

What is your legacy platform really costing you?

Slow releases, surprise fees, and endless workarounds

— that's the hidden tax of legacy DXPs like Acquia.

Here's what it's really costing you.

What is "The Acquia Tax"?

It's when legacy platforms cost more than they deliver:

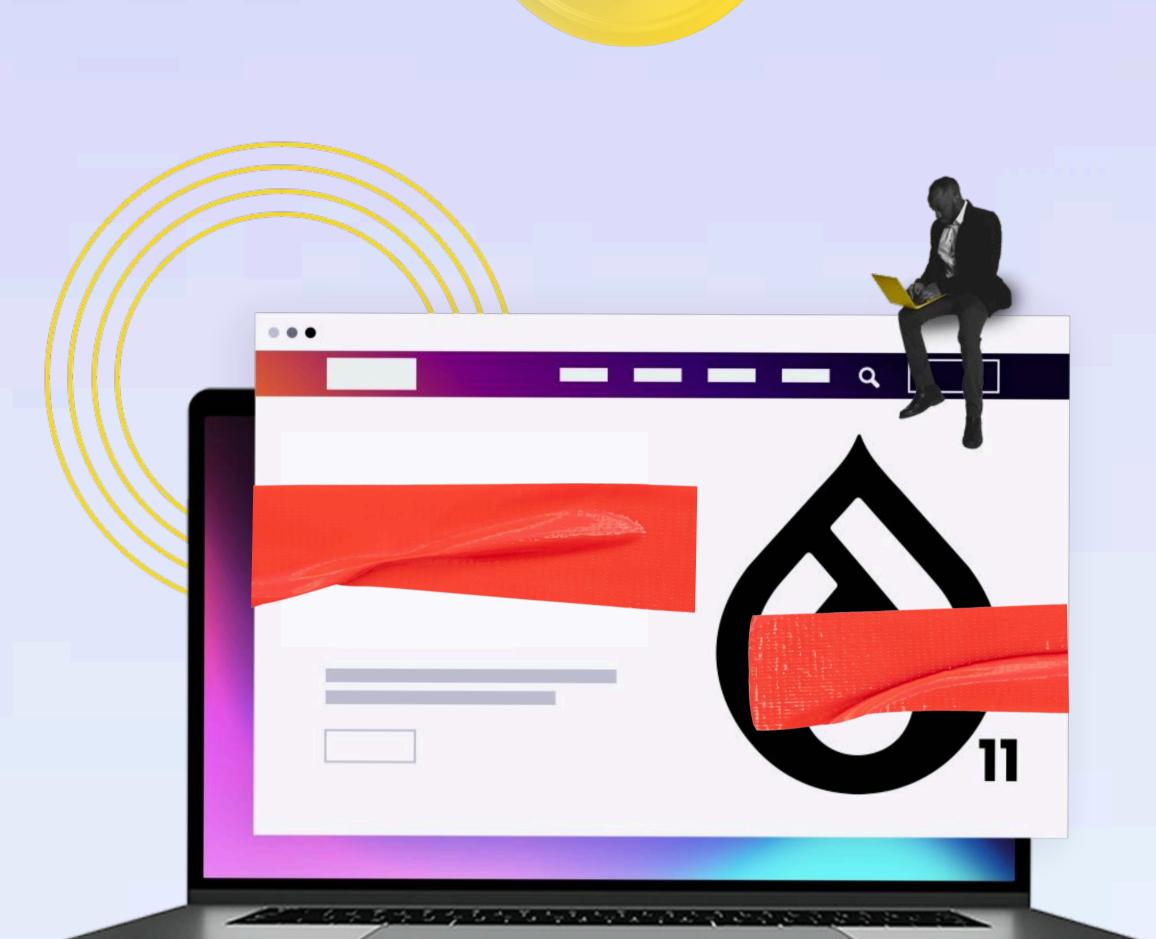

Paying premium tiers for basic functionality

Time lost to dealing with slow, offshore support

Extra charges for dev environments and storage

What the Acquia Tax steals from your team

While you're stuck covering hidden costs, your competitors are getting ahead with:

20% lower hosting costs

30% faster site performance

Microsites launched in hours, not weeks

And the longer you stay on Acquia, the more it adds up:

More hours lost chasing support and fixes

More spend to patch issues

More launches delayed and opportunities missed

Stop paying the Acquia tax

Modern WebOps changes the game:

Save time:

Launch sites in days, not months.

Save money:

Predictable pricing, no hidden fees.

Move faster:

Scale teams and sites without friction.

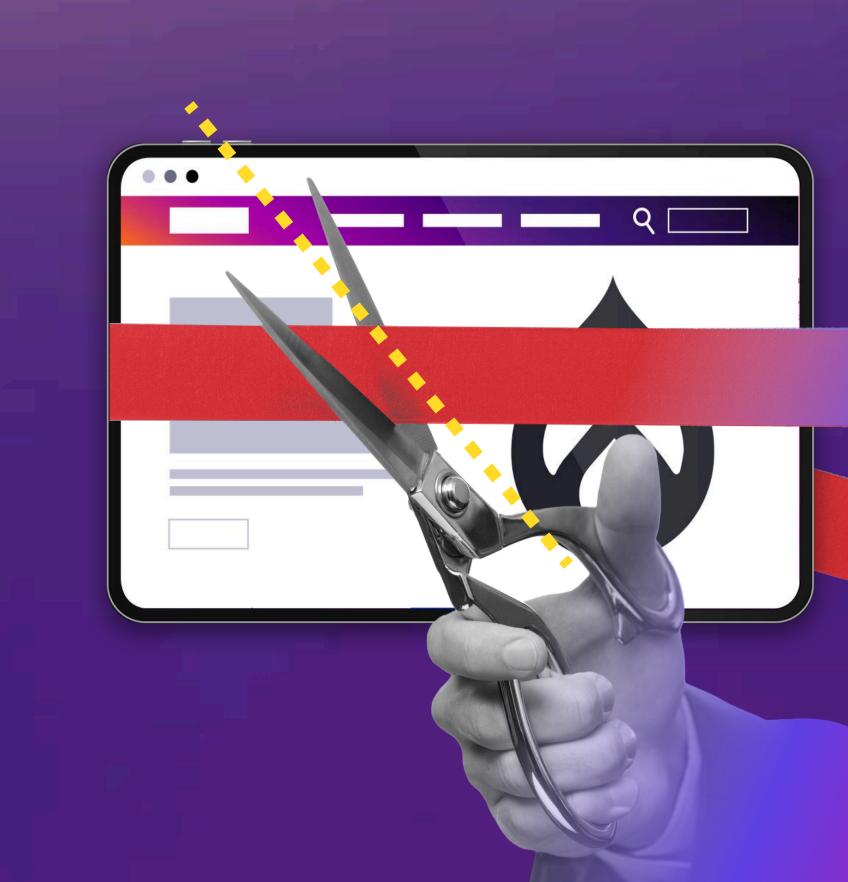

Stay supported:

Real experts, real-time help for every plan.
