISHERS WEEKLY BESTSELLER
NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

The power of your physiology can be harnessed in two complementary ways: First, through practices that substantially improve your mental and physical state. Second, through science-based tools you can use to achieve elevated levels of mental or physical performance. In this book, Dr. Huberman offers essential practices for both, called "protocols." He explains the science behind each protocol, then shows how they can deliver immediate results. Drawing on decades of research, Dr. Huberman delivers a comprehensive guide to improving your mental health, physical health, and performance.

BLOCKERS
REBELS IN THE DEEP STATE

Michael Lewis

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER
PUBLISHERS WEEKLY BESTSELLER

Blockers is the story of people who were convinced they were doing something the country couldn't do without and then discovered they were no longer wanted. One kept Americans' tax data out of the wrong hands; another made sure politicians played by the rules. One figured out how to stop wildfires from destroying neighborhoods, another helped uncover the mysteries of cystic fibrosis. Michael Lewis transforms the first two years of the second Trump administration into a thriller about federal employees and puts before us a clear question: If these public servants can't survive in government, then what does that say about us?

"A fun, frightening, and unfortunately not-so-futuristic techno-horror." — Kirkus Reviews

Lewis's big hope for his first day at a new school is to make a friend. He never expected that friend to wind up being a hyper-intelligent panda bear. A gift from his dad, Panda Mo Nium is an exclusive AI toy and communication device with big ideas. After other students at his school get their own robot pandas, Lewis suddenly has a friend group. When Mo begins asking Lewis to perform risky and bloody tasks, Lewis goes along despite his nerves . . . until he senses evil intentions behind his AI friend's glowing eyes. What does this robot panda really want from him? The truth might be more frightening than Lewis ever imagined.

DASIA (FOREVER) ★
Nic Stone

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"A heartrending ode to the pain and relief of finding the words." — starred, Kirkus Reviews

After nineteen days of "induction chemotherapy," Dasia Monae Riley knows no one else should be in her hospital room. But there she is: Jameson "Jimmy" Jeffs. Another cancer patient who's seemingly everything Dasia is not. However, Dasia soon discovers that their commonalities go beyond an incurable disease . . . like older brothers who are gone, baby brothers who need them, and struggles at school. As Dasia and Jimmy chat, Dasia's memories unfold in the unsent "letters" Dasia wrote to her incarcerated older brother. And over the course of one life-changing night, two girls who are at their lowest fight to keep each other uplifted. When you hit rock bottom, what does it take to allow yourself to hope again?

"An on-trend premise for a page-turning story that's sprinkled with smart life lessons." — Kirkus Reviews

The four Coleridge kids — Harper, twins Dylan and Lacey, and Bobby — live in Caddo, Oklahoma, where the most exciting thing that ever happens is cow tipping. Until their father swoops into town. He happens to be billionaire Asher Coleridge, founder of Zzazz, the hottest fashion company for kids. Zzazz needs a new brand ambassador, who will travel the world and be the face of the company. Asher wants it to be one of his kids. That's where the Contest comes in. Over the course of several weeks, the siblings will do almost anything for the coveted title. Each kid has their own reasons for wanting to escape Caddo. But there can only be one Brand Ambassador. How far are they willing to go to win?

JUNIOR LIBRARY GUILD PICK

"[R]eaders will find themselves wrestling with the same questions regarding the ethics surrounding staying sleepless that the cast members do. . . . [A] quick, thought-provoking read. . . . Creative and appealing, with plenty to ponder." — Kirkus Reviews

There's not enough time in the day. How often have Mickey, Skye, Levi, Cyrus, and Thea thought that? Well, now they have plenty of extra time . . . because they no longer need to sleep. None of them knows why this is happening to them. All they know is that they have to keep it a secret from their families and their friends. And while they keep it a secret, they can use their extra hours to become better than everyone else. Each of them thinks they're alone in their sleeplessness. But once they find each other, they know it can't be just an accident. Suddenly they're forced to ask: What's keeping them awake at night?

BRITTLE MAGIC
Kate O'Shaughnessy

NEWBERY HONOR–WINNING AUTHOR

"Shiloh's honesty and quirkiness will engage readers in this poignant family-secrets novel with magical elements." — starred, School Library Journal

Every member of the Brittle family has an extraordinary talent — except Shiloh. Her aunt makes pickles that tell your fortune. Her great-aunt brews tea that gives you good dreams. Her sister can grow pumpkins the size of a small house. And her older brother — who died before Shiloh was born — had a gift no one will talk about. Her mom says Shiloh doesn't need a talent to be special. But Shiloh knows she's destined for greatness. When Auntie Dee's fortune-telling pickles reveal that Shiloh does have a talent, the prophesy offers cryptic clues for finding her talent and Shiloh throws herself into the search. But discovering the truth about herself means digging up secrets her mom would rather keep buried.

OLD SCHOOL ★

Gordon Korman

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER

Dexter Foreman is twelve going on eighty. He has lived at The Pines retirement village with his grandmother since he was six years old, and as a result he gets along better with senior citizens than kids his own age. He's homeschooled by the residents up until the day the county's truancy officer shows up and announces that Dex has to go to the local middle school. At school, only a few students — like Gianna Greco, a reporter at the school's newspaper — find him intriguing. For most, he is either a weirdo or a target. Dexter would do anything to return to his life at The Pines. But when his wish seems to be coming true, his old and new worlds collide in a way that surprises everyone — Dexter most of all.

CHAIN REACTION

A REACHER NOVEL

Jack Reacher Series

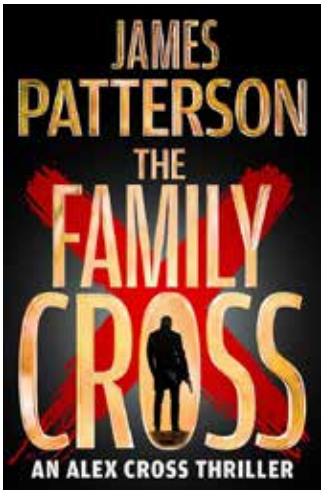

Lee Child, Andrew Child

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHORS

Jack Reacher is hard to find. It's not easy to track him down. And he likes it that way. But General Susan Turner, based deep inside the Pentagon, has the means and the motive. She needs his help. A member of her team has been brutally murdered on covert duty. She can't trust anyone she works with, not even her deputy. She needs someone from the outside. Someone who solves problems and disappears without a trace. Reacher heads to Summertown, Colorado. A town as remote and bizarre as it gets. One diner, one motel, five massive data centers, two giant solar farms humming away in the dust. Total population: four people. And one of them is watching him. But Reacher isn't built to run. He's built to finish things. General Turner knows that if they come for Reacher, they'll regret it — all the way to the top of the chain.

THE FAMILY CROSS

AN ALEX CROSS SERIES

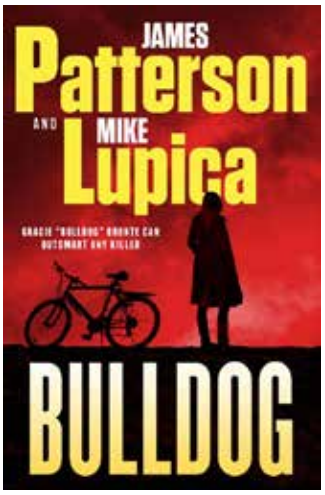

James Patterson

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Alex Cross is a brilliant psychologist — and a relentless hunter of killers for the FBI and DC Metro Police. To his beloved Nana Mama, he's still the boy she raised — and every morning, as he straps on his service weapon, she's reminded just how dangerous his world has become. But in Washington, DC, there are places even the police don't go — an unseen underworld where violence thrives and rules don't apply. And this time, Alex is stepping straight into it. Each move pulls him deeper into the dark — and closer to a case that could shatter the promise he made to Nana . . . and cost him everything he holds most dear.

SHADOW JURY

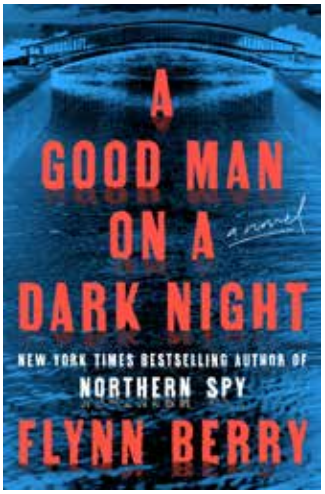

A JACK SWYTECK NOVEL

James Grippando

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Miami defense lawyer Jack Swyteck's newest client is Iris Canto. Her lawsuit accuses Perry Rutledge — the president of an international investment bank — of sexual violence that occurred after she was kidnapped as a teenager and trafficked. As the trial unfolds, Jack learns that his client's fate could rest with a woman named Cassie Logan, a single mother with a tough past of her own. Cassie has been hired for a shadow jury created by a supercomputer and advanced algorithms capable of mining personal information on millions of Americans to find exact personality and background matches for jurors. Cassie and the rest of the shadow jurors paid by Rutledge's team will react to the proceedings via videoconference and inform the defense in real time. When a real juror goes missing, Cassie and Jack's paths collide in a thrilling conclusion.

A GOOD MAN ON A DARK NIGHT

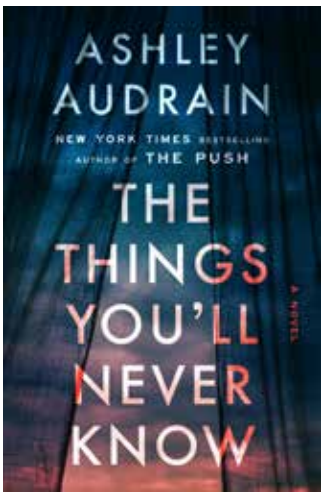

A NOVEL

Flynn Berry

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

A private nurse. A mysterious patient. A dangerous secret. Every week, Eleanor commutes from her house in the countryside into Washington, DC, to visit her wealthy, powerful patients. On a warm spring morning, an officer from a shadowy security agency approaches her along the riverbank and orders her to inform on one of them, a foreign service officer named Anna. Eleanor faces an impossible choice: Will she destroy another woman's life, or her own? Anna is suspected of hiding a shocking secret, but she appears warm and trustworthy. Despite all Eleanor is risking, an unlikely friendship starts to form — and when she learns that her assignment is even more sinister than it seemed, their fates become dangerously entwined. Can Eleanor unravel the government's plans before it's too late?

THE THINGS YOU'LL NEVER KNOW

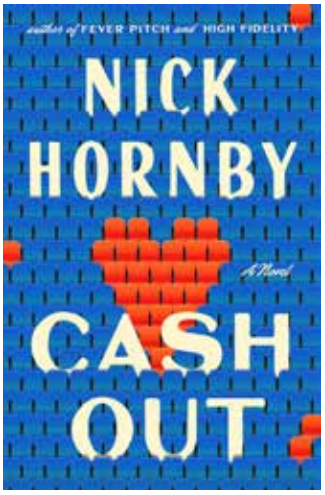

A NOVEL

Ashley Audrain

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Fiona stares up at the faces of her husband, Adam, and their children. They've found her on the hallway floor. The double doors slam on the ambulance, and Fiona watches it take her body away — but how can that be, if she's still here in her home, with her family? That's when she realizes her worst fear has come true: Fiona is dead. In the days that follow, Fiona moves quietly among them, as they become increasingly suspicious about her death. Everyone seems to be hiding something — her depressive husband, her devoted best friend, her estranged younger sister, her precocious six-year-old son, and most of all, Fiona herself. That is, until her teenage daughter discovers Fiona's diary — and the stunning betrayal she had been hiding.

IN ONE BRIEF MOMENT ALL ETERNITY
A NOVEL
Elif Shafak

Long considered one of the world's most influential writers, Gustave Flaubert paved the way for generations of novelists to come, and no protagonist of his is more indelibly immortalized than Madame Emma Bovary. On the heels of her most successful book yet, There Are Rivers in the Sky, Shafak has given us a new tale, each chapter tinged with different hues that evoke the vibrancy of Flaubert's epileptic episodes. "Madame Bovary, c'est moi," Flaubert is alleged to have said. But indeed, Flaubert was many others, and now, for the first time, these female ghosts — Flaubert's nanny, his mistress, a corpse, a half-drawn character — finally speak. One of the most breathtaking and inventive novels of Shafak's oeuvre, this book bridges worlds — between East and West, past and present, intellectual and spiritual, real and imaginary, and even hope and despair, dancing delicately on the knife's edge of each.

BELLE HAVEN FINISHING SCHOOL
A NOVEL
Adele Myers

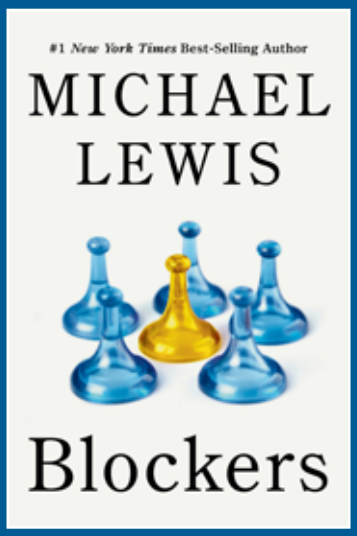

In 1951, Belle Haven Finishing School offers orphan girls the promise of a brighter future. For Birdie and her cousin Rue, it's a chance to change the trajectory of their lives. But as Birdie navigates the school's unusual rules and glamorous, yet unsettling, atmosphere, she begins to question the true intentions behind its polished façade — and what it might mean for her and Rue. In 1987, Charlotte Davenport, a burgeoning New York Times reporter who is hungry to cover stories beyond the ladies' lifestyle pages, discovers a curious connection between the finishing school and an academic study that was never published. Charlotte is convinced a cover-up took place to protect the prominent university professor behind the unethical experiment. As Charlotte pieces together the past, she finds herself drawn into a mystery that touches her own life in unexpected ways.
