PREMIER INDUSTRIAL VACUUM PUMP

The freeze dryer itself requires little to no maintenance. However, all freeze dryers come with a high quality industrial vacuum pump, which requires some maintenance, mainly adding and draining oil. There are approximately 3 cups of oil in a vacuum pump that need to be changed after about 20-30 batches to keep the freeze dryer running efficiently. This is a simple process, and requires little effort.

Each freeze dryer also includes a stand-alone oil filter. The filter cleans the oil and allows you to keep reusing your oil as if it were new. Using filtered oil in each batch is a great way to save money and be more eco-friendly, while also helping your vacuum pump perform as efficiently as possible.
