MY BELOVED

A MITFORD NOVEL

Jan Karon

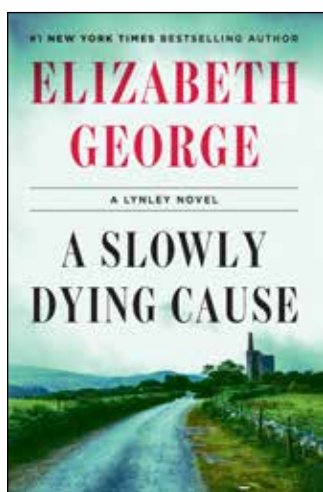

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

EDITOR'S CHOICE 1

When Father Tim's wife, Cynthia, asks what he wants for Christmas, he pens the answer in a love letter that bares his most private feelings. Then the letter goes missing and circulates among his astonished neighbors. So much for private. Can a letter change a life? Ask Helene, the piano teacher who has avoided her feelings for a lifetime. Ask Hope, the village bookseller who desperately needs something that's impossibly out of reach. Or, if you'd like to know how a brush with death can be the portal to a happy marriage, Cynthia will tell you all about it.

A SLOWLY DYING CAUSE

A LYNLEY NOVEL

Elizabeth George

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

EDITOR'S CHOICE 3

Michael Lobb has just been found dead on the floor of his family's tin and pewter workshop. It's suspicious enough that his body was found by a representative of a company keen on acquiring his family's land, and it's made even worse when he's revealed to have been the sole obstacle preventing a deal. But Inspector Beatrice Hannaford unearths layers of estrangement that point suspicions elsewhere. Detective Inspector Thomas Lynley and Detective Sergeant Barbara Havers are brought in to help solve the crime and search for justice in a community where lust, greed, and family traditions collide with devastating consequences.

THE IRISH GOODBYE

A NOVEL

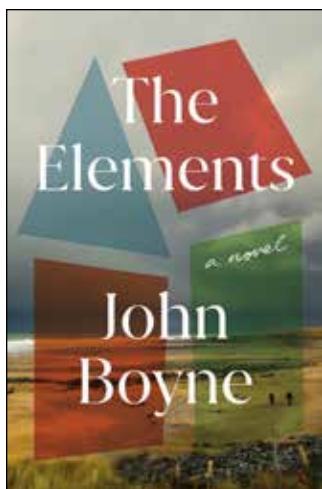

Heather Aimee O'Neill

PUBLISHER'S SHOWCASE

It's been years since the Ryan sisters were all together at their family home on Long Island. Two decades ago, their lives were upended by an accident on their brother Topher's boat. Now the Ryan women are back for Thanksgiving, each carrying a heavy secret. Cait still holds guilt for the role no one knows she played in the accident. Alice faces a decision that may doom her marriage. And Maggie is finally taking the risk of bringing the woman she loves home to meet her devoutly Catholic mother. When old tensions boil over and new truths surface, far more than a family holiday will be ruined unless the sisters can find a way to forgive themselves — and one another.

THE ELEMENTS ★

A NOVEL

John Boyne

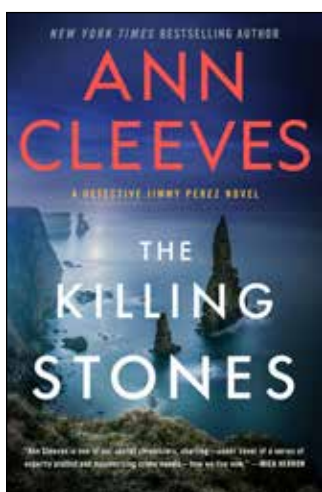

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

PUBLISHER'S SHOWCASE

In The Elements, acclaimed Irish novelist John Boyne has created an epic saga that weaves together four interconnected narratives, each representing a different perspective on crime: the enabler, the accomplice, the perpetrator, and the victim. The narrative follows a mother on the run from her past, a young soccer star facing a trial, a successful surgeon grappling with childhood trauma, and a father on a transformative journey with his son. Each is somehow connected to the next, and as the story unfolds, their lives intersect in unimaginable ways.

THE KILLING STONES

A DETECTIVE JIMMY PEREZ NOVEL

Jimmy Perez and Willow Reeves • Book 1

Ann Cleeves

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

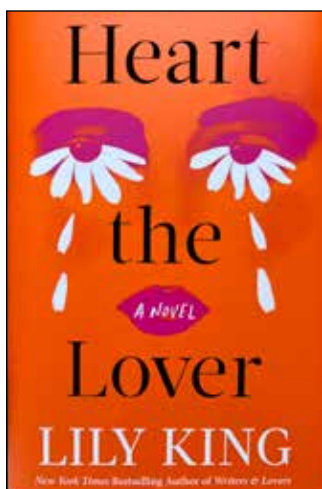

EDITOR'S CHOICE 7

"Cleeves excels at drawing a picture of the landscapes, communities, and the characters who live in them. Readers will welcome the return of Jimmy and Willow and be thrilled with the new setting."
— Library Journal

Detective Jimmy Perez has settled into his new home off the northern coast of Scotland, with his partner Willow Reeves and their growing family. One night, his oldest and closest friend, Archie Stout, goes missing. Perez catches a boat to the island of Westray, where Archie worked as a farmer. But when he arrives he finds Archie's body on an archaeological dig site. Rumors swirl about the dead man's relationship with a young woman new to the island. With each new lead, the case becomes more twisted and Perez wonders if he will ever find out what happened in his friend's final days.

HEART THE LOVER ★★Lily King

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

In the fall of her senior year of college, our narrator meets two star students from her 17th-Century Lit class: Sam and Yash. Best friends living off campus, the boys invite her into their world of academic fervor, rapid-fire banter, and raucous card games. They nickname her Jordan, and she quickly discovers the pleasures of friendship, love, and her own intellectual ambition. But soon she finds herself at the center of a charged and intricate triangle. Decades later, when a surprise visit and unexpected news brings the past crashing into the present, Jordan returns to a world she left behind and must confront the decisions and deceptions of her younger self.

ROOM ON THE SEA ★★ ★

THREE NOVELLAS

André Aciman

"Count on Aciman for stories filled with love, lust, loss, and not a small measure of regret. These beguiling novellas offer up all of that in spades." — starred, Library Journal

The short fictions in Room on the Sea deal with the heart-wrenching vicissitudes of amorous ambivalence, in André Aciman's inimitably nostalgic, lyric style. "The Gentleman from Peru" tells the story of the life-changing encounter of a group of friends with an enigmatic solitary guest in a hotel on the Amalfi Coast. "Room on the Sea" is a dialogue between a man and a woman who meet on jury duty and embark on a complex relationship. "Mariana" is a modern retelling of a famous seventeenth-century novel about a love affair between a nun and a swashbuckling, unreliable aristocrat.

THE COVER GIRL

A NOVEL

Amy Rossi

"Alluring . . . The book rides the razor's edge of dramatic irony. Readers will root for Rossi's searching protagonist as she finds her strength." — Publishers Weekly

Birdie Rhodes was only thirteen when modeling agent Harriet Goldman transformed her into one of Harriet's Girls. What followed felt like a chance for shy Birdie to express herself in front of the camera. But two years later, she meets a thirty-one-year-old rock star, and her teenage heart falls hard as he leads her into a new life. Then, as abruptly as it began, it's over. Decades later, Birdie lives a quiet life. Then a letter arrives, inviting Birdie to celebrate Harriet's fifty-year career. Birdie can only make her own future if she reckons with her past — the fame, the trauma, the opportunities she gave up. But the truth waits for nobody. Not even Birdie Rhodes.

INDIE NEXT PICK

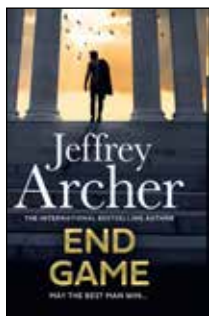

#1 JULY 2025 LIBRARY READS PICK

"An entertaining cozy fantasy . . . The detail-rich setting and fun characters will have readers dreaming of enchanting flowers and honey cake." — Library Journal

Terlu Perna broke the law. She cast a spell and created a magically sentient spider plant. As punishment, she was turned into a wooden statue. One day, Terlu wakes on a nearly deserted island full of hundreds of magical greenhouses. The only other human on the island is a grumpy gardener. As she grows closer with the gardener, Yarrow, she learns that the magic that sustains the greenhouses is failing, causing the death of everything within them. Terlu knows she must help, even if that means breaking the law again. Assisted by Yarrow, Terlu must unravel the secrets of a long-dead sorcerer if she wants to save the island and have a fresh chance at happiness and love.

WE LOVE YOU, BUNNY ★★

A NOVEL

Mona Awad

"[Awad's] command of acerbic wit and satiric plotlines, talent for characterization, and sharp metacriticism of creative writing programs make her story sing in the way only bleeding tongues, broken hearts, and battle axes can." — starred, Library Journal

Samantha Heather Mackey has just published her first novel to critical acclaim. But at a New England stop on her book tour, her one-time frenemies, furious at the way they've been portrayed, kidnap her. Now a captive audience, it's her turn to hear the Bunnies' side of the story. One by one, they recount the birth throes of their unholy alliance, their discovery of their unusual powers — and the adventure of conjuring their first creation. With a bound and gagged Sam, we embark on a wickedly intoxicating journey into a fairy tale slasher that explores the wonder and horror of creation itself. Not to mention the transformative powers of love and friendship, Bunny.

UNTIL ALISON

A NOVEL

Kate Russo

"[An] earnest meditation on teen angst and adult regret . . . Russo's elegiac novel offers moving considerations of forgiveness and the often thorny nature of female friendship." — Publishers Weekly

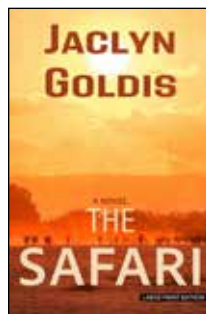

When Rachel Nardelli finds out Alison Petrucci was found dead in Pleasant Pond, the same place the two girls had said goodbye to each other back in eighth grade, the town of Waterbury is outraged by the fear of losing the heir to Maine's largest construction company. But it's a little more complicated for Rachel. She saw Alison the night she died. Callous, she said something she shouldn't have. She stirred up the past. The next morning, Alison was gone. Plagued by the complicated memories around Alison, Rachel joins her journalism crew to investigate the murder, but she falls into a web of cruelties that threaten to undo everything she understood about her past.

THE SAFARI ★

A NOVEL

Jaclyn Goldis

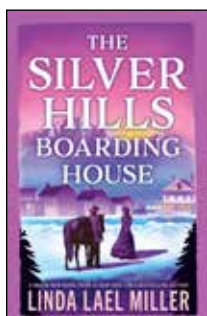

"Goldis once again deftly tips her literary cap to the Queen of Crime, Agatha Christie, in another cleverly constructed puzzler that brings all the delights of classic Golden Age mysteries into the 21st century." — starred, Library Journal

Odelia Babel, CEO of a fashion empire, is about to marry a man twenty-five years her junior. Eager to celebrate her nuptials, Odelia invites her adult children, her daughter-in-law, her grandchild, and her best friend/assistant to a luxury safari at Leopard Sands in South Africa. But tensions among the family threaten to boil over. And then, the morning after a big fight with her son Sam, Odelia is found murdered. Sam claims he was with his twin sister, Bailey. Only Bailey is nowhere to be found. As the heat roils and dark motives fester, it becomes clear that whoever killed Odelia isn't quite finished yet, and the rest of the Babel family is their prey.

A Coffeehouse Mystery

Cleo Coyle

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"An interesting puzzle infused with Big Apple attitude." — Kirkus Reviews

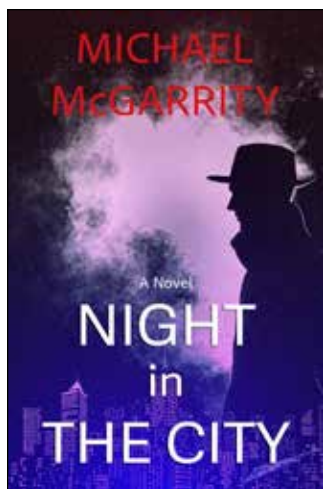

As much as master roaster Clare Cosi adores coffee, the landmark shop she manages won't survive if she doesn't sell enough of it. So when the Village Blend's customer traffic grinds to a halt, she turns to her staff for creative ideas, and the Writer's Block Lounge is born. Soon the Village Blend tables are filled with aspiring novelists, playwrights, and poets. Clare admires the stamina of these scribes, many of them toiling at night jobs while penning projects during the day. Then one of their fictions turns fatal. Unless Clare can uncover a killer, she fears more of these weary writers may be marked for eternal rest.

Sam Monroe thought his love affair with Manhattan socialite Laura Nielson was dead and buried, but when she didn't show up after unexpectedly calling him and asking to meet, he decides to investigate. He finds her on her penthouse balcony, strangled. Sam begins a search for the killer that reveals Laura's involvement with several men, some with ties to a well-known crime family. Forced to operate in the shadows, he relies on the help of a private investigator. As they probe Laura's past looking for clues, they must also figure out Laura's mysterious trip out west, the death of a young man in New Jersey during her childhood, and who is making attempts on his life.

MURDER, SHE WROTE

SNOWY WITH A CHANCE OF MURDER

A Murder, She Wrote Mystery

Jessica Fletcher & Barbara Early

USA TODAY BESTSELLER

Jessica Fletcher finds herself distracted by a new neighbor moving in across the street. Soon after unpacking, Mr. Rymer is out in the front yard, building risqué snow sculptures. While Cabot Cove debates whether the sculptures are a form of art or a public display of lewdness, someone starts destroying them at night. No need to get the police involved over a little snow, Rymer says. Especially when there's a blizzard in the forecast. The morning after, Jessica sees the body of Mr. Rymer in the snow. Can Jessica catch a cold-blooded killer?

"[A] suspenseful debut with interesting characters and narrative twists." — Library Journal

Today is Sophie Matthews's sixteenth birthday party, an exclusive black-tie bash. Sophie's dad has spared no expense, and his cliffside mansion — once thought haunted and shuttered for years — is hosting the event. Then, just before the candles on the three-tiered red velvet cake are blown out, a body falls from the balcony onto the dance floor below. It's a killer guest list . . . Dani: Sophie's new stepmother who's plagued by self-doubt. Órlaith: the nanny who senses danger. Mikayla: the best friend who is not nearly as meek as the popular kids assume. Kim: the ex-wife who has a grudge she can't let go of. Everyone is invited in. Not everyone will get out alive.

A NOVEL

Matt Goldman

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Showrunner Ethan Harris had a hit with The Murder Show, a television crime drama. But after his pitch for the fourth season is rejected, he returns home to Minnesota looking for inspiration. His former classmate Ro Greeman is now a local police officer, and she's uncovered new information about the hit and run that killed their friend Ricky the summer after high school. She asks Ethan to help her investigate and thinks that if he portrays the killing on The Murder Show, the publicity may bring Ricky's killer to justice. But someone is dead set on stopping Ethan and Ro from looking too closely into Ricky's death — even if keeping them quiet means killing again.

BACKSTAGE
STORIES OF A WRITING LIFE
Donna Leon

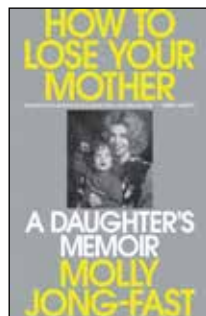

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"A delightful miscellany of musings on work and pleasure." — Kirkus Reviews

In Backstage, Donna Leon chronicles the amount of research she undertakes to be able to present authentically, through Guido Brunetti and his colleagues, places and characters far from her own experience — from interviewing a diamond dealer in Venice to open up the world of blood diamonds, to meeting, through back channels, a courageous sex worker and women's rights activist to depict accurately the trafficking of women in Italy. Throughout, she is as good a storyteller about herself as she is a chronicler of Guido Brunetti's crime adventures. Readers will be as caught up in her world as she is in his.

THE GUNFIGHTERS ★
HOW TEXAS MADE THE WEST WILD
Bryan Burrough

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

"A fascinating work of history that challenges readers to reconsider the role of the West's legendary gunfighters in shaping the identity of the United States."

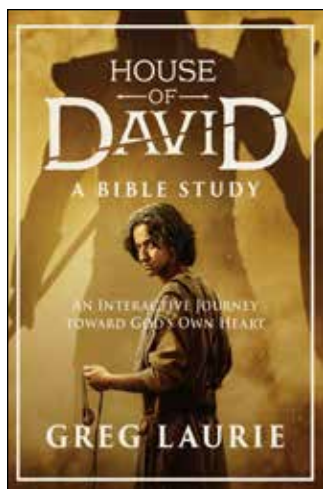

— starred, Library Journal

For three decades at the end of the 1800s, a big swath of the American West was a crucible of change, with the highest murder rate per capita in American history. The reasons behind this boil down to one word: Texas. Texas was born in violence, on two fronts, with Mexico to the south and the Comanche to the north. The collapse of the Confederacy and the presence of a thin veneer of Northern occupiers turned the heat up further. The Gunfighters brilliantly sifts the lies from the truth, giving both elements their due. To understand the truth of the Wild West is to understand a crucial dimension of the American story.

But an upcoming trip to Scotland — and the prospect of becoming reacquainted with Callum Henshall — blows a flurry of doubts into her mind. Sarah had discouraged his attentions before yet soon finds herself torn between attraction and duty. Meanwhile, seventeen-year-old Georgiana anticipates the exciting Christmas of her dreams. She enjoys all the promised parties, music, and dancing, but is taken by surprise when love comes knocking. Does the festive romance of a Sea View Christmas hold the key to a happily-ever-after for both sisters?

THE AMISH BALLERINA

Richelle Brunstetter with Wanda E. Brunstetter

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

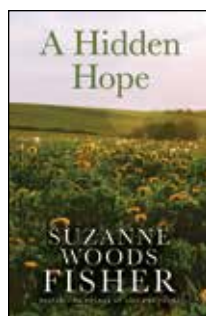

Eighteen-year-old Arie Kauffman loves to twirl and leap around the barn in her Amish bonnet and dress, practicing ballet moves her English friend taught her. Her parents would be upset to learn that this longtime interest has progressed to her secretly attending ballet classes. Arie even hides her dance skills from her boyfriend, Edwin Chupp, who often invites her to try new things, knowing she has an artistic heart. Her secrecy, however, is causing damage she may not be able to repair. When offered new opportunities to dance, will Arie break from Amish tradition or hold true to the bonds of her faith and family?

SOUTHERN BY DESIGN

A NOVEL

Grace Helena Walz

"With plenty of southern charm and juicy family drama, a second-chance romance with her lost, teenage love, and a mystery surrounding the identity of Mack's father, this appealing novel sits nicely alongside other southern fiction focused on women's lives." — Booklist

Magnolia "Mack" Bishop is determined to secure Charleston's prestigious Historic Preservation Design Fellowship, the apple of every local designer's eye. But when the final house tour is undone by a host of calamities, Mack's shot at the fellowship goes up in flames. Just when Mack finds her professional footing, she spots a familiar figure unloading his moving truck into the newly sold house next door. She is furious, floored, and regrettably flustered because Lincoln Kelly is the one who got away. Fifteen years earlier he was a summer romance she inadvertently fell in love with, and when he left, following his dreams to New York, Mack was broken-hearted.

— starred, Publishers Weekly

Oscar Stone is a craftsman unlike any other — his art lies in the gallows, where he ensures death is swift and precise. But as the bodies mount, so do the questions about justice, humanity, and the price of a life spent wielding death. When a shadow from his past resurfaces, Stone is forced to confront the truth about himself — and the cost of a life spent in the service of death. Set against the gritty backdrop of frontier law and vengeance, Stone's story is one of profound complexity, where morality and duty clash.

SHARP FORCE

A SCARPETTA NOVEL

Patricia CornwellNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

During the early hours of Christmas morning, chief medical examiner Dr. Kay Scarpetta receives a chilling call. The Phantom Slasher has struck again. The serial killer has terrorized Northern Virginia for months. His pattern is to stalk with a sophisticated technology that enables him to invade his victims' homes and watch their every move. They wake up to a ghost-like hologram before being murdered in their beds. Scarpetta is summoned to Mercy Island, the site of a notorious psychiatric hospital where two people have been brutalized, one of them from Scarpetta's past. It soon becomes apparent that she could be next.

THE PORTRAIT

A NOVEL

Danielle SteelNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Devon Darcy's reputation precedes her. As a highly sought-after portrait artist, she seems to have the ability to peer into the souls of her subjects and then capture them on canvas. But the world doesn't know about the devastating losses she has endured. When entrepreneur Charles Mackenzie Taylor sees her at a New York gallery event, he is instantly haunted by her beauty and her talent. Charlie has given up on love. But Devon awakens something in him across that crowded gallery, and she is in turn intrigued by Charlie. He approaches her to paint his portrait. When they encounter each other over the summer in the Hamptons, their connection deepens but Charlie wrestles with his fear of real intimacy for the first time in his life, while Devon struggles with her fear of abandonment.

A BRADY NOVEL OF SUSPENSE

Joanna Brady Mysteries

J. A. JanceNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Sheriff Joanna Brady is looking forward to the holidays with her busy family, and to celebrating her daughter Jenny's graduation from the police academy. But the family is interrupted when a body is discovered beneath a flooded bridge in the Arizona desert, and Joanna is called onto the case. A young boy was murdered, and the details of the crime scene tell Joanna two things: This was not the killer's first murder. And it's only a matter of time before he kills again. Joanna uncovers unlikely connections between cases of mysterious deaths and missing persons, having long since gone cold, that extend far beyond the confines of her small town and include the discovery of a body near Devil's Lake, North Dakota. To get justice for the victims and to save the town of Bisbee from a predator, Joanna must chase down every dangerous lead.

A FERRY MERRY CHRISTMAS

A NOVEL

Debbie MacomberNEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Avery and Reed Bond have always shared a close-knit relationship. Even so, Avery finds herself exasperated by her brother's matchmaking, while Reed can't resist teasing his sister.

Following the recent passing of their beloved Gram, Reed and Avery decide to honor her memory by spending Christmas together. However, their holiday plans take an unexpected turn when a mechanical failure strands Avery on the ferry in the middle of the Puget Sound and Reed waiting for her arrival. At first, the inconvenience seems to halt the festivities, but soon, Avery and Reed discover that this unforeseen detour might just be a blessing in disguise. While stuck on the ferry, Avery meets a handsome sailor and witnesses a Christmas miracle, while Reed runs into a coworker, sparking an unexpected and delightful connection.

WHAT WE CAN KNOW

A NOVEL

Ian McEwan

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

2014: At a dinner for close friends and colleagues, renowned poet Francis Blundy honors his wife's birthday by reading aloud a new poem dedicated to her. Little does anyone gathered around the candlelit table know that for generations to come people will speculate about the message of this poem. 2119: Just over one hundred years in the future, much of the western world has been submerged by rising seas following a catastrophic nuclear accident. In the waterlogged south of what used to be England, Thomas Metcalfe, a lonely scholar and researcher, longs for the early twenty-first century as he chases the ghost of one poem. When he stumbles across a clue that may lead to the elusive poem's discovery, a story is revealed of entangled loves and a brutal crime that destroy his assumptions about people he thought he knew intimately well.

SOFTLY, AS I LEAVE YOU

LIFE AFTER ELVIS-A MEMOIR

Priscilla Beaulieu Presley

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Priscilla Presley's divorce from Elvis left his fans incredulous. How could she leave the man every woman wanted? From the outside, life in Elvis's mansion looked glamorous and enviable, and in many respects, it was. But inside the mansion, her husband was constantly surrounded by a male entourage while at the gates, lines of beautiful women waited hopefully for an audience with the King. From the time she was seventeen years-old, that life was all Priscilla had known. During her ten years with Elvis, it became painfully apparent that she had no idea who she was outside Elvis's world. The only way to find herself was to leave that world and seek a new life of her own, because leaving was the only way to survive, for herself and for her daughter.

WRITING CREATIVITY AND SOUL*Sue Monk Kidd*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

In Writing Creativity and Soul, Sue Monk Kidd pulls from her own life and the lives of other writers — Virginia Woolf, Maya Angelou, Harper Lee, and many others — to provide a map for anyone who has ever felt lost as a writer. At the heart of this book is the unwavering belief that writing is a spiritual act, one that draws inspiration from the soul, that wellspring of creativity between imagination and feeling. Once you tap into that part of yourself, said Maya Angelou, there are only three more things you need as a writer: something to say, the ability to say it, and, perhaps most difficult of all, the courage to say it.

THE SECRET CHRISTMAS
LIBRARY*A NOVEL*Jenny Colgan*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Mirren Sutherland stumbled into a career as an antiquarian book hunter after finding a priceless antique book in her great aunt's attic. Now, as Christmas approaches, she's been hired by Jamie McPherson, the surprisingly young and handsome laird of a Highland clan whose ancestral holdings include a vast crumbling castle. On the train to the Highlands, Mirren runs into rival book hunter Theo Palliser. Almost as soon as Mirren and Theo arrive at the castle, a deep snow blankets the Highlands. Stuck inside, the three of them plot their search as the wind whistles outside. Mirren knows that Jamie's grandfather, the castle's most recent laird, had been a book collector, a hoarder, and a great lover of treasure hunts. Now they must unpuzzle his clues, discovering the secrets of the house — forming and breaking alliances in a race against time.

FAMOUS*A NOVEL*Blake Crouch*NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR

Meet Lance. Thirty-eight years old. Works a meaningless job. Still lives above his parents' garage. By all accounts, a world-class loser. Save for one glaring exception: He has a million-dollar face. Lance has been mistaken eighty-seven times for the Oscar-winning movie star James Jansen, and for the last ten years, he's saved his money and studied Jansen's films, his moves, his idiosyncrasies — even the way he speaks. Now, after an unceremonious termination from his job, Lance has decided that the time has come to go after his dream of truly becoming Jansen. Lance embarks on a journey toward becoming James Jansen that will take him closer to the star than even he had dreamed — and to darker lengths than he could've possibly imagined.
