What is a variable annuity?

A variable annuity (VA) is a long-term investment designed to offer potential growth and retirement income. A VA may help you:

- Grow your money faster with the power of tax deferral.
- Manage your investment strategy with a range of investment fund options.
- Convert your savings into retirement income, including income for life.
- Leave a legacy with a death benefit.

This material must be preceded or accompanied by a product prospectus for the Accelerator Prime® Variable Annuity. You should carefully consider a variable annuity's risks, charges, and limitations and the investment goals of underlying investment options prior to making any investment decisions. This and other information is available in the product prospectus, as well as the underlying investment fund options prospectuses. These prospectuses are available from your financial professional or www.delawarelife.com. Read them carefully before investing.

Variable annuities are subject to investment risks, including the possible loss of principal. Variable annuities are long-term investments designed for retirement purposes. Variable annuities have limitations, exclusions, charges, termination provisions, and terms for keeping them in force. The contract value is subject to market fluctuations and investment risk so that, when withdrawn, it may be worth more or less than its original value, even when an optional living benefit is elected.

* The rider Election Date is the date that the guaranteed living benefit provided by the Flex Income BoostSM GLWB and Flex Income ControlSM GLWB is elected and activated. The Election Date cannot be prior to the end of the Election Lockout Period.

² The bonus period is a 10-year period before the income start date, measured from the contract anniversary following the rider Election Date. If the income start date is during the bonus period, the new withdrawal benefit base will be the higher of the current contract value or the current withdrawal benefit base—which includes a proportionate bonus amount to reflect the number of days elapsed since the last contract anniversary.

³ On each contract anniversary, if the contract value is higher than your withdrawal benefit base then your withdrawal benefit base will automatically increase to the contract value.

⁵ Single or joint life can be elected on your income start date, when you start taking lifetime withdrawals.

Guarantees, including optional riders, are subject to the claims-paying ability and financial strength of the issuing insurance company, and do not protect the value of underlying investment fund options within a variable annuity, which are subject to risk.

Under current law, a nonqualified annuity that is owned by an individual is generally entitled to tax deferral. IRAs and qualified plans—such as 401(k)s and 403(b)s—are already tax-deferred. Therefore, a deferred annuity should be used only to fund an IRA or qualified plan to benefit from the annuity's features other than tax deferral. These include lifetime income, death benefit options, and the ability to transfer among investment options without sales or withdrawal charges.

Delaware Life does not provide tax or legal advice. Any tax discussion is for general informational purposes only. Clients should refer to their tax advisor for advice about their specific situation.

Withdrawals of taxable amounts are subject to ordinary income tax and, if made before age 59½, may be subject to a 10% federal income tax penalty. Distributions of taxable amounts from a nonqualified annuity may also be subject to an additional 3.8% federal tax on net investment income. Withdrawals, including required minimum distributions (RMDs), will reduce the contract value and may reduce the living and death benefits and any optional riders. Withdrawals may be subject to withdrawal charges.
