

Inventory of Early Development 4

Product Pricing

The BRIGANCE Inventory of Early Development (IED) 4 criterion-referenced assessment assists early childhood and special education professionals in identifying strengths and needs by assessing school readiness, planning early intervention, and writing instructional objectives.

Designed for children functioning up to developmental age 8, this newly updated Inventory offers a comprehensive picture of skills mastery. The new ©2026 edition provides expanded domain coverage, including Physical Development, Language Development, Cognitive Development, Adaptive Development, Social and Emotional Development, and Academic Skills (e.g., Literacy, Math, Science).
