INTERTRIBAL AGRICULTURE COUNCIL

2025 REGIONAL SUMMITS

Annually, the Intertribal Agriculture Council's (IAC) Technical Assistance Network hosts regional summits to provide accessible resources aimed at Tribes and producers pursuing and promoting the conservation, development and use of agricultural resources in Indian Country. Informed by Tribes and producers advancing Indian Country's food systems, IAC regional summits are open to those who want to learn more about agricultural trends, financial resources, natural resources, youth programs, access to USDA programs, among other topics, and how these impact opportunities in Tribal agriculture.

Sponsorships support IAC regional summits by offsetting event costs like venue rentals, registration fees, meals or beverages, hotel or travel costs, and more. We could not do this important work without sponsors like you!

The Intertribal Agriculture Council is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization established by a convening of federally recognized Tribes in 1987 to pursue and promote the conservation, development, and use of land-based agricultural resources vital to the economic and social well-being of Native American Indian and Alaskan Native peoples. Since its founding, the IAC has been guided by its member Tribes, working to advance agricultural priorities on more than 56 million acres of land under Tribal jurisdiction in the United States. IAC's programmatic offerings include on-the-ground technical assistance, natural resources management, domestic and international market expansion, small agribusiness development, finance solutions, youth programs, professional development and more.

With a deep understanding of the unique needs of the 574 federally recognized Tribes and their trust relationships with the federal government, IAC is committed to strengthening Tribal agriculture and cultivating prosperous economies across Indian Country. SPECIAL SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

There are special opportunities to sponsor a meal, coffee break between sessions, youth tracks in specific regions, or for an in-kind donation sponsorship, such as providing free venue space in return for sponsor recognition. To speak with someone about these special opportunities, please contact Amy Bethel at amy@indianag.org.

Your sponsorship directly supports Native producers. By helping cover travel costs to attend and engage in this event. Consider increasing your sponsorship in $500 increments to expand opportunities for participation. Every additional $500 goes toward a travel stipend, ensuring that more voices from Indian Country are heard and represented.

Increments of $500 provide direct travel support for one additional attendee. The more you give, the more regional participation we can support at the event.

Help us ensure greater access, engagement, and representation by increasing your sponsorship today!

Please note that we may not be able to accommodate all sponsorship requests due to a range of logistical and programmatic considerations. For more information on other exclusive IAC sponsorship opportunities, please contact Amy Bethel, Corporate Relations Officer, at amy@indianag.org
