Congratulations! You may be about to purchase the Nick Scali piece of your dreams or you already have!

Before your 48 hour cooling off period is over, it's important you have checked we can deliver to you. These handy hints will help you to ensure that your sofa will fit your living space and most importantly, through the door!

Common fit issues

Know your furniture & packaging dimensions

Make note of the dimensions of your piece or sofa (they can be found on the product online).

If you are choosing a modular sofa, note the overall dimensions of the pieces assembled.

Please ensure all the packages can pass through:

- doorways and hallways
- stairwells and elevators
- tight corners and turns inside the home
- entry gates and pathways

Important: Some 3-seater and even 4-seater lounges are delivered in a single piece. This means you must confirm the lounge can be manoeuvred around corners and into the room, not just through the front door. Taking a few minutes to measure your access areas helps avoid delivery delays or additional charges.

Depth D.....	Depth D.....	Depth D.....
Height H.....	Height H.....	Height H.....

Helpful tip: Use masking tape or newspaper to lay out the size of your sofa so you can see if it will fit in the space you want it to. If you are happy with the amount of floorspace the sofa takes up, consider also the height of the sofa. Will the height of the back cushions and arms sit well with your other furniture?

Doorways & corners

Measure the inner width, height, and diagonal of your front door and every doorway along the delivery path with doors fully open to ensure the piece can navigate safely to its final destination before you place your order. Allowing a few centimetres extra to cater for packaging either side.

If the width is too narrow, then your piece or sofa may need to be carried through upright. So make sure the height of your doorway is greater than your sofa width.
