Independent Reading!

See pages 53 and 54 of this packet.

Use the questions/ prompts on the Discourse Card resource to start a conversation about something the student has read. You may talk about a text the child read in one of the lessons above, or anything else the child is reading.

Encourage daily reading. And remember, reading isn't just about the books on the shelves—it's about anything around you with letters! Turn on the closed captioning feature on your TV or read catalogs that come in the mail. The backs of cereal boxes work, too, as do directions to board games!

Running out of stuff to read? Grab some sticky notes, and label household objects, or make up new, silly names for things! Communicating with sticky notes, instead of talking, is fun, too—start with a half hour and see if you can go all afternoon. Reading is everywhere!

Don't worry about right/wrong answers when you talk about text—the important thing is that you and your student share a reading experience and have fun!

Word Learning Routine

Use the following steps to figure out unfamiliar words. If you figure out what the word means, continue reading. If not, then try the next step.

1. Say the Word or Phrase Aloud.

Circle the word or phrase that you find confusing. Read the sentence aloud.

2. Look Inside the Word or Phrase.

Look for familiar word parts, such as prefixes, suffixes, and root words. Try breaking the word into smaller parts. Can you figure out a meaning from the word parts you know?

3. Look Around the Word or Phrase.

Look for clues in the words or sentences around the word you don't know and the context of the paragraph or selection.

4. Look Beyond the Word or Phrase.

Look for the meaning of the word or phrase in a dictionary, glossary, or thesaurus.

5. Check the Meaning.

Ask yourself, "Does this meaning make sense in the sentence?"

Lesson 21

Homographs

Introduction Homographs are words that have the same spelling but different meanings. Sometimes homographs have different pronunciations from one another.

• The word wind is a homograph.

A brisk wind blew, so I buttoned my coat.

Then I began to wind my way down the hill to the village.

 You can use a dictionary to check the meaning and pronunciation of homographs. Each homograph is a separate entry in the dictionary.

Each homograph has a raised number after the entry word.

wind (wind) n. 1. moving air 2. breath, or breathing wind<sup>2</sup> (wind) v. 1. to go along a twisty path 2. to wrap something around another object

The homograph's pronunciation is in parentheses after the entry word.

• To find the right meaning of a homograph, read the definitions for each entry. Then see which meaning makes sense in the sentence you are reading.

Guided Practice

Read the passage. Find each underlined homograph in a dictionary. With a partner, figure out how to pronounce it. Then write a short definition above each word.

HINT Homographs are spelled the same but are not necessarily pronounced the same.

The village was a perfect place to loaf for a few hours. I bought a fresh loaf of bread at a bakery near the beach. A dove was eating crumbs on the sidewalk. Across the street, a sea gull dove for food as I watched. Then I bought a present for my mom at a store. I planned to present it to her tonight at dinner. An old wound in my leg began to ache. So, I wound my way slowly along the streets.

Independent Practice

Lesson 8 Finding the Theme of a Poem

Studying how a poet reflects upon a topic and the details she includes will help you identify the theme of a poem.

Poems can express feelings and ideas on many topics. The speaker in a poem reflects on a topic by saying what he or she thinks and feels about it. You can use these reflections and other details in a poem to figure out that poem's message, or theme.

Identify the theme of this comic strip by studying what the characters say and do. Also think about how the comic strip ends.

Think What have you learned so far about using details to identify a theme? Complete the chart below, filling it out with details from the comic strip.

What Do the Characters Say?	What Do the Characters Do?	How Does the Comic Strip End?	What Is the Theme?
			Night can ease the worries of the day.

- ► Talk Share your chart with a partner.

Darkness in the Desert

For desert animals, the day
Is not a time for work or play.
There's little shade; the world is dry.
The clouds are absent from the sky.

5 Things sizzle in the searing heat,
The burning sands hurt creatures' feet—
And so when it turns light they creep
Beneath the ground to fall asleep.

But late in the day the sky grows dim.

- 10 The sun drops past the canyon rim.
  The stars peek through, and very soon
  The night replaces afternoon.
  - Inside their dens the creatures stir— They like the cooler temperature.
- By ones and twos, by fives and tens
  The animals creep from their dens.

On mountain, prairie, plain, and hill, The night is when the world is still. In deserts, though, the times reverse:

The dark is good, the light is worse.The daytime is the time to rest.For desert creatures, night is best.

The desert fox, the mouse, the hare, At night they scamper here and there. 25 Their claws scratch softly in the sand.

Their faint calls echo through the land.

From dusk to dawn, all through the night
They feed and play till morning light.

Close Reader Habits

NIGHT WALK

by Amy Saito

- 1 The sky above, the streets below,The stars reflecting off the snow—A lovely night for us to goOut for a walk, the puppy thinks.
- 5 The moon's a brilliant shade of gold, And though she's just a few months old, The puppy knows the night is cold— She leans into the wind and blinks.

What's that thing moving in the tree?

10 The puppy dashes up to see.

It's vanished! What a mystery!

She sits beneath the tree to bark.

Her master guides her through the night First turning left, then turning right 15 The dark is deep, there is no light She yanks her leash: is this the park?

The night's a lovely time to roam But now it's time for heading home. She's only little, after all,

20 Can't run all night when she's so small.

Someday she'll grow a little more
And when she's three, or maybe four
She'll run all night, and she'll be tough—
Tonight, though, she's gone far enough.

25 Her master strokes her furry head,And yawning, she goes off to bed.But as she sleeps, the moonlight beamsWill dart and dance inside her dreams.

Lesson 2

Prepositions and Prepositional Phrases

- Introduction A preposition is a word that shows how other words in a sentence are related. Words such as about, by, in, of, on, to, and under are prepositions.
  - A prepositional phrase begins with a preposition and ends with a noun or a pronoun. The noun or pronoun is called the object of the preposition.

 A preposition tells about the relationship between the object of the preposition and another word in the sentence. Look at these sentences.

Emperor penguins swim under the ice when they hunt.

I recently saw a movie about these amazing penguins.

- In the first sentence, the preposition under tells about the relationship between ice and the verb swim. In the second sentence, the preposition about tells about the relationship between penguins and the noun movie.
- A prepositional phrase sometimes tells how, when, where, or what kind. In the sentences you just read, the prepositional phrase under the ice tells where the penguins swim. The prepositional phrase about these amazing penguins tells what kind of movie it was.

Guided Practice

HINT Most prepositional phrases come after the noun or verb they describe.

Example:
I read a book about
Emperor penguins.

Underline the prepositional phrase in each sentence and circle the preposition. Then draw an arrow from the object of the preposition to the word it relates to.

- Emperor penguins breed in the winter.
- 2 Female Emperor penguins lay eggs on the ice.
- 3 Males watch the eggs while the females travel to the sea.
- The warmth of the males' feathers protects the eggs.
- The females return and provide food for the little chicks.

Independent Practice

For numbers 1–3, choose the prepositional phrase in each sentence.

- 1 Emperor penguins can be found on only one continent.
  - A found on only one continent
  - B can be found
  - C only one continent
  - D on only one continent
- 2 Antarctica's winter begins in late March.
  - A winter begins
  - B begins in
  - C in late March
  - D begins in late March
- There are 17 types of penguins, and the Emperor penguin is the largest.
  - A of penguins
  - B and the Emperor penguin
  - C is the largest
  - D are 17 types of

For numbers 4 and 5, answer the question.

4 Read this sentence.

Most animals move to a warmer place each winter, but Emperor penguins do not.

What is the purpose of the underlined preposition?

- A to describe when animals move
- B to connect warmer with animals
- C to connect two phrases about winter
- D to show a relationship between move and place
- 5 Read this sentence.

The feathers of the penguin keep out cold air and water.

What is the purpose of the underlined preposition?

- A to connect feathers with cold
- B to show a relationship between feathers and penguin
- C to tell what a penguin's feathers do
- D to show a relationship between penguin and cold

by Justin Nuñez

I sleep with the lights on—two lights in my room, And a much brighter light in the hall.

5 I'm frightened of monsters that might come and get me, Whenever I climb into bed.

My mother says, "Anna, you're just being silly, The monsters are all in your head!"

But I don't think that's true, because of what happened

10 Last night, the first day of the week.

I put on my nightgown, got under the covers— Rolled over, and heard a strange squeak.

It wasn't a mouse, and it wasn't a rabbit, It wasn't a dog or a cat.

15 So I screamed out in terror. My mother came running! "Whatever," she asked me, "was that?"

"I heard a strange noise!" I explained to my mother, I was almost too frightened to talk.

I knew it was monsters, some big hungry monsters,

20 It was all I could do not to squawk!

"I don't like the darkness," I said to my mother, "I don't like the dark and the night.

Can't I get up and sit with you out on the couch, In a room that's all cheery and bright?"

Think Use what you learned from reading the poem to answer the following questions.

1 This question has two parts. First, answer Part A. Then answer Part B.

Part A

Read the line from the first stanza of the poem.

The monsters are all in your head!

Which phrase best states the meaning of all in your head?

- A easy to see
- B ready to attack you
- C only imagined
- D giving you a headache

Part B

Which detail in the first stanza best helps the reader understand the meaning of all in your head?

- A "I'm scared of the darkness, . . ."
- B "I sleep with the lights on, . . ."
- C "Whenever I climb into bed."
- D "'Anna, you're just being silly, ..."
- Which statement best summarizes the speaker's message about fears?
  - A For most people, nighttime is scary because it is dark and quiet and nobody is awake.
  - B Many people are much too fearful, and some are even afraid of their own surroundings.
  - C It can be hard to stop being afraid, even when someone proves that what you fear is not real.
  - D It is easy to get over a fear once someone shows you that your fear is based on something that is not real.

This question has two parts. First, answer Part A. Then answer Part B.

Part A

How are the events in stanzas two and three important to the poem's theme?

- A These events show Anna doesn't like the dark of night because that is when she sees the monsters.
- B These events show Anna remembers it was last night that she heard a squeak.
- C These events show Anna's mother comes running in fear when Anna screams.
- D These events show Anna believes that monsters make the noises that scare her in the dark.

Part B

Select one choice from each stanza that best supports the answer to Part A.

- A "... because of what happened...." (stanza two)
- B "... I screamed out in terror." (stanza two)
- C "... 'Whatever,' she asked me, 'was that?'" (stanza two)
- D "I knew it was monsters, . . ." (stanza three)
- E "It was all I could do...." (stanza three)
- F "...a room that's all cheery and bright?" (stanza three)
- 4 Which line from the poem best summarizes a theme of the poem?
  - A "The monsters are all in your head!" (line 8)
  - B "Rolled over, and heard a strange squeak." (line 12)
  - C "So I screamed out in terror. My mother came running!" (line 15)
  - D "'I don't like the darkness,' I said to my mother," (line 21)

SUMMER NIGHT

by Bianca Cappeletta

- 1 The city is full of streetlights, stoplights, floodlights making it hard to see the stars
  - But Ben and Louie are out this summer night at ten PM in front of their apartment building, peering up at the sky anyway.
- 5 Ben asks if that's the constellation Orion hovering over there just above that billboard
  - Louie shrugs because he doesn't know for sure
  - He asks how many light-years to the edge of the universe and what's beyond the edge when you get there
- 10 if you could get there (which you probably can't, but if you could) Ben says he doesn't know for sure either
  - It's a vast place, the universe, but what's beyond it must be vaster still And they know they should go inside and get ready for bed but it's too wonderful out here below the faint glow of the stars and they just can't

This is a rough draft of an essay. It has some mistakes. Read the essay. Then answer the questions that follow.

Climbing Mount Whitney

California's Mount Whitney is the highest mountain in the United States, outside of Alaska. Mount Whitney is 14,496 feet high. That's high, but not so high that it can't be climbed by a fit hiker. I read all about it in a library book, Climbing Mount Whitney. Last summer I reached the summit of Mount Whitney. Yes you can also do it, but you'll need some preparation.

First of all, get in shape. The best training is climbing lower mountains or hills. Cycling, running, and walking up stairs are also good practice. Occasionally do some activity like biking or inline skating for a really long time. Try skating for 30 or 40 miles, or take a bike ride of four to five hours. Then try it with a backpack!

Lack of oxygen at high elevations makes it harder to breathe. Get used to this by spending some time at high elevations just before you climb. If you do this, you avoided the headaches and cramps that can trouble climbers at high elevations.

Now that you're in shape and used to the height, rest. The day before your climb, take it easy. The night before your climb, eat a dinner of spagheti, rice, or noodles. Finally, climbing day is here! You're rested and ready. Eat a light breakfast. Then put on your sneakers, get your water and snacks, and head for the trail. Take it slow and steady. ### Lesson 15

Using Context Clues

You can use context clues to figure out the meaning of an unfamiliar word. The chart below gives examples of different types of context clues.

Type of Clue	Example
Definition	Superfoods, or natural foods that may prevent disease, have become popular.
Cause/Effect	Some superfoods, such as blueberries and red beans, contain antioxidant These can help remove harmful substances from the human body.
Comparison	Some experts look dubiously on claims about superfoods, but other experts believe strongly that these foods can improve health.

Context clues can also help you figure out words with more than one meaning. For example, the table below has two sentences with the word source. What does source mean in each sentence? You can use the underlined context clues to figure out which meaning of source is being used.

Sentence	Context Clues	Definition
Choosing high-sugar drinks can be a source of health problems .	A problem has a cause. Therefore, the source of a problem is its cause.	the cause of something
The website MyPlate.gov is a source for facts about food choices.	A website can have information such as facts. Therefore, a source is something that gives information.	something that gives information

The sentences before and after the sentence with an unfamiliar word can also hold context clues.

Guided Practice

Determine the meanings of fleeting, empirical, and panacea. Then underline the words or phrases that helped you determine their meaning.

HINT The phrases as a result of, because of, and thanks to all signal cause-and-effect relationships. Words such as but, too, also, and as well as all indicate comparisons.

Some fads are fleeting, but more than a few people feel that superfoods are here to stay. The idea of superfoods isn't new, but the amount of empirical information we have about them is. Scientific observations and tests offer some evidence that certain foods can help people stay healthy. Nobody claims that these foods are a panacea—nothing can guarantee perfect health or cure every disease—but they can be part of a sensible diet.

Independent Practice

For numbers 1 and 2, read the paragraph. Then answer the questions.

For centuries, people in coastal areas of China and Japan have harvested a superfood found in marine environments. Recent studies show that eating seaweed protects against infection. It also might reduce the risk of serious diseases and extend peoples' life spans. If true, these would be important benefits.

- What does the word marine mean in this paragraph?
  - A very nutritious
  - B dark blue in color
  - C having to do with the ocean
  - D member of the armed forces

  - A "China" and "Japan"
  - B "coastal" and "seaweed"
  - C "centuries" and "people"
  - D "superfood" and "studies"

For numbers 3 and 4, read the paragraph. Then answer the questions.

Closer to home, you can find superfoods right in your garden or local store. Think "crisp and crunchy." Cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower, and kale detoxify harmful substances. As a result, they may help to prevent some forms of cancer. These veggies also are low in calories and have lots of vitamins A, C, and K.

- What does the word detoxify mean in this paragraph?
  - A to move in a wide circle
  - B to chew food slowly

Here Pyggy Pyggy

by Gail Hutter

- The first time you heard about or saw a piggy bank, you might have wondered: Why a pig? Why not some other animal? Wouldn't a bear or a wolf be a more appropriate guard of a person's money? To understand how the pig became the animal of choice for a small, personal bank, we need to peer into the past—all the way back to England in the Middle Ages.
- During the Middle Ages, people in England used dishes, pots, and bowls made of clay. Clay was an ideal substance for such objects because it was cheaper than metal and easier to shape than wood. One type of orange-colored clay was particularly inexpensive and easy to mold into shapes. The name of this clay was "pygg."
- So pygg was used to make common household objects—but what's the connection between pygg and piggy banks? Hundreds of years ago, banks did not exist as they do today, but people still needed to keep their coins in a place from which they could be easily removed. So, they put them into pygg jars, which later became known as "pygg banks." In the 1800s, some inventive potters began making pygg banks in the form of a pig with a slot in the back. Not only were these "piggy banks" more pleasing to look at than regular jars, potters could charge more money for them. Thus the piggy bank was born.
- For centuries, most piggy banks were made of clay and could be opened only by shattering them. Today's piggy banks are made from clay, metal, glass, or plastic, and most contemporary piggy banks have a hole in the bottom for taking out money easily. Most people agree that the hole in the bottom was a good addition to the piggy bank. Otherwise, every time you retrieved your money, you'd have to spend some of it on a new piggy bank.

From Furs to Five-Dollar Bills

by Jason Liu

- Imagine paying for new sneakers with a handful of shells. In ancient times, people around the world paid for goods with commodity money. A commodity is a product or raw material offered as payment for another thing. Cows, sheep, or other kinds of animals were bartered for what a person wanted. Furs, beads, grain, giant stones, or salt were also exchanged.
  - Gradually, ancient peoples stopped using cattle and crops as money. Around 1000 B.C.E., the Chinese began to exchange metal tools for what they needed. They also used copper and bronze coins. By 700 B.C.E., the first silver and gold coins were produced in Lydia (what is now Turkey). These coins were stamped with images of different gods or important rulers.
  - Paper money developed in China around 800 c.e. Paper was light and easy to carry. But the Chinese printed too much paper money, and it lost its value. In 1455, the Chinese stopped using paper money for several hundred years. Meanwhile, Europeans only began using paper money in the 1600s.
  - After the American Revolution, the Continental Congress established a national currency based on the dollar in 1785. The first American coins were minted in 1793. These copper cents were produced by hand. Nearly seventy years later, the U.S. government began to issue paper money for the first time in 1861. Since then, the appearance of American coins and bills has changed. For example, today's paper money in the United States has a new design every seven to ten years.

This is one of the earliest American silver dollars ever minted.

In China, knife money was used from 600 to 200 B.C.E.

What he Creat of the Ireat of the Peression of the Peress

When World War I officially ended in 1919, Americans were tired of the war and ready for good times. In the early 1920s, there were plenty of jobs in the United States. People earned good incomes. Businesses grew quickly. During the Roaring Twenties, American consumers enjoyed spending money. Those who could not afford the most expensive items borrowed money so they could "buy now, pay later." They bought new homes. They purchased cars, washing machines, and other large items. They also bought smaller goods, such as toasters and irons. To meet the demand, factories rushed to make even more products. But companies made too many goods, and people stopped buying them. By the end of the 1920s, warehouses were filled up with merchandise that no one bought. Factory production slowed down. Many factory workers lost their jobs.

- At the same time, many Americans decided to invest money in the stock market. They hoped to get rich quickly. The stock market is a place where shares of stock in different companies are bought and sold. People hope to make a high return by buying stock at a low price and selling it at a higher price. From June through September 1929, the prices of stocks soared. Then prices began to dip slightly. Nervous investors began selling millions of stock shares for less than the purchase price, losing billions of dollars. On October 31, 1929, the stock market crashed when stock prices dropped sharply. The crash caused panic. People took their money out of banks, and banks were forced to close. More than 600 banks failed in 1929.
  - The stock market crash led to a financial crisis called the Great Depression. A depression is a serious slowdown in the economy that causes people to lose their jobs and businesses to fail. At the start of the Great Depression, about 1.5 million Americans were out of work. By 1933, about 13 million Americans had lost their jobs. To earn money, jobless people sold apples, pencils, and other items on the streets. They shined shoes or washed and mended clothing for others. They sold their personal belongings. Some were forced to beg for money.

Without an income, thousands of jobless Americans lost their homes because they did not have the money to pay rent. If they had borrowed money to buy a house, they could not pay their loans, so the bank took their homes. People were forced to live with friends or family members. If necessary, they stayed in churches or rooming houses. Sometimes, the homeless built shacks from old crates and scrap metal. These temporary homes lacked electricity or running water.

During the Great Depression, many Americans lost not just their jobs but also their homes. For shelter, these men and women built shacks on the outskirts of cities.

- 5 About two million homeless men, women, and children drifted around the country. They broke the law by hitching free rides on trains. They rode from place to place looking for work, food, and shelter. Millions stood in lines for free bread or soup that charity groups provided. In 1931, charity groups in New York City served about 85,000 free meals every day.
- Under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, America's economy slowly 6 improved. Roosevelt's plan to fix the nation's money problems was called the New Deal. To improve the situation, the government passed laws that changed banking systems, provided the needy with aid, and created new jobs. In 1933, about 25 percent of Americans were jobless. By 1937, the unemployment rate had fallen to about 14 percent. Unfortunately, nearly 8 million Americans still did not have jobs.
- The Great Depression lasted for more than ten years. In 1941, the United 7 States entered World War II. Factories started making war supplies, such as airplanes, tanks, and ships. As the need for war supplies increased, businesses hired more and more people. America's hard times finally came to an end.

Writing and Research

This is a rough draft of a story. It has some mistakes. Read the story. Then answer the questions that follow.

Can They Do It?

Sunday, March 25. Everyone at Westfield Elementary School approached the date with fear and dread. The servers in the cafetearia prepared meals with worried looks and shaking hands. Teachers buzzed about it in the teachers' room. Students whispered about the approaching date in hallways. The date was so terrifying that some Westfield students break into tears at the mention of it. Others simply sat at their desks, stunned. Sunday, March 25, was the first day of Turn-Off-the-Television-and-Keep-It-Off-for-the-Whole-Week Week.

Mr. Humphrey Blodgett had graduated from Westfield Elementary School before television was even invented. He promised to take the entire school to Wacky World Water Park. In order to win the trip everyone had to turn off his or her television set for a week. Would either Westfield students and Westfield teachers be up to the challenge?

"Does that include basketball games?" Mrs. Travis asked. Mrs. Travis was a huge sports fan.

"What about educational television Mr. Blodgett?" Ms. Morgan, the school librarian, wondered. Mr. Kramer thought he should be able to watch his favorite show "for health reasons."

"No, there will be no television of any kind," Mr. Blodgett answered. "Read a book, take a walk; or play a game." Then, looking right at Mr. Kramer, he added, "Learn to knit. It's very good for the nerves."

"Boy, how tough will this be?" Mr. Kramer complained after Mr. Blodgett had left. But it turned out that it wasn't as difficult as everyone had thought. By the end of the week, the school was buzzing with excitement over having won a wonderful trip.

Use Context to Find Word Meaning

Using context to determine a word's intended meaning is an essential reading strategy. Although students are often told to "use the context" to figure out the meaning of an unfamiliar word, they may need more specific guidance. To help students use context effectively, introduce specific types of context clues that they can look for in sentences and paragraphs.

Three Ways to Teach

Identify Sentence-Based Context Clues 20-30 minutes

Connect to Writing Explicitly teach students about the different types of context clues that can be used to determine meanings for unknown words. Then have students develop their own sentences with clues that help classmates guess above-level missing words.

- Display the following chart. Name the first type of clue, and read aloud the example sentence. Help students figure out a meaning for the italicized word and identify the (highlighted) context clues in the sentence, which give a definition for the word. Then guide students to tell how they can recognize definition clues in other sentences. Record a simple explanation in the "What It Does" column.
- Repeat the process to introduce the remaining types of clues. Each time, note signal words that emphasize the clue, including is, or, and other, and but.

Type of Clue	Example Sentence	What It Does
Definition	An asteroid is a rocky body that orbits the Sun.	Tells the meaning of the unfamiliar word explicitly
Appositive	An animal that is a carnivore , or meat eater, may hunt for its food.	Tells the meaning of the unfamiliar word beside it, marked off by commas or dashes
Examples	The streets were filled with buses, taxis, and other vehicles .	Describes the unfamiliar word by naming types of it
Contrast	Lush, green forests receive steady rains, but deserts are bare and arid .	Tells the meaning of an unfamiliar word by describing its opposite

- For independent practice, give each student two words likely to have known meanings, such as skyscraper, meal, author, and study.
- Tell students to write a sentence with their word, leaving a blank in its place. Challenge them to write a sentence with such strong context that listeners will easily guess the word.
- As students read aloud their sentences (saying "blank" for the word), talk about the context clues that helped listeners figure out the missing word. Repeat the activity, challenging students to write a sentence that uses a different type of context clue for their second word.

Identify Paragraph or Text-Based Context Clues 10-15 minutes

Explain that sometimes readers have to read the sentences before and after an unfamiliar word to determine its meaning. Choose a passage with a challenging, above-level word that is not defined in the same sentence but can be understood by rereading the paragraph. Display the paragraph with the word underlined, and model asking and answering questions such as these to determine the word's meaning:

- What is this paragraph about?
- Do the sentences around the unfamiliar word describe it in a different way, by giving a synonym or example or by showing a contrast?
- Can I make an educated guess about what the word could mean?
- If I replace the word with what I think it might mean, does the sentence make sense with the topic or purpose of the paragraph?

For independent practice, have partners choose another paragraph that includes one or two unfamiliar words. Have them use the questions above to search for context clues that will help them figure out the meaning of the unfamiliar words.

Use Multiple-Meaning Words to Highlight Context

- Explain to students that context clues can help readers clarify the intended meaning of a multiple-meaning word. Say, Although looking up a word in a dictionary can be helpful, it can sometimes be hard to know which meaning was used in the text when a word has several definitions.
- Display a list of multiple-meaning words. Then provide sentences using varied meanings for the words.

fan	The fan cheered for her team.	There was only a fan to keep us cool.
fry	The fry swim downstream right after hatching.	My dad will fry potatoes for dinner.
lap	I held the plate in my lap .	We ran one lap around the track.
strike	Watch the hammer strike the nail.	That pitch looks like a strike .

 Discuss how the context clues in each sentence clarify the intended meaning of the word. Provide independent practice by suggesting other multiple-meaning words and asking students to give oral sentences that make each of the word meanings clear. Then ask students to choose one word and draw each of its meanings.

Check for Understanding

If you observe	Then try difficulty using context to define an unfamiliar word	confirming that students have sufficient background knowledge to understand the context. Ask students to briefly summarize the paragraph in their own words. Correct any misunderstandings, and proceed to model using the context to define the unfamiliar word.
errors in determining word meanings based on context	substituting students' definitions for the unfamiliar word, and verifying whether the inserted meaning makes sense.
