Peppered Smoked Sockeye Salmon

What really sets this item apart from all the others, besides its great flavor, is the way it's sliced on the bias to show off the natural deep-red color of wild sockeye. Pre-slicing at the smokehouse makes it very easy to serve in a full-side presentation, making any celebration special.

The full fillet looks fabulous on a platter and the true benefit of pre-slicing is readily apparent once guests begin serving themselves portions from the buffet; there's no mess or waste, and each serving is easily removed without disturbing the integrity or appearance of the remaining salmon.
