DON'T LET HIM IN

A NOVEL

Lisa Jewell

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE 3

Nick Radcliffe is just what Nina Swann needed in her life after her husband's unexpected death. But to Nina's adult daughter, Ash, Nick seems too good to be true. Without telling her mother, Ash begins digging into Nick's past. What she finds is unsettling. Martha is a florist living in a neighboring town with her infant daughter and her devoted husband, Alistair. But lately, Alistair has been traveling more and more frequently, disappearing for days at a time. Nina, Martha, and Ash are on a collision course with a shocking truth that is far darker than anyone could have imagined. And all three are about to wish they had heeded the same warning: Don't let him in.

THE WOMAN IN SUITE 11

A NOVEL

Ruth Ware

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR
EDITOR'S CHOICE 1

When the invitation to attend the press opening of a luxury Swiss hotel owned by reclusive billionaire Marcus Leidmann arrives, it's like the answer to a prayer. Lo Blacklock is ready to reestablish her journalism career, and she hopes she can snag an interview with Marcus. Unfortunately, he proves to be difficult to pin down. When Lo gets a late-night call asking her to come to Marcus's hotel room, she's greeted by a woman claiming to be Marcus's mistress, and in life-or-death jeopardy. What follows is a cat-and-mouse pursuit across Europe, forcing Lo to ask herself just how much she's willing to sacrifice to save this woman . . . and if she can even trust her?

THE GIRL I WAS

A NOVEL

Jeneva Rose

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

When Alexis Spencer loses her job and her relationship on the same day, she finds a bottle of vodka from her college days and goes on a bender, blacking out in the process. Only this time, she doesn't wake up at home, or in the right city. In fact, she isn't even in the right year. Alexis is back in her college town in 2002. She heads to her dorm — and comes face-to-face with her eighteen-year-old self, who goes by Lexi. They might be the same person, but they couldn't be more different from one another. Now Alexis and Lexi must come to terms with the fact that alone, they will never make things right, but together, they could change their life for the better.

ALL THE MEN I'VE LOVED AGAIN

A NOVEL

Christine Pride

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

It's 1999 and Cora Belle has arrived at college ready to grow out of the shy, sheltered girl who attended an all-white prep in her all-white suburb. What she's totally unprepared for is Lincoln, with his dark skin, southern drawl, and that smile. Just when Cora thinks she's got things figured out, a new man enters her life, Aaron, further complicating everything. Twenty years later, an unexpected reconnection puts Cora right back where she started. The same two men, the same agonizing decision. Finding herself in this position again will test everything Cora thought she knew about fate, love, and most importantly, herself.

FINDING GRACE ★

A NOVEL

Loretta Rothschild

"It's inventive, tender, heartbreaking, redemptive — and it's one of the best books I've read this year." — Jodi Picoult, #1 New York Times Bestselling Author

Honor seems to have everything: she adores her bright and beautiful daughter, Chloe, and her charming, handsome husband, Tom, even if he works one hundred hours a week. Yet Honor's longing for another baby threatens to eclipse all of it — until a shocking event changes their lives forever. Years later, Tom makes a decision that ripples through their families' lives in ways he could never have foreseen. As the consequences of that fateful choice unfold, two women's paths become irrevocably intertwined. But when old love clashes with new, who will be left standing? And what happens when your secrets come back to haunt you?

2025 LITHUB MOST ANTICIPATED BOOK
2023 WALTER SCOTT PRIZE FOR HISTORY

"A hardworking elegy for a city's devastation." — Kirkus Reviews

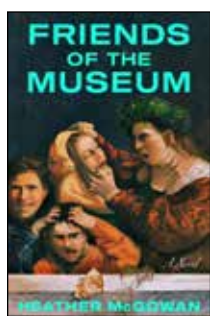

April 1941. Belfast has escaped the worst of the Second World War — so far. Over the next two months, it will be so destroyed from above that people will say, "My God, Belfast is finished." Many won't make it through, and those who do will be forever changed. Living amid the rubble are sisters Emma and Audrey. One is engaged to be married; the other is in a secret relationship with a woman. As the bombs fall, and tomorrow feels further and further away, these young women must grapple with the cultural expectations standing firm around them, and try to seize control of their destinies. After all, Emma thinks, if one is to survive, one must survive for something.

FRIENDS OF THE MUSEUM

A NOVEL

Heather McGowan

"A capacious story that pulsates with life, this will be a bold addition to literary collections." — Library Journal

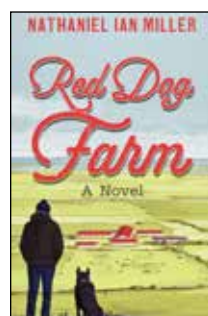

When Diane Schwebe, director of a major New York museum, is awakened by a text from the museum's lawyer, it is the start of a twenty-four-hour roller-coaster ride. Diane has sacrificed many things to help the fading institution stave off financial ruin. In this battle, she's surrounded by her stalwart supporters: her personal assistant, Chris; the museum's head of security, Shay; and its general counsel, Henry — a man whose ability to weasel his way out of a jam is matched only by his capacity to avoid learning anything from the experience. On this day of the museum's annual gala, every plate Diane has kept spinning will fall and by daybreak someone will be dead.

RED DOG FARM ★★

A NOVEL

Nathaniel Ian Miller

INDIE NEXT PICK

"Vivid moments . . . of friendships, family, and the land itself. An engaging read from start to finish." — starred, Kirkus Reviews

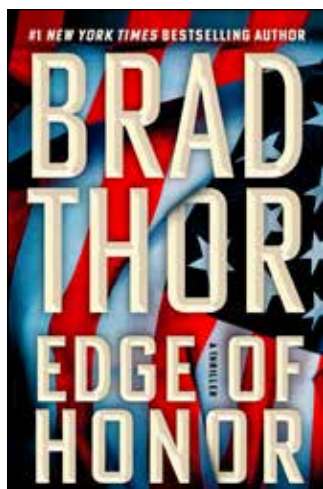

Growing up on his family's cattle farm in Iceland, young Orri has gained an appreciation for the beauty in everyday things. But the outer world still beckons, so Orri leaves his mother and his taciturn father, Pabbi, to attend university in Reykjavík. Orri, feeling adrift at the end of his first semester, comes home. For the first time, Pabbi allows Orri to help him run the farm. Despite their conflicting attitudes, Orri and Pabbi must learn to work together. Meanwhile, Orri meets a kindred spirit on the internet: Mihan, a part-time student. Over time, their connection deepens. By year's end, Orri must decide what a future with Mihan would hold, if she'll have him.

RETREAT

A NOVEL

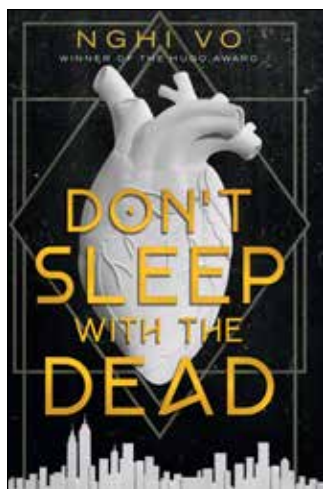

Krysten Ritter

"A must-read for fans of the popular 'rich people behaving badly' subgenre of thrillers."
— Library Journal

Liz Dawson is clever, smooth, and confident — qualities that make her a brilliant con artist. Isabelle Beresford is beautiful, wealthy, and the owner of a villa on the Mexican coast — attributes that make her the perfect mark. When she offers Liz a job handling the installation of a piece of art in her home, Liz can't resist the allure of a beach retreat. When Liz is mistaken for Isabelle, Liz can't help effortlessly slipping into the socialite's identity. As Liz insinuates herself deeper, she draws closer to the dangers surrounding the real Isabelle. Dangers that may have already ensnared Liz, too. This might not be the con of her life — but the con that ends it.

DON'T SLEEP WITH THE DEAD ★

Nghi Vo

HUGO AWARD-WINNING AUTHOR

"While familiarity with both The Chosen and the Beautiful and The Great Gatsby enriches the reading experience, . . . newcomers will have no trouble diving into Vo's lyrical exploration of identity, longing, and the price of immortality." — starred, Publishers Weekly

Nick Carraway — paper soldier and novelist — has found a life and a living watching the mad magical spectacle of New York high society in the late thirties. He's good at watching, and he's even better at pretending: pretending to be straight, pretending to be human, pretending he's forgotten the events of that summer in 1922. On the eve of the second World War, however, Nick learns that someone's been watching him pretend and that memory goes both ways. When he sees a familiar face one very dark night, it quickly becomes clear that dead or not, damned or not, Jay Gatsby isn't done with him. In all paper there is memory, and Nick's ghost has come home.

ROSE/HOUSE ★

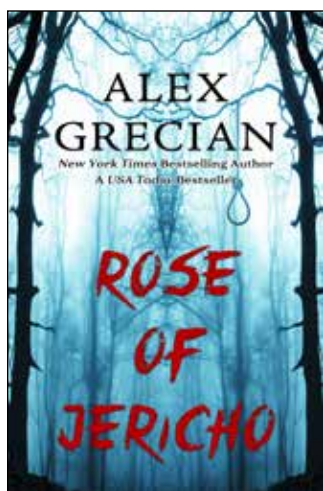

Arkady Martine

"[Martine] builds a twisted cathedral of story and fills every inch with equal parts beauty and a creeping, inescapable sense of wrongness. Readers will be floored." — starred, Publishers Weekly

All of Basit Deniau's houses were haunted. Rose House, his final architectural triumph built in the remote Mojave Desert, was perhaps the most. When Detective Maritza Smith gets a call from Rose House, she's shocked to learn there is a dead body behind its sealed-up door. But Basit died more than a year ago, and everybody knows that only his former protegee, Dr. Selene Gisil, is permitted inside. But Selene wasn't in the country when Rose House called in the death. Who is the dead body? How did they get in? And who — or what — killed them? The answers lie within Rose House. But even if Martiza can get inside, there is no guarantee she will ever be able to leave.

ROSE OF JERICHO

Alex Grecian

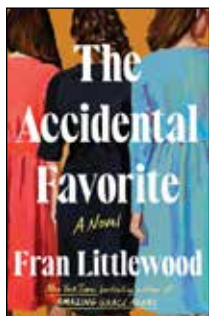

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"Grecian paints a colorful portrait of a more superstitious America where the death of Death is believable and ghosts and angels shape the outcome of the grotesque incidents that follow." — Publishers Weekly

Something wicked is going on in the village of Ascension. A mother wasting away from cancer is suddenly up and about. A boy trampled by a milk cart walks away from the accident. A hanged man can still speak, broken neck and all. The dead are not dying. When Rabbit and Sadie Grace accompany their friend Rose to Ascension to help take care of her ailing cousin, they notice that their new house is occupied by dozens of ghosts. The villagers of Ascension are unwelcoming and wary. As the three women attempt to find out what's happening in the town, they must be careful not to be found out. But a much larger — and more dangerous — force is galloping straight for them.

THE ACCIDENTAL FAVORITE

A NOVEL

Fran Littlewood

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Vivienne and Patrick Fisher have done an excellent job raising their three daughters, Alex, Nancy, and Eva. They're well-adjusted with impressive careers, caring partners, exciting hobbies, and sweet children. But when Patrick inadvertently reveals that he has a favorite daughter, no one is prepared for the shockwaves it sends through the family. Decades-old unresolved sibling rivalries are suddenly unmasked. And be it newly uncovered smoking habits, ancient crushes, or private doubts about life decisions both big and small, no one's secrets are safe. Still-tender wounds are reopened, and as the family's past is re-written, they find themselves suddenly unmoored.

A NOVEL

Olivia Wolfgang-Smith

INDIE NEXT PICK

"Wolfgang-Smith approaches historical fiction as a costume ball, affecting a fizzy, omniscient narration . . . All's queer in love and industry: a memorable tale uniquely told." — Kirkus Reviews

Vivian Lesperance is determined to flee her hometown and live a life worthy of the society pages she writes for. When she meets Oscar Schmidt, a queer middle manager at a soap company, Vivian finds a partner she can guide to build the life she wants — not least because Oscar will leave Vivian to tend to her own romances with women. But Vivian's plans require capital, so they approach Oscar's rival, Squire Clancey. Together they found Clancey & Schmidt, a manufacturer of soap, perfume, and candles. When Oscar and Squire fall in love, the trio form a new kind of partnership. But exposure threatens, and all three partners are made aware of how much they have to lose.

IT'S ONLY DROWNING

A TRUE STORY OF LEARNING TO SURF AND THE SEARCH FOR COMMON GROUND

David Litt

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"... delightful and an instant classic. David Litt has given us a coming-of-age story in the best sense—about a person, a passion, a friendship, and a moment in history. And the book is wickedly funny from beginning to end." —James Fallows, New York Times Bestselling Author

David Litt, the Yale-educated writer with a sensible fear of sharks, and Matt, the daredevil electrician with two motorcycles, had always coexisted from a comfortable distance as brothers-in-law. In 2021, David started taking surfing lessons. Once he got a sense of the ways that fully committing to surfing could change him both in the water and on land, he set his sights riding a big wave at Hawaii's North Shore. To get there, he'd need Matt's help. It's Only Drowning is a blueprint for becoming braver at a time when it takes courage just to read the news and a poignant buddy comedy.

LEARNING FROM SILENCE

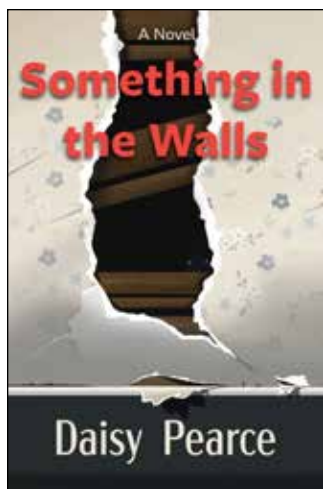

Pico Iyer

"A nice addition to the literature on the blessings of quietude. Iyer's observations about people, places, and himself are beautifully written and may offer readers some reassurance about these troubled times." — Library Journal

Pico Iyer has made more than one hundred retreats to a small Benedictine hermitage high above the sea in Big Sur, California. He's not a Christian — or a member of any religious group — but his life has been transformed by these periods of time spent in silence. In Aflame, Iyer shares the revelations he experiences and shows how solitude can be a training in community and companionship. In so doing, he offers an outsider's view of monastic life. Radiant, intimate, and gripping, Aflame offers ageless counsel about the power of silence and what it can teach us about how to live, how to love, and, ultimately, how to die.

"Between the cheeky humor . . . and the grim, psychological recasting of facts through fiction and memory . . . , Winstead's novel breathes life into stories that, the narrator hints, might be better off dead and buried." — starred, Library Journal

After the unexpected death of her father, Jane Sharp longs for a distraction from her grief. She becomes obsessed with true crime, befriending armchair detectives who teach her how to hunt killers from afar. When news of the shocking deaths of three college girls in Delphine, Idaho, takes the world by storm, the case turns out to be stranger than anyone expected. Told one year after the astounding events that concluded the case and left the world reeling, when Jane has finally decided to break her silence about what really happened, she tells the true story of the Delphine Massacres. And what she has to confess will shock even the most seasoned true crime fans.

A NOVEL

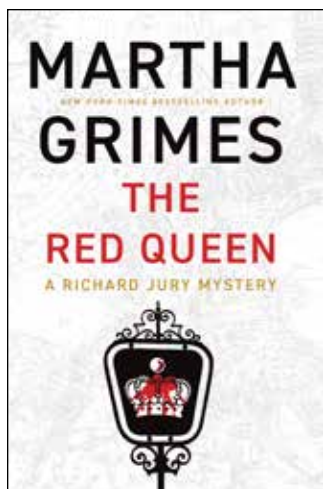

Yigit Turhan

"A solid debut to offer enthusiastically to fans of horror framed by dangerous family secrets." — Library Journal

A stranger shows up at Riccardo's apartment with some news: his grandmother Perihan has died, and Riccardo has inherited her villa in Milan. The struggling writer is out of options. He's hoping the change of scenery will inspire him, and maybe there will be some money to keep him afloat. But Perihan's house isn't as opulent as he remembers. Perihan's friends are constantly lurking. And there's something wrong in the greenhouse. As Riccardo explores the estate, he stumbles upon Perihan's diary, which might hold the key to her mysterious death. Or at least give him the inspiration he needs to finish his manuscript. But he might not survive long enough to write it.

An Inspector Rebus Novel

Ian RankinNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"The special appeal of the entry in this celebrated series is its vividly detailed portrait of the labyrinthine corridors of power in the prison, where everything is available for a price, and its unsettling connections to the corridors of power outside." — Kirkus Reviews

A convict is murdered in his cell deep in the heart of Scotland's most infamous prison. Sleeping in a cell across the floor lies John Rebus, the equally notorious detective. Stripped of his badge and estranged from his police family, he is now fighting for his own life. As new allies and old enemies circle, even this legendary figure struggles to keep his head. They say old habits die hard, though. The death stirs Rebus's deductive impulses, setting off a chain of scheming criminals, corrupt prison guards, and perhaps only one or two good souls who may see it all through. But how do you find a killer in a place full of them?

"This has charm to spare."
— Publishers Weekly

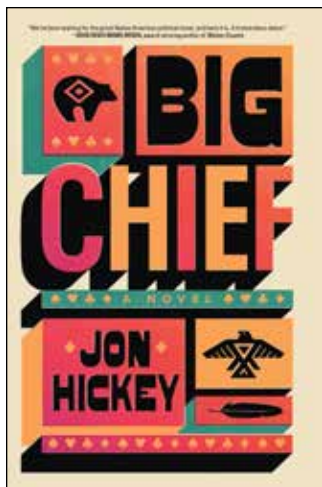

When her job as a servant in a landowner's house results in an unplanned pregnancy, Kizzie McAdams' world tips into uncertainty and heartbreak. Disowned by her father, she finds acceptance in the home of a nearby family. But her status as a social outcast brings with it continued threats and alienation, so she flees in hopes of starting over in a nearby town. Her new world brings the unexpected friendship of businessman Noah Lewis, who lives with the same desire as Kizzie for helping the marginalized. Is Kizzie and Noah's growing romance strong enough to battle Kizzie's past? And when Kizzie's first love returns to claim her, which future will she choose?

BIG CHIEF ★

A NOVEL

Jon Hickey*"A big-minded book about small-town politics." — starred, Kirkus Reviews*

Mitch Caddo, a law school graduate and aspiring political fixer, is an outsider in the homeland of his Anishinaabe ancestors. But alongside Tribal President Mack Beck, he runs the government of the Passage Rouge Nation. On the eve of Mack's reelection, their tenuous grip on power is threatened by a known activist and politician, Gloria Hawkins, and her young aide, Layla Beck. The campaigns test the limits of how far they will go — and what they will sacrifice — to win it all. As relationships strain to their breaking points and a peaceful protest threatens to become a riot, Mitch and Layla must work together to stop the reservation's descent into violence.

From her cell in a mysterious convent, a lower member of the Sacred Sisterhood dreams of ascending to the ranks of the Enlightened. Outside, cities are submerged underwater, electricity and the internet are nonexistent, and survivors fight and forage in a cruel, barren landscape. A stranger makes her way past the convent walls, and as the two women grow closer, the narrator is increasingly haunted by questions about her own past, the environmental future, and her present life inside the convent. How did she get to the Sacred Sisterhood? Why can't she remember her life before? And what really happens when a woman is chosen as one of the Enlightened?

In 2011, Eunju Oh opens her door to greet a young Korean American woman holding a familiar-looking knife — a knife Eunju hasn't seen in thirty years and that connects her to a place she'd hoped to leave behind. In South Korea in the 1980s, young Eunju and her mother are homeless. They're sent to live in a state-sanctioned reformatory center that claims to rehabilitate the nation's citizens but hides a more violent reality. While Eunju and her mother form a tight-knit community with the other women, two brothers, Sangchul and Youngchul, make increasingly desperate decisions — and all are forced down a path of survival, the repercussions of which will echo for decades.

LAST WOOL AND TESTAMENT

A Knit & Nibble Mystery

Peggy Ehrhart

Fiber artist Ingrid Barrick has just been found dead in her ransacked house, but the fact that she'd seemed a bit troubled lately — and had been obsessively doodling pictures of bees — has the Knit and Nibblers wondering if this was really a burglary gone bad like the police think. As they chat with a local beekeeper, learn more about Ingrid's knitwear-designer ex, and look into a suddenly cancelled tapestry exhibit, Pamela and Bettina are intrigued to find more nature-themed sketches by Ingrid. The question is which of these many threads will lead to the truth about her unnatural death.

For the past two decades, Rocky has looked forward to her family's yearly escape to Cape Cod. Their beach-town rental has been the site of sweet memories, sunny days, great meals, and messes of all kinds: emotional, marital, and — thanks to the ancient plumbing — septic. This year's vacation, with Rocky sandwiched between her half-grown kids and aging parents, promises to be just as delightful. And then a chain of events sends Rocky into the past, reliving both the tenderness and sorrow of long-ago summers. And when Rocky comes face to face with her family's history and future, she is forced to accept that she can no longer hide her secrets from the people she loves.

CLINT

THE MAN AND THE MOVIES

Shawn LevyNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

C-L-I-N-T. In one short, sharp syllable, an emblem of American manhood and morality and sheer bloody-minded will, on screen and off, for more than sixty years.

Whether he's facing down bad guys on a western street (Old West or new, no matter); staring through the lens of a camera; or accepting one of his thirteen Oscars (including two for Best Picture); he is as blunt, curt, and solid as his name, a star of the old school stripe and one of the most accomplished directors of his time, a man of rock and iron and brute force: Clint. To tell the story of Clint Eastwood is to tell the story of nearly a century of American culture. No Hollywood figure has so completely and complexly stood inside the changing climates of post-World War II America. At age ninety-five, he has lived a tumultuous century and embodied much of his time and many of its contradictions.

THE LISTENERS

A NOVEL

Maggie StiefvaterNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

In The Listeners, Brian Hochman shows how the wiretap evolved from a specialized intelligence-gathering tool to a mundane fact of life. He explores the origins of wiretapping in military campaigns and criminal confidence games and tracks the use of telephone taps in the US government's wars on alcohol, communism, terrorism, and crime. While high-profile eavesdropping scandals fueled public debates about national security, crime control, and the rights and liberties of individuals, wiretapping became a routine surveillance tactic for private businesses and police agencies alike.

WAYWARD GIRLS

A NOVEL

Susan WiggsNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

In 1968 we meet six teens confined at the Good Shepherd — a dark and secretive institution controlled by Sisters of Charity nuns — locked away merely for being gay, pregnant, or simply unruly. Mairin: free-spirited daughter of Irish immigrants, committed to keep her safe from her stepfather. Angela: denounced for her attraction to girls, sent to the nuns for reform, but instead found herself the victim of a predator. Helen: the daughter of intellectuals detained in Communist China. Odessa: caught up in a police dragnet over a racial incident, she found the physical and mental toughness to endure her sentence. Denise: sentenced for brawling in a foster home, she dared to dream of a better life. Janice: deeply insecure, she couldn't decide where her loyalty lay, except when it came to her friend Kay, who would never outgrow her childlike dependency. Sister Bernadette: rescued from a dreadful childhood, she owed her loyalty to the Sisters of Charity.

ATMOSPHERE

A LOVE STORY

Taylor Jenkins ReidNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Joan Goodwin has been obsessed with the stars for as long as she can remember. Thoughtful and reserved, Joan is content with her life as a professor of physics and astronomy at Rice University and as aunt to her precocious niece, Frances. That is, until she comes across an advertisement seeking the first women scientists to join NASA's space shuttle program. Suddenly, Joan burns to be one of the few people to go to space. Selected from a pool of thousands of applicants in the summer of 1980, Joan begins training at Houston's Johnson Space Center, alongside an exceptional group of fellow candidates. As the new astronauts become unlikely friends and prepare for their first flights, Joan finds a passion and a love she never imagined. Then, in December of 1984, on mission STS-LR9, it all changes in an instant.

EL DORADO DRIVE*Megan Abbott*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

All I want is to be innocent again. But that's not how it works. Especially not after the Wheel. The three Bishop sisters grew up in privilege in the moneyed suburbs of Detroit. But as the auto industry declined, so did their fortunes. Harper, the youngest, is barely making ends meet when her beloved, charismatic sister Pam — currently in the middle of a contentious battle with her ex-husband — and her eldest sister, Debra, approach her about joining an exciting new club. The Wheel offers women like themselves — middle-aged and of declining means — a way to make their own money, independent of husbands or families. Quickly, however, the Wheel's success, and their own addiction to it, leads to greater and greater risks, and a crime so shocking it threatens to bring everything down with it.

THE FROZEN PEOPLE*A MYSTERY*Elly Griffiths*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Ali Dawson and her cold case team investigate crimes so old, they're frozen — or so their inside joke goes. Nobody knows that her team has a secret: they can travel back in time to look for evidence. The latest assignment sees Ali venture back farther than they have dared before: to 1850s London to clear the name of Cain Templeton, an eccentric patron of the arts. Rumor has it that Cain is part of a sinister group called The Collectors. Ali arrives in the Victorian era to another dead woman at her feet and far too many unanswered questions. As the clock counts down, Ali becomes more entangled in the mystery, yet danger lurks around every corner. She soon finds herself trapped, unable to make her way back to her beloved son, Finn, who is battling his own accusations in the present day. Could the two cases be connected? In a race through and against time, Ali must find out before it's too late.

THE UNRAVELING OF JULIA*Lisa Scottoline*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Julia Pritzker has lost her adoptive parents, then her husband is murdered. When she realizes that her horoscope essentially foretold his death, she begins to spiral. A letter arrives out of the blue, informing her that she has inherited a Tuscan villa and vineyard; her benefactor is a total stranger named Emilia Rossi. Julia has no information about her biological family, so she wonders if Rossi could be a blood relative. She heads to Tuscany for answers. Julia is horrified to discover that Rossi was a paranoid recluse with delusions of grandeur, who believed herself to be a descendent of Duchess Caterina Sforza, a legendary Renaissance ruler. Julia is stunned by her uncanny resemblance to Rossi, and to Caterina. When events turn deadly, she breaks with reality. Julia's harrowing struggle becomes a search for her identity, a race to save her sanity, and ultimately, a question of her very survival.

A MOTHER'S LOVE

A NOVEL

Danielle SteelNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Raising twins Valerie and Olivia is bestselling author Halley Holbrook's proudest accomplishment. Halley has given them the loving and safe home she never had, having survived a childhood so traumatic she's never talked about it with her girls. Long ago, Halley decided to live in the sunlight of the present, not the dark shadows of the past. After Valerie moves to Los Angeles with her producer husband, and Olivia follows to remain close to her sister, Halley is empty-nesting in her Fifth Avenue apartment. Facing her first holiday alone in years, she books a trip to Paris. On the flight over, she meets charming Bart Warner, and the two become fast friends. Halley hasn't dated since her partner died three years ago, yet she begins to feel more like herself. But when a cunning thief makes off with her handbag and then begins to harass her, it reawakens old ghosts from her past. Vowing not to be a victim, and with Bart's help, she chooses a bold course of action.

THE LIST

A NOVEL OF SUSPENSE

Steve BerryNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

After a ten-year self-imposed exile, Brent Walker is returning home to Concord, a quaint town in central Georgia nestled close to the Savannah River. Two years ago, his father died, and now Brent, hired by Southern Republic Pulp and Paper Company as its assistant general counsel, is returning to care for his ailing mother. For decades, Southern Republic has invested heavily in Concord, creating a thriving community where its employees live, work, and retire. But the genteel sheen of this quiet town is deceiving, and when a list of cryptic code surfaces, Brent starts to see the cracks. Southern Republic's success is based largely on a highly unorthodox and deadly system to control costs, known only to the three owners of the company. Now, one of them, Christopher Bozin, has had a change of heart.

WRITERS AND LIARS

A NOVEL

Carol GoodmanNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Fifteen years ago, Maia Gold attended a prestigious — and very exclusive — writers retreat hosted by billionaire Argos Alexander on the Greek island of Eris. It's where she wrote her first book, the one that should have launched a brilliant career. But something dark happened on that island. Now, Maia finds a familiar envelope in the mail. It's an invitation to return to Eris, and according to social media, she's not the only one from that first retreat who's been invited back. This could be the second chance Maia needs to jump-start her dreams. Almost all of the writers from fifteen years before have returned to Eris. Soon, the guests learn that their illustrious host has left instructions for them to participate in a contest: whoever can write the most suspenseful mystery while on the island will win a fortune and literary acclaim. But this is no harmless game — when the guests gather in the morning to share their first chapters, they find Argos Alexander, dead.

THE LOVE FIX

A NOVEL

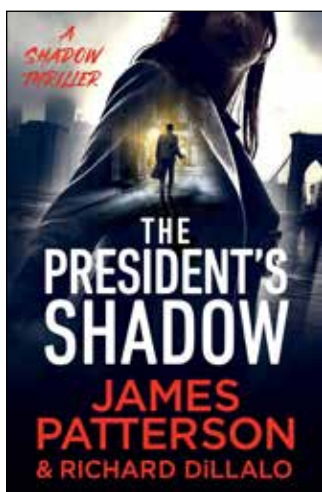

The Sunrise Cove • Book 8

Jill ShalvisNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Lexi Clark's life is falling apart around her, so when she's summoned home to Sunrise Cove, the last thing she wants to do is face all the complications she left behind. Her past, her stepsister Ashley, and her infuriatingly gorgeous childhood nemesis-turned-crush Heath Bowman. She's an overachieving art appraiser who doesn't believe in trust, love, or Happily Ever Afters. Free spirit Ashley, on the other hand, is so full of life it hurts to look at her. But Lexi can't refuse Ashley's plea to honor their late mother's final wish to make amends with the people she'd wronged. So, on behalf of her estranged mother's estate, and with Heath in tow as the executor, Lexi embarks on a road trip to repay all the people her gambling addicted mother owed money to. Complicating everything are the feelings that well up for Lexi: for her mom, for Ashley, and most of all, for Heath. The road trip shenanigans that ensue are both funny and heartbreaking, but Lexi finds something shocking along the way. Acceptance. Family. And unbelievably, love.

SLOW BURN SUMMER

A NOVEL

Josie SilverNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Talent agent Charlie Francisco has three problems: a divorce that ended his screenwriting career, a business he never planned to inherit, and a romance novel whose author wants nothing to do with its publication. The book is a surefire hit, if only his agency can find someone to "play" author on its summer book tour. Enter Kate Elliott, a former soap actress who's right for the part at the very moment her life seems to be going all wrong. Kate is recovering from her own divorce and Charlie's job offer is a lifeline. She agrees to the pretense for all interviews, signings, and appearances surrounding the novel's publication. When Kate and Charlie meet they're all friction and sparks. The one thing they have in common is they're determined to play their respective parts. But as the summer heat ups and the lies get bigger and bigger, can they stick to their lines, or will they go off-script?
