INTERTRIBAL AGRICULTURE COUNCIL

2024 Annual Conference

For nearly four decades, the Intertribal Agriculture Council (IAC) has been at the forefront of redefining and rebuilding sovereign Tribal food systems. Since our founding in 1987, IAC has worked tirelessly to advocate for policies that support the unique needs of Tribal producers and address systemic inequities across their agriculture endeavors.

The 2024 IAC Annual Conference, a three-day flagship event, serves as a unique platform for Tribal leaders, farmers, ranchers, youth, and entrepreneurs to collaborate, explore new markets, and gain access to resources that drive economic growth and sustainability across Indian Country. At its core, this conference advances food systems deeply rooted in our cultural teachings and values of sustainable, regenerative agricultural practices.

Sponsorships are fundamental to the conference. Your generous contribution ensures that this crucial event remains inclusive and accessible to all participants by covering costs such as venue rentals, meals, registration fees, and travel expenses. With your support, we continue to transform food systems across Indian Country.

The Intertribal Agriculture Council is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, and we invite you to join us as a sponsor to make a lasting impact. For more information on IAC's programs and initiatives, visit indianag.org.
