

Ready Writing prepares students for mastery of today's rigorous standards as they become confident, competent writers and thinkers. Ready Writing's program resources are flexible enough to be integrated into any literacy curriculum and offer comprehensive teacher support that makes it powerfully simple to implement.

Program Components

Ready Writing includes both student and teacher resources available for Grades 2–5. Districts/schools may purchase individual grade levels based on their needs. Specific program components consist of the following:

- Student Instruction Books:
 - Interactive activities
 - Mid-lesson assessment exercises
 - Language Handbook
- Teacher Resource Books:
 - Lesson Pacing Guide
 - Tools to monitor students' writing progress
 - Reproducible resources to help students plan their writing and teachers evaluate progress
 - Best Practice Implementation Guide
- i-Ready Learning Teacher Toolbox* includes digital access to:
 - Student Instruction Book
 - Teacher Resource Book
 - Ready Reading (Grades K–8)
 - Magnetic Reading™ (Grades 3–5)

Ready Writing:

- Uses a research-based, scaffolded instructional model to teach writing step by step
- Includes diverse, high-quality source materials including authentic text to build strong reading–writing connections and model types of writing students will do
- Interweaves all writing standards with grade-level science and social studies themes
- Offers a systematic eight-step lesson sequence to guide students through short research projects within the framework of the writing process
- Supports teachers with point-of-use professional learning that includes how to differentiate instruction and target individual learning needs

i-Ready Learning* Teacher Toolbox is available as a separate purchase.