

CUSTOMERS, VENDORS & WEBSITE VISITORS

Privacy Notice for California Residents

Overview

This privacy policy describes how The Dixie Group ("Dixie," "we," or "our") processes the personal information of our customers, vendors, and website visitors. Dixie consists of four brands in our Residential Division: Fabrica, Dixie Home, Masland, and TRUCOR.

This privacy policy applies solely to California residents ("you") who meet the definition of "Consumer" under the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 ("CCPA"), excluding employees. Any terms defined in the CCPA have the same meaning when used in this policy.

Personal Information

The CCPA defines "personal information" as "information that identifies, relates to, describes, is capable of being associated with, or could reasonably be linked, directly or indirectly, with a particular consumer or household." From this point forward in this policy, this information is referred to as personally identifiable information ("PII").

PII specifically detailed in the CCPA includes, but is not limited to, your "real name, alias, postal address, unique personal identifier, online identifier, Internet Protocol address, email address, account name, social security number, driver's license number, passport number, or other similar identifiers." Other sources have indicated that PII also includes signatures, physical characteristics and description, telephone number, insurance policy number, education, employment, employment history, bank account number, credit card number, and web history.

PII does not include publicly available information. Per the CCPA, "'publicly available' means information that is lawfully made available from federal, state, or local government records." You can direct us to use your sensitive information only for limited purposes, such as providing you with services you requested.

PII Sources

Dixie collects PII from you when you visit or enter your information on our websites, and when you provide us information as a prospective or actual customer or vendor. Customer and vendor PII may be provided to us by you on documents you complete on paper or online, or in direct discussions with our representatives. PII may also be obtained from third parties in connection with credit and background checks that you have given us permission to obtain.

PII Types

WEBSITES

When you visit a Dixie website, we capture your IP address along with your location and the date, time, and length of your visit. This information is used for internal marketing purposes and is stored only in our website server logs for 90 days.

Visitors to the Residential Division's websites have the ability to order samples. In doing so, you provide us with PII that may be retained until you request that it be removed.

CUSTOMER AND VENDOR ACTIVITIES

PII obtained in connection with customer and vendor activities includes information regarding:

- Customers — owners and customers' contacts;
- Certain employees of our customers, if they participate in our TDG Rewards program involving a third-party vendor;
- Potentially, end users of our products, related to:
 - contact information for sales and claims; and
 - consumer rebates via a third-party vendor to whom you directly provided your PII; and
- Vendors.

Cookies

"Cookies" are small pieces of information that a website sends to your device while you are viewing it. They are either session cookies, which expire once you close your browser, or persistent cookies, which stay on your device until you delete them or they expire. Cookies enable us to offer secure pages to you without asking you to sign in repeatedly. Most browsers allow you to control cookies, including blocking, accepting, and removing them. However, removing cookies may affect the functionality of a site or may require that you re-enter data each time you visit a site.

PII Usage

We will only use your PII when the law allows us to. Generally, we will use your PII, and may share it with other parties acting on our behalf, for one or more of the following purposes:

- To identify you when you visit our websites;
- To provide the products, information, and services you request or that we think you may be interested in;

- To fulfill or meet the reason for which the information is provided;
- To respond to your comments or requests for information and documentation;
- To improve and personalize your experience with us;
- For order processing, and to streamline your checkout and service process;
- To conduct analytics and solve problems;
- For internal administrative purposes, and to manage our relationship with you;
- To assess and respond to a complaint you might make or feedback you might give us;
- For market research purposes;
- To conduct investigations of suspicious or harmful activity;
- To create aggregate reports that do not identify you personally;
- To comply with applicable laws and regulations;
- For any other purposes about which we notify you; and
- For any other reasonable business purpose to which you consent.

PII Selling or Sharing

We do not and will not sell your PII. However, we may transfer PII as an asset in connection with a proposed or actual merger or sale (including any transfers made as part of an insolvency or bankruptcy proceeding) involving all or part of our business, or as part of a corporate reorganization, stock sale, or other change in control.

In processing customers' credit card payments or vendor payments, we may use a third party to handle the electronic payments. In these situations, we do not retain your account numbers, and the third parties are contractually prohibited from selling or sharing your information, while also being subject to CCPA requirements.

With the agreement of customers and customers' employees, we obtain PII from customers' employees and share it with the service provider that processes the TDG Rewards program, which provides direct benefits to customers' employees. This service provider is contractually prohibited from using, sharing, or selling your PII and must also disclose or delete your PII upon request under the CCPA.

We may also disclose PII under special circumstances, such as to comply with subpoenas, court orders, legal process, or other valid law enforcement measures; to comply with a legal obligation; at the request of governmental authorities conducting an investigation; to verify or enforce compliance with the policies governing the sites and applicable laws; to protect the legal rights, interests, or safety of the sites, our users, or others; or when your actions violate our terms. Such disclosures may be carried out without notice to you.

PII Rights under the CCPA

The CCPA provides you with specific rights regarding your PII. These rights are as follows:

- Opt Out of Sale. Section 1798.120 of the CCPA provides consumers with the right to opt out of the sale of their PII. Because we do not and will not sell your PII, Dixie does not offer an opt-out to the sale of PII.
- Correction. You have the right to correct inaccurate personal information.
- Disclosure. You have the right to request, no more than twice in a 12-month period, that we disclose certain information to you about our collection and use of your PII over the past 12 months. Once we receive and confirm your verifiable consumer request, we will disclose to you within 45 days:
 - The categories and specific pieces of PII we collected about you;
 - Our business purpose for collecting that PII;
 - The categories of third parties with whom we share PII; and
 - If we disclosed your PII for a business purpose, a list of those disclosures, identifying the PII categories that each category of recipient obtained.
- Deletion. You have the right to request that we delete any of your PII that we collected, subject to certain exceptions. Once we receive and confirm your verifiable consumer request, we will delete your PII from our records within 45 days, unless retaining the PII is necessary for us or our service providers to:
 - Complete the transaction for which we collected the PII, provide a good or service that you requested, take actions reasonably anticipated within the context of our ongoing business relationship with you, or otherwise perform our contract with you;
 - Detect security incidents, protect against malicious, deceptive, fraudulent, or illegal activity, or prosecute those responsible for such activities;
 - Debug products to identify and repair errors that impair existing intended functionality;
 - Enable solely internal uses that are reasonably aligned with consumer expectations based on your relationship with us;
 - Comply with a legal obligation; or
 - Make other internal and lawful uses of that information that are compatible with the context in which you provided it.

We will not deny you services, charge you a different price, or provide a different level or quality of products or services because you exercised your rights under the CCPA.

PII Protection

PII maintained shall be the minimum necessary and shall only be obtained where such collection is essential to meet the authorized business purpose. PII shall be stored on network drives and/or in application databases with proper access controls (e.g., user ID and password) and shall be made available only to those individuals with a valid business need to know.

PII Retention

We retain your PII in accordance with our records retention policy. Our retention schedule will vary based on the nature of the data and the purposes for which it was collected, as well as any applicable laws, rules, or regulations that require us to retain information for specific time periods. In addition, we may retain information to comply with other legal requirements or as otherwise described in this Privacy Policy. We regularly review our retention schedules for compliance purposes.
